Justus F. Craemer, Civic Leader, Dies

Longtime State Aide, Publisher

Justus F. Craemer, chairman of the board of California Newspapers, Inc., since it bought the San Rafael Independent in 1937, died in his sleep early today at Ross Hospital. He was 79.

Craemer had been hospitalized for over two years, with a complication of ailments incident to age. But until his health failed, he was known affectionately to his many friends as "fire engine" for his unflagging energy and endless supply of ideas.

19 YEARS ON PUC

He served for 19 years on the California Public Utilities Commission, was a candidate in 1942 for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senate, served as assistant state director of public works, state building and loan commissioner, and as a member of the State Fair Board. He was also active throughout his long life in the Lutheran Church.

His greatest activity, though, was in the newspaper business, in which he became interested when he became half owner of the Orange News soon after completing his education at University of California.

He was born in Fort Dodge, Iowa, Oct. 18, 1886, son of a Lutheran minister, Rev. John Lorenz Craemer. His grandfather, Friedrich Auguest Craemer, came to the United States from Germany in 1845 as a missionary to the Indians of northern Michigan and later was president of Concordia Lutheran Seminary in Springfield, Ill.

His father died when Craemer was only 4 years old.

He was graduated from Fort Dodge High School and Tobin College in Fort Dodge.

FLIP OF COIN

The flip of a coin brought him to California. In 1907, he had the choice of attending either University of California or University of Pennsylvania. He tossed a coin, and California won.

Craemer came west with a close, boyhood friend, William O. Hart. The youths played basketball together their first year at the university, organizing their class squad. Play came to an end for Craemer one day when he broke a bone in his heel. The injury laid him up for several months and brought his college career to a close.

In the spring, Hart and Craemer went to Southern California where Craemer's grandmother owned an orange orchard in Orange County.

Teacher Resigns With Blast At His Bosses

A San Rafael High School teacher dramatically resigned last night, charging that the direction of district policy has been to "eliminate the controversial."

John C. Curtin, who comprised the school's one-man humanities department, made a plea for teaching of controversial issues, saying, "It makes no sense to give lip service to freedom of speech when a proviso is attached which says that nothing controversial may be discussed."

He was gaveled to a temporary halt midway in his talk by Board President Carl J. Brown and there was debate about whether he should be allowed to continue.

Curtin charged the administration of Supt. Bert C. Corona and Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat has been "characterized by ignorance, incompetence and indiscretion."

At that point, Brown stopped him and suggested that Curtin write a letter which the board would take up in a closed session.

"I don't believe we want to have the administration taken pot shots at," Brown said. "If you feel you haven't gotten a fair shake, write a letter."

Curtin replied that "pot shots have been taken at teachers without an opportunity to reply."

Attorney Bella H. Aaron, representing Marin County Local 1077, American Federation of Teachers, said that under law Curtin was entitled to speak to the board.

Russians Test Space Landing

MOSCO W(AP) — The Soviet Union announced today the "successful conclusion" of a five and one-half month test of a space-ship landing program in the Pacific Ocean.

Tass, the official news agency, had announced Dec. 14 that the Russians would test "a variant of a system of landing space vehicles."

There was no elaboration on the tests.

It was not clear whether the tests were designed for eventual landings on the earth, the moon or planets.

Bar Owner Describes Fatal Shot

By JOHN F. KEARNEY and ROBERT STREBEIGH

Leo Albertoni described in Marin Superior Court today the fatal moment Mario Ferrari decided to flee during a holdup in the Mission Inn, San Rafael, last Labor Day.

"Everything happened at once," said Albertoni.

Albertoni, co-owner of the inn, was held prisoner in the rear of the building by two hooded gunmen for two and one-half hours before the slaying of Ferrari.

Accused of the murder of the bartender are Jack R. Gorman, 36, and Marc C. Osuna, 30, who were identified yesterday afternoon by Albertoni as the "dark-complected" man and his "blondish" partner who killed Ferrari.

Albertoni said Ferrari was asked to take out his wallet and put it on a table. The bartender took out two wallets, then turned away from the gunmen.

Ferrari was quoted by Albertoni as saying: "To heck with you. You can't do this to me.

Hub Debate Narrows To Flautt's Job

Council Drops Idea Of Changing Law; Closed Talk Set

By STEPHEN COOK

San Anselmo City Council backed off last night on changing from a city administration form of government to solve the Hub City's problems.

Instead, Councilman Robert M. Scott immediately called for a closed meeting at 7 p.m. June 14 "to discuss criticisms of a city employee." An informed source acknowledged that the employee is City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt.

ADMINISTRATOR FORM

Vice Mayor Arthur W. Smith, who said at the May 10 council meeting that he wanted time June 14 to discuss advantages and disadvantages of a city administrator form of government, said at the end of last night's meeting:

"In the past two weeks, it has been pointed out to me that the problems in the mind of the councilmen involve some city employees, not the city administrator ordinance."

Smith asked that the subject be removed from the June 14 agenda and insisted it be done in the form of a motion with a roll call vote. Councilmen voted unanimously to remove it. Mayor John M. Reichmuth was absent.

PERSONNEL PROBLEMS

Scott then proposed "an executive meeting at 7 p.m. June 14 to discuss personnel problems." He asked City Atty. John G. Buresh if he had to name the employee involved and Buresh said no, but asked that he elaborate on his meaning of "personnel problems."

"Very well," Scott said. "It will be to discuss criticisms of a city employee."

In September, the old city council by 3-to-2 vote amended the city administrator ordinance to allow Flautt to continue living outside San Anselmo. He lives in San Rafael.

William Franchini, Cedric Clute and John M. Reichmuth (now mayor) formed the majority in that vote, with Woodrow V. Capurro and Smith voting no. Duane C. Ragan in his campaign for city council declared the city administrator should be required to live in San Anselmo. Scott was his running mate. Clute and Franchini are no longer on the council.

With the closed meeting unanimously agreed upon by the council, Scott resubmitted his proposal for "an advisory coun-

Brown Launches Work On New Hall Of Justice

Pickets Protest Job Bias

Gov. Edmund G. Brown pulled the lever on a big cement bucket today, giving a symbolic start to the Hall of Justice addition to the Marin Civic Center.

The action came after several speeches, including one by the widow of architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

PICKETS PRESENT

The ceremony was observed by 300 persons, including nine pickets protesting alleged racial discrimination on the $11 million project.

Governor Brown declared a deep concern with leaving the state more beautiful for coming generations. Of all the counties in the state, he said, Marin is doing the best job in creating beauty.

"Together we're proving that government has a valid role in creating beauty," the governor declared.

WIDOW'S WORDS

Mrs. Wright said her famous husband once declared that "beauty is the highest expression of mortality."

She said the Hall of Justice "will do justice to beauty and I am certain it will do justice to man."

Nine pickets, led by Perry Howell of Marin City and Mrs. Sally Garoutte of Mill Valley, former member of the Marin County Human Rights Commission, marched during the ceremony at one side of the reviewing stand.

Signs included "pink walls, blue roof, how about some black hands?" and "stop construction." Another sign identified marchers as members of the Marin chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality.

A Negro, however, was among the crew that guided the huge cement bucket to a hole in front of the speakers' stand.

BROWN'S TASK

The governor's hand worked the lever until the hole was filled with cement.

Others participating in the ceremony were Rev. Samuel L. Banks of the Village Baptist

Romney Seeks Third Term

LANSING, Mich. (AP) —Gov. George Romney of Michigan announced as expected today for a third term — one that could propel him to the Republican presidential nomination in 1968.

This came only hours after sources close to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller said the New York Republican leader had made a firm commitment to back Romney for the GOP nomination, which twice escaped Rockefeller.

The term would be four years under a new State Constitution which Romney helped write. Romney's first two terms were for two years each.

Romney has no announced Republican opposition and the filing deadline is less than three weeks away. Zolton Ferency, Democratic state chairman, is expected to be his November general election opposition.

At a news conference, Romney parried questions about his 1968 ambitions today, saying several times:

"No person can forsee what will happen two or four months from now, let alone two or four years. The only office for which I am a candidate is governor of Michigan."

Hue Rebel Leader Switches Support To Ky's Regime

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — Deputy Premier Nguyen Huu Co said today the head of the rebellious South Vietnamese First Division in Hue had pledged its support to the Saigon government. The action would cut the ground from under the rebel movement there.

Co made the announcement in Da Nang shortly after thousands of Buddhists monks, nuns and children snaked through the heart of Saigon today in two demonstrations demanding the overthrow of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. They were beaten back each time by marines and riot police using clubs and tear gas.

Co's announcement that Maj. Gen. Phan Xuan Nnuan had sent a telegram of support to the Ky government removed the anti-government military threat in the Buddhist stronghold of Hue.

Bu anti-government feeling remained high in Hue and youths sent a letter written in blood to President Johnson and the International Red Cross demanding the United States cease aiding Ky in his "slaughter" of Vietnamese. They threatened a Da Nang-type uprising but Nhuan's move dissipated their threat.

About 1,000 Buddhists, defying Ky's warning that street demonstrations would be firmly repressed, marched into the heart of Saigon early today through pouring rain.

Kidnaper Killed; Boy, 6, Saved

TERRYVILLE, Conn. (UPI) — A man armed with a shotgun kidnaped a 6-year-old boy from a school bus stop today and then holed up in woods where he was shot and killed in a gun battle with police. The boy was rescued unharmed but one patrolman was wounded.

Police identified the abductor as Albert Bunn, 33, an employe of the Bristol Water Department.

Authorities said Bunn halted his green pickup truck at a bus stop in Terryville where young Michael Albee and several other children were waiting for a ride to school about 8:30 a.m. EDT.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Fog Preventer Found

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet scientist has invented a liquid which prevents fog from forming at sea, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported today. Tass said a small quantity of liquid produces a thin film on the water which keeps fog from rising.

Nigeria Bans Parties

LAGOS, Nigeria (UP) — Nigerian strongman Maj. Gen. Aguiyi Ironsi dissolved all political parties and organizations based on tribal or regional allegiance yesterday and forbade the creation of new ones for three years.

State Conservation Chief Quits

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A conservation career that started 41 years ago will end this summer when DeWitt "Swede" Nelson resigns as California's director of conservation.

Nelson

Nelson, 65, will leave the $22,500-a-year post in which he served under three governors to start a new career —college teacher, at "my alma mater, Iowa State University, as a visiting lecturer in the broad field of resource policies, programs and issues," Nelson told Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The governor said he accepted Nelson's resignation "with regret" and announced he would promote Dr. Ian Campbell, now a division chief and geologist in Nelson's department, to succeed him.

Greek Rail Strike

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Police began arresting key members of the railway workers' union today after railway employees disregarded a government mobilization order and continued their two-day nationwide strike. The walkout paralyzed freight and passenger rail service.

Tribesmen Captured

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Indian army has captured 47 rebellious Mizo tribesmen in the past few days in the jungles of eastern India's Assam State, reports reaching New Delhi said today.

Justice Department Admits Eavesdropping

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Justice Department has sent an unprecedented memorandum to the Supreme Court admitting that Federal Bureau of Investigation agents secretly eavesdropped on conversations between a lawyer and his client — a former associate of Bobby Baker.

The client, Washington public relations man Fred B. Black Jr., later was convicted of income tax evasion. But in the memorandum, Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall said Black should be given a court hearing.

Marshall's memorandum to the high court, sent yesterday, indicated that the FBI apparently acted on its own when it "installed a listening device" in Black's hotel suite in Washington three years a go.

The memorandum said that neither the Justice Department attorneys who prosecuted Black nor "any other attorney of the Department of Justice" — including Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach — knew about the electronic snooping.

Black now is fighting his 1964 tax conviction and has asked the Supreme Court for the second time to review his conviction. The court denied Black's first request for review May 2.

He and Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary who has been indicted on a number of federal charges, were associated in a Washington vending machine business.

In his memorandum, Marshall said the bugging, which took place between February and April 1963, "was unrelated to the tax evasion case."

But he added: "The listening device was in operation from approximately two months before until approximately one month after the evidence was presented to the grand jury and the indictment was returned.

Negro Blames Negro Teens For Shooting

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—Nickles Barkus, shot in the groin from a passing car yesterday night, told police: "They shot me and I am a black man." He said he was sure the car carried teen-age Negroes.

Barkus, 61, underwent surgery at Kern General Hospital where his condition was reported serious.

Police Lt. A. J. Mier said he did not know whether the shooting was connected with the three days of disturbances in Bakersfield's Negro section.

Lt. Mier said several persons were questioned in connection with the shooting and then released.

Police have declared they do not know what touched off the disturbances but Negro leaders said the area was dissatisfied because the City Council voted to submit anti-poverty programs to voters in November for a referendum.

They fear the programs face defeat and contend councilmen are stalling.

Auto Stereo Stolen

Someone took a stereo and stereo tapes valued at $180 from his locked car, John Daniel Howard, 18, of 17 Kristin Court, Novato, reported yesterday to Novato police. The theft occured between midnight and 8 a.m. while the car was parked at his home, he said.

Guiana Gains Independence

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — The Western Hemisphere gets a new nation at midnight tonight when British Guiana becomes independent Guyana. Like most new countries, it has troubles.

Besides economic woes, the 83,000 square-mile British colony on the northern coast of South America has a history of racial strife and faces territorial claims by its neighbors.

It also can look forward to an increase in the bitter political feud between Prime Minister Forbes Burnham, an Oxford-educated Negro lawyer, and his Marxist predecessor, Cheddi Jagan, leader of the country's 220,000 East Indians. There are 175,000 Negroes in the colony.

There are 19 different varieties of hummingbirds.

Auto Sales Figures Both Good And Bad In Mid-May

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry tried to figure out today whether mid-May auto sales figures were good or bad.

Optimists were cheered that the 242,407 sales posted May 11-20 ran about 50,000 cars ahead of the early May totals.

Others noted that the latest total lagged about 3,000 units behind the corresponding 10 days of last year. It also marked the fourth time in the last five 10-day periods that sales figures trailed those of a year ago.

The sales pattern was the same at all four auto companies.

General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors all sold more cars than they did in the opening 10 days of this month when sales dipped sharply. Each sold fewer cars than in May 11-20 1965.

Sales for calendar 1966 through May 20 totaled 3,681,093 new cars, about 1 per cent or 32,749 cars ahead of the 1965 pace.

U.S. Library Grants

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The U.S. Office of Education announced today that about 2,000 of the nation's colleges and universities are eligible to apply for a total of $10 million in grants for purchase of library materials, audio-visual aids and the like. The deadline for filing applications is June 4.

Brown Jibes Reagan, Lauds Administration

Gov. Edmund G. Brown extolled the accomplishments of his Administration at a "non-political" speech this morning before the Marvelous Marin Breakfast Club at the Meadows in Terra Linda.

"One of my opponents says he is not a politician," Brown told the audience of about 150. "A good definition of politics is science of government. I've devoted my life to government and I'm proud of the record I've made. I just want to say to you I am not an actor."

The governor declared his administration has provided fiscal responsibility, a good business climate, and the best educational system in the nation.

He said no tax increase will be needed this year because the state will use the accrual system of accounting.

For every firm that leaves California, 99 firms are coming into the state, the Governor declared.

Paul R. Leahy, president of the club, presided Frank Beckmann was program chairman.

After the breakfast, Governor Brown gave a boost to an assemblyman's campaign for state senator by signing a pioneer bill permitting formation of assessment districts to put overhead utility lines underground.

Presumably in the governor's mind as he signed the measure was the fact that its author, Democratic Assemblyman Pearce Young of Napa County, is running for the Senate seat now held by Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

Church of Marin City, who gave the invocation; Judge Harold J. Haley, presiding superior court judge, and Rev. Edmund J. Dingberg of St. Isabella's Church, Terra Linda, who gave the benediction.

Music was provided by the Air Force Band from Hamilton Air Force Base. Chairman Byron W. Leydecker of the county board of supervisors welcomed the participants and spectators.

Sponsors for the observance were the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, Marin County Bar Assn., Marin Industrial Development Assn., Marin Visitor's Bureau, and San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Explorer Sent Up, But Goes In Wrong Orbit

The 492-pound Explorer, the size and shape of a shiny beachball, blasted off at 10 a.m. (EDT) on the tip of a sleek Delta rocket. Its launch sounded the opening gun for one of the busiest seven-day launch schedules in Cape Kennedy history.

Explorer's booster rocket — aimed for an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 170 to 750 miles above the earth.

Forty-five minutes after liftoff, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Apace Administration said the rocket apparently burned too long and threw the satellite into an orbit at least 200 miles higher than planned. Officials said this could cause a problem with the experiments, but how much of a problem would not be determined for several hours.

Contract Signed By Marin Guide

Sausalito's Marin Guide Publications ended an eight-month labor dispute this week by signing a contract with the Commercial Mailers Union of California.

Roy Fallstrom, union president, presented publisher Harry Johnson with a list of employees who had joined and told him they had agreed to be represented in collective bargaining by the union.

He also requested an immediate election, to be conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, to verify this decision. Johnson said he would make no effort to block the election.

Biodegradables

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (UPI) —A new word has been added to the lexicon of synthetic detergents. It's "biodegradables," a five-dollar word for synthetic detergents that shoot away foam as well as dirt and eliminate clogging of sewage plants or streams, reports Phillips Petroleum Company.

more answers to what's happening in Viet Nam.

After hobbling into the Senate on crutches yesterday — his first appearance there since he broke a thigh bone in a fall May 10— Dirksen told a news conference he had discussed Viet Nam with the President when Johnson visited him at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The Illinois Republican said during "a reasonably lengthy talk" with Johnson he proposed a bipartisan White House briefing for congressional leaders. The President promised to take the idea under advisement, Dirksen reported.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk reaffirmed yesterday the U. S. desire to negotiate peace in Viet Nam and said this country shall continue its "far-reaching, persistent efforts to bring the other side to the peace table."

The U. S. and allied forces have wrested the "initiative from the Communists," and a series of ground actions launched this week that killed hundreds of Viet Cong may wreck the Communists plans for a major monsoon offensive, a U.S. military spokesman said today in Saigon.

He said U.S. and allied troops seeking Communists forces killed about 65 guerrillas yesterday in scattered action.

"We are hunting and we are waiting," a U.S. military spokesman said. "It's just a matter of time now before the Viet Cong starts his monsoon offensive, but he's going to have a tougher time now (than in previous years)."

"The monsoon rains may cut down the punch of American strafing planes...(but) we've got far more troops (this year than last) and we've got the initiative," the spokesman said.

He said the Communists probably will attack U.S. and Allied troop concentrations such as the isolated Special Forces camps.

"That's what I would do if I was a Viet Cong," he said.

JOHN C. CURTIN

RESIGN

for the American Civil Liberties Union, also backed Curtin's right to be heard. He said that by suppressing Curtin the board might be demonstrating his charges were true.

Brown, who is himself a teacher in Tamalpais High School District, said he did not feel that Curtin was using a "professional approach."

Moments later, Brown ruled that Curtin could continue reading his letter, and Curtin started where he left off.

"Ignorance, incompetence and indiscretion, ignorance of the necessity of controversy for the educational process, incompetence in alienating the district office from the professional faculties of the schools, and the indiscretion of secret-committee, conspiratorial-type methods more appropriate to a garrison state than to a public school district," he declared.

At the outset, Curtin said the district "has reached an impasse where reasoned dialogue on key issues is highly improbable."

He claimed that "most vocal detractors of the schools enjoy the luxury of moral certainty," and those who disagree with their views "are unholy."

Curtin asked, "If we are to instill in our young the precious premise of democracy, how can we, for even a moment, conside deleting the controversial?"

He said that issues are no longer academic, or philosophic or professional or reasonable, and "points of view have become issues of morality."

He charged that Corona and Voydat, "far from attempting to prevent the situation, may be seen more accurately as prime movers in the development of authority in the hands of the absolutists who champion indoctrination at the expense of controversy, hence, at the peril of education."

Curtin said he has "waited in vain for effectively organized community protest of the district administration. For all the courage of protests to date, public indications of support for intellectually oriented teaching have been sporadic. After each protest, the anti-intellectual direction of the district administration has continued."

He said he could no longer work "amid the current atmosphere of distrust and disavowal of those concepts which I feel to be the highest ideals of education."

He then handed in his letter of resignation, effective at the end of the school year.

"Where are you going?" Brown asked.

"San Francisco State College," Curtin replied.

The board unanimously accepted Curtin's resignation Board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. was absent.

Curtin taught courses in philosophy and the humanities, for both of which he himself prepared the course of study.

cil of San Anselmo," but amended its name to the "San Anselmo council of consultants."

The council voted unanimously to create the citizen group.

"I want a group of people I can call on for their advice and recommendations," Scott said.

He noted that Capurro objected to the council proposal two weeks ago because he wanted all councilmen to be able to name members to the council, as well as Scott.

Scott said he has 38 names for the council, but it should be expanded and any councilman should be free to name members.

Capurro still asked that a vote on the proposal be held over. "In all fairness to Mayor Reichmuth, he asked me that if anything important came up, he'd like to be here for the vote," Capurro said.

"He didn't ask me that," retorted Scott. "I had the votes the first time, but in deference to you and the mayor, I agreed that it be held over. If a councilman is interested, he should be here."

When Scott proposed the council two weeks ago, Reichmuth and Capurro said it was the first they had heard of the proposal. Scott and Ragan were ready to support it.

Smith said last night that Reichmuth has been called to Washington, D.C., on business.

Ragan read an excerpt from a magazine article citing the importance of citizen participation in government, in support of Scott's proposal.

Planning Commissioner John West said: "The motion defines no duties for the council. There is no one in front and no one in the back seat. You might want to study the methods of making the council more effective before creating it."

Scott said, "I am ready for the question." The unanimous vote followed.

Larkspur Plan Group Allows Schultz Grading

Larkspur Planning Commission last night granted Niels Schultz permission to remove 17,000 cubic yards of dirt and level a hill west of the Greenbrae Lanes placing stipulations on the excavation permit for benefit of nearby residents who expressed concern about the noise.

Schultz said he wants to make a pleateau atop the hill for a building site. Commissioners said the work must be complete by July 29 and be confined to a five day work week between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Missing Ship's Debris Found

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Debris continued to wash ashore today from the collier Kaitawa, missing since Monday night, but none of the ship's 29 crewmen has been found.

Search parties on New Zealand's northernmost shore have recovered a lifeboat, two rudders, apartly inflated life raft and many life jackets. The ship's other life raft was missing, and air and sea rescuers pressed their search for it in hope of finding survivors.

The Kaitawa sent a distress signal Monday night during a gale. The 2,500-ton British ship was believed to have capsized after smashing up on the Pandora Banks, 10 miles off the coast.

OBITUARIES

Justus F. Craemer Dies At 79

house in Orange and Hart took a job on the local daily, the Orange News.

In 1909 Craemer headed for the Yukon, but the cold weather turned him back to Seattle where he took a job in a wholesale paper plant. Soon Hart was urging Craemer to go south again and buy a half interest in the Orange Daily News.

Craemer borrowed $1,300 from his grandmother and $700 from a bank and became co-publisher of the newspaper. Craemer handled the business end of the paper and Hart ran the editorial department. The two worked in close harmony. There was never a written agreement between them. There did not have to be.

Craemer's first of many political jobs began in 1923 when he was appointed to the State Fair Board, a post he held for five years.

GOVERNOR'S AIDE

In 1934 he served as private secretary for Gov. Frank F. Merriam. He was assistant director of the State Department of Public Works in 1935-37, state building and loan commissioner in 1937-39 and a member of the California Public Utilities Commission from 1939 to 1956. He served as president of the commission in 1942.

In that year Craemer organized the Mountain Pacific States Conference of Public Service Commissions and headed the organization until 1946. He also served as president of the National Assn. of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners in 1948-49.

In 1937 Hart and Craemer joined Roy A. Brown to purchase the San Rafael Daily Independent. The three-way partnership continued until 1942 when Hart was killed in a commercial airline crash.

Hart's estate purchased the Orange Daily News in 1946 and Craemer took over Hart's interest in the Independent.

Brown and Craemer brought about the merger of the Independent with the Marin Journal on Nov. 30, 1948. The move brought nearly 50 years of journalistic sparring in Marin to a close.

When the papers merged, the combined circulation totaled 13,000. Today's circulation of the Independent-Journal is 40,650.

Craemer was the last survivor of the three men who took over the Independent in the organization that became California Newspaper Publishers, Inc. Brown died March 9 of this year, after serving as publisher ever since the purchase in 1937.

LONG SERVICE

During his lifetime, Craemer received honors and recognition for his long public service. On the eve of his retirement at 70 from the Public Utilities Commission, he and Mrs. Craemer were honored at a reception in San Francisco Civic Center.

In 1960, Gov. Edmund G. Brown presented Craemer a gold card in recognition of 50 years newspaper service in the state. In 1956, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight gave him a silver medal in honor of his long service to newspapers.

He was president of the California Newspaper Publishers Assn. in 1929, the National Editorial Assn. in 1932 and the California Press Assn. from 1943 until 1964. He served as vice president of the latter for 20 years. He also served as a director of the Inter-American Press Assn.

Craemer was a former director of the First National Bank of Orange, the Federal Finance Co. of Santa Ana, the Orange Building and Loan Assn., and the California State Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the Republican State Central Committee in 1936-38.

When the state chamber was organized in the early 1930s, Craemer became its Southern California division chairman.

In Marin County, where Craemer had lived since 1951, he served as public relations chairman for the Marin United Crusade. Hea also served a term as director of San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

In 1957, he headed a statewide committee in a successful campaign against a proposition designed to end tax exemption for non-profit schools.

He was also a member of the Orange Rotary Club, the Press-Union League of San Francisco, the Jonathan Club of Los Angeles, the Family Club of San Francisco and the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco.

He and his wife, the former Agnes F. Fitzsimmons, were married Jan. 6, 1915.

He is survived by his wife, of 50 Canal Street, San Rafael; a son, Justus J. (Jack) Craemer, editor and co-publisher of the Independent-Journal; his sister, Helen Craemer of Orange, and five grandchildren, Justus Theodore, John Frederick and Janine Elaine Craemer and Kenneth and Geoffrey Justus Ashley, all of Greenbrae. A daughter, Mrs. Barbara Craemer Ashley, preceded him in death.

Funeral will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday at Trinity Lutheran Church, San Rafael, of which Craemer was an active member. Private burial will be directed by Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

The family prefers that tributes be contributions to the Trinity Lutheran Church building fund.

Inspector Hit With Reprimand

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges Jr., from whom an 18-year-old prisoner escaped Monday evening, violated a department policy that at least two officers accompany any inmate temporarily taken from county jail, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said today.

"He has received a verbal reprimand," the sheriff said, "and the matter (of possible further action) is pending."

The youth, Stephen Thomas Lauritsen, fled from Bridges after being removed from the county jail on his promise to show the officer where he allegedly cached about $5,000 in burglary loot. He was still at large today.

Eight Records For End Howard Twilley

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) —Tulsa end Howard Twilley holds national college records for most passes caught in a game (19), season (134) and career (261); most touchdown passes caught in a game (5), season (16) and career (32); and most pass-receiving yardage in a season (1,799) and career (3,343).

PATRICK FOLEY

A Requiem Mass for 7-year-old Patrick Foley, who was burned to death in a house fire yesterday in Novato, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Friday at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato.

Patrick died in a fire in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Bornholdt at 2136 Center Road.

His brother Gregory, 9, was still under intensive care, in fair condition, today at Marin General Hospital, and his brother Kevin, 11, was reported in good condition. They were rescued from the blaze by Patrolman Vernon L. Davies of Novato police.

Besides his brothers, Patrick is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lavinnie O. Foley of Novato; his father, Patrick Foley of Troy, Kans.; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Foley of Troy, Kans., and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Minn C. McKenney of Boston, Mass.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

RICHARD HANNY

Funeral for Richard J. Hanny, 19, of 553 Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, who died Monday at his home, will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the memorial chapel of Russell and Gooch, 270 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley. Interment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

A College of Marin student, Hanny is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Hanny, Mill Valley; a brother, William C. Hanny, Mill Valley; and tw ograndfathers, Herbert L. Cecil of Connecticut, and William H. Marriatt of Illinois.

MARY E. POMA

Requiem Mass for Mary Evelyn Poma, 80, mother of Mrs. Edith Grossi of Inverness, will be offered Friday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Vincent De Paul Catholic Church, Petaluma.

Mrs. Poma died yesterday in a Santa Rosa convalescent home after a long illness. She was born in Italy, and came to the United States in 1911. She and her husband, the late Henry Poma, had a dairy ranch in Santa Rosa.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Grossi; two sons, Lorenzo Poma of Sonoma and Aldo Poma of Santa Rosa; five grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma. Friends may gather at the funeral home at 9:15 a.m. Friday before going to the church. Entombment will be at Calvary Mausoleum, Petaluma.

ROBERT A. TAYLOR

Funeral for Robert Austin Taylor, 3-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Taylor of San Rafael, will be Friday at 2 p.m. at the Assembly of God Church, San Rafael.

The baby had been sleeping between his parents in their bed, and his mother awoke and found him dead at 7:45 a.m. yesterday, according to the coroner's office.

Mrs. Taylor gave the baby mouth to mouth resuscitation, and an ambulance was called to the home at 4 Orange Court. A resuscitator was used, but the baby was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital.

Cause of death has not yet been determined.

She child is survived by his parents; two brothers, John M. Taylor, 4, and Joseph M. Taylor, 3; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Taylor of San Rafael, Vernon Shaffer of San Francisco, and Mrs. Alpha Shaffer of Larkspur.

Friends may call at the Chapel of the Hills until noon Friday. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY
Quiet Beauty
for families of every faith

Ninety years ago, Marin pioneers set aside this lovely site as a final resting place for all faiths.

Since then, Mount Tamalpais has developed facilities to meet each family's preference. Here are lovely gardens, the Angeles Garden or Memory Chapel mausoleums for above-ground burial, Marin's modern new crematorium, and the Chapel of Light Columbarium.

If you haven't visited Mount Tamalpais, you are invited to see the beauty of its typically Marin setting. Our staff will be glad to answer your questions.

Widow, Swamp-Running Fugitive Jailed In Mother's Day Murder

MARION STEWART
Surrenders in swamp

EDITH LOUISE SCHMIDT
Tells different stories

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—A dramatic, day-long manhunt in a desolate swampland has ended with the capture of Glenn Stewart, charged with murder in the Mother's Day slaying of an Indiana factory worker.

Weary and bearded after eluding a massive search party, Stewart, 30, surrendered yesterday to a state trooper, apparently unaware that the dead man's widow also had been charged with the murder of 35-year-old Larry Schmidt. Stewart said he was innocent.

In a bizarre twist to a sensational case, police in Marion, Ind., jailed Schmidt's widow, Edith, 27, and quoted her as saying that she and Stewart were lovers who had plotted her husband's death 48 hours before he was killed May 8.

The woman had told police Sunday that Stewart killed her husband over a $50 debt, kidnaped her and her two children and took them on a 16-day trip of terror.

It was her first story, told from her parents home in Sparta, Tenn., that led Indiana officers to Schmidt's dismembered body, sliced into five pieces in the dirt-floor basement of his Marion home Sunday.

Marion Police Chief Ted Null said Stewart apparently let Mrs. Schmidt and the children go on his flight from Marion to his home in Arkadelphia because they were hindering his escape. Null quoted her as saying that she and Stewart used a knife to kill her husband, then a hacksaw to cut off his arms and legs.

However, Prosecutor Robert Foust said he did not think Mrs. Schmidt committed the actual stabbing but believed she was a conspirator in what he described as a love-triangle murder. She was jailed on a preliminary charge of first-degree murder to await grand jury action.

Erhard England Visit Reaches Wide Accord

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard returned today from a two-day visit to London and said he and Prime Minister Harold Wilson reached "such wide agreement that one can speak of a going together of Great Britain and Germany."

"I can say it was a successful visit, not only in diplomatic terms, but because in all important questions we found widespread agreement," Erhard said.

Marinwood Fire Chief Asks $6,000 Budget Increase

The Marinwood Fire Commission last night reviewed a preliminary budget for fiscal 1967 that will run about $6,000 higher than the current budget.

Total figure is not definite, Fire Chief James Cameron explained, because there has been no decision yet on his request for a 15 per cent increase in pay for firemen. He said the total would be about $35,000.

He said 10 per cent of the increase is needed to bring the department salaries up to the level of other departments in the county.

Included in the proposed budget is purchase of a new fire truck. Cameron has recommended that the truck be paid for over five years, with annual payments of $5,500.

Commissioners took no action on the proposed budget last night.

Bagley Proposes Law Aid To Poor

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael yesterday asked the State Legislature to study the possibility of having third-year law students provide legal services to the poor in minor cases.

Bar associations and legal groups try to provide legal services regardless of ability to pay, Bagley pointed out. "But their numbers are, nevertheless, inadequate to meet many of the relatively less serious needs of the poor which consequently go without legal or administrative relief and are settled by default."

Match Play Scolded

A small boy was reprimanded yesterday by Asst. Fire Chief Joseph Regalia of Mill Valley after the boy, with other children, reportedly started a brush fire with matches at 150 Greenwood Way. Nine firemen fought the fire.

Ditto Marks Cancel Names In Petition On Marincello

Ditto marks appeared yesterday to be the undoing of the drive for referrendum action on a road into Marincello, recently approved by county supervisors.

Asst. County Clerk John Musser told supervisors yesterday that many signers unknowingly disqualified themselves by using ditto marks in the column where they were supposed to write out their addresses.

For instance, he explained, if two persons from the same family signed together, the second signer often would put the ditto sign under the address written out by the first. This, he said, was improper.

Musser disqualified a total of 873 names. The petition for referrendum was left 316 short of the required 6,090 names.

Peter D. Whitney, a Marincello opponent, said he hoped the board would not be influenced by dittos in making its decision, but Musser said the law requires signers to write their names, addresses and the date in their own hand.

"The law is right to the point on this," County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said. "This is sort of unusual for anything dealing with Marincello."

George Wheelwright, owner of the Green Gulch Ranch and a strong Marincello opponent, told the board the petition may have been legally in error, "but we think we are morally right and we know we are right politically."

He urged the board to put the road issue to a vote of the people. Maloney countered that he did not believe this would be legal even if the board wished to call an election, since the road approval was an administrative, and not a legislative act.

Maloney said that if opponents believe they have a case — and that there are enough valid signatures — they can take the matter to court.

Ark Purchase State Bill Introduced

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, today introduced a bill which would allow county purchase or condemnation of arks on lands leased from the state in the Corte Madera Creek Flood control project.

County payments would be reimbursed by the state in the same way reimbursements are made for other purchases of land and right of way.

The bill was requested by supervisors last week after ark dwellers complained they were losing their homes without compensation and in many cases it was impossible to move their arks.

McCarthy, in a letter to supervisors today, said the legislative counsel has ruled the bill can be introduced in the special session without special call.

McCarthy warned, however, that the legislature might adjourn before the bill has a chance to clear.

Bar Owner Describes Holdup Pair, Murder

I'm going for help."

One of the gunmen—whom Albertoni had yesterday identified as Gorman — fired his gun through a pillow he held in front of him. The slug fell to the floor in a wad of cotton.

Ferrari rushed to the door and unbolted it. As he went out the door, another shot was fired, but Albertoni was uncertain who fired it.

Albertoni said he told the men: "Please don't shoot. I don't want to see any blood spilled."

Both men then moved in front of Albertoni and started firing after the fleeing Ferrari. They moved to the doorway and continued firing simultaneously. One of them returned an scooped up bar receipts which Albertoni said amounted to $1,267.

At that point, said Albertoni, he "took off," went out a door on B Street and ran along Second Street in an effort to find a telephone. His hands were still tied. Before he reached a telephone, however, police cars arrived at the inn.

In cross-examination by Public Defender Jerome C. Durham, Albertoni said the man he identified as Gorman appeared the more nervous of the two, while the other was calm and firm,

Yesterday, he recalled that he could see the men's eyebrows, their eyes and the skin around them through the holes in their hoods.

Shortly before pointing out Osuna in the courtroom of Judge Thomas F. Keating, Albertoni said, "I will never forget those eyes as long as I live."

"The blondish man," Albertoni said, "had light-complected eyebrows, eyes very light gray, very light gray . . . With the light shining in his eyes, there were little red particles like sawdust thrown in the eyes." There were wrinkles "radiating outward from the eyes like sunrays."

Albertoni was equally firm in his identification of Gorman as the dark-complexioned gunman with "dark brown eyes and dark eyebrows." He testified that Gorman, wearing spectacles in the courtroom, had not worn any during the robbery.

Albertoni also said he heard the blondish man call the other "Jack." He said he also heard the name, "Joe," used, but under cross-examination by defense counsel Jerome C. Durham, was unable to say who used it.

Much of yesterday was given to submission of evidence by the prosecution: a large number of police photographs of the Mission Inn; a pair of black boots and a dark blue jacket, that Albertoni called similar to those worn by one of the men; a hood —cut from a brown sweatshirt sleeve — that he said was worn by the blondish man.

Durham, in cross-examination, took Albertoni over ground covered earlier on direct questioning by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, reviewing the hours he spent as a captive before Ferrari was gunned down while attempting to flee the inn.

Abortion Law Change Asked

The Presbytery of the Redwoods, which has authority over contingent Presbyterian churches in the First Congressional District, wants a general overhaul of laws dealing with therapeutic abortion.

George F. Walker Jr. of Mill Valley, spokesman for the Presbytery of the Redwoods, has sent letters to state legislators, asking them to consider such legislation.

Walker said the Presbytery went on record "as favoring and encouraging the introduction of legislation that would broaden the present laws concerning therapeutic abortion in the case of rape, incest, and grave mental or physical impairment to the mother of the child."

Vintage Cars, Clothes Due At Corte Madera Festival

Vintage cars, clothes and railroad coaches will be contrasted with a "new" Town Hall when Corte Madera residents celebrate the 50th anniversary of their town's incorporation on the weekend of June 10, 11 and 12.

A committee of Corte Madera residents, and businessmen who have worked for six months planning the three-day celebration will see the fruits of its labor begin to unfold at 7:30 p.m. June 10.

Fifty years ago that day, the town was incorporated at that hour. A group of Boy Scouts will open the weekend festivities by reenacting the signing of the Town's articles of incorporation in the village square area, original nucleus of the town.

The square will be roped off and buildings there will be draped with bunting. Businessmen from the area will be garbed in the clothes of 1916 Corte Madera.

Where a Northwestern Pacific Railroad station once stood, two vintage railroad coaches will be on display. One is a Pullman coach built for the NWP in 1914; the other, a Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad coach built in 1890. Both will be on loan from the Railway and Locomotive Historical Society.

After the Boy Scouts have resigned the town articles, a Marin County barbershop quartet will sing. Later, a Dixieland band will play while residents dance in the village square.

June 11 activities will begin at 10:30 a.m. with dedication of Corte Madera's remodeled Town Hall, followed by historical and art displays in the Public Safety Building. And an open house for long-time residents in the recreation room of that building.

At noon, dignitaries invited by Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst will lunch at Gregory's restaurant. A Little League baseball game is slated for the same hour in the town park.

Afternoon activities are scheduled for the Paradise shopping center in East Corte Madera, where merchants have planned a fashion show for 2 p.m., an art in action show for 3 p.m., and a barbecue with dancing to the music of a German band from 4 to 7 p.m.

A Mayor's ball, open to the public, will begin in the town recreation center at 9 p.m. An admission fee will be charged.

A parade, with homeowner, civic, service, business and youth groups marching alongside and riding in vintage autos, will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday and proceed past a reviewing stand at the recreation center to the Corte Madera shopping center.

During the afternoon at the center, the classic autos will be on display, food will be served, and the Southern Pacific band will give a concert.

Many 'Firsts' For Northgate Theater

The Northgate Theater opening in the Northgate Shopping Center tomorrow has several "firsts" among its features.

It is the first new indoor theater of the Blumenfeld Enterprises to be opened in Marin in almost 16 years.

It will employ the first 70 millimeter projection system and stereophonic sound system ever used in the county.

It is the first motion picture theater to be opened in a shopping center in Northern California. The idea is comparatively new in the west, having had quite a degree of success in the east.

It represents the most modern, if not the largest, theater built in Marin by the Blumenfelds since the family moved to Marin 46 years ago.

JOSEPH BLUMENFELD

ABE BLUMENFELD

Head theater chain

It is the first in a series of new moving picture showplaces programmed by the Blumenfelds in their expansion plans announced last year. Future plans call for another "hardtop" theater to be built in the Montecito Shopping Center, and their third outdoor drive-in in Marin is scheduled to be established in Southern Marin—most likely in Sausalito.

Joseph Blumenfeld, oldest son of Max Blumenfeld who set the course for the family's theater career in San Francisco almost a half-century ago, is long known to Marinites, even though for many years he resided in the city.

Three years ago he purchased a house in Belvedere and officially joined his younger brothers, Abe, Nate and Jack in making Marin his permanent home.

As head of the family enterprises in motion picture theaters, outdoor drive-ins, bowling alleys and shopping centers scattered throughout the northern part of the state, Joe Blumenfeld sees the Northgate opening as one more chapter in a series of business moves adjusted to changes in the pattern of living.

"A few years ago it was incredible that anyone would think of opening a movie theater in a shopping center," he said. "But then shopping centers have also changed.

"Northgate is a splendid example of the new regional coverage that is a part of outlying commercial clusters and we were happy to have a part in bringing this idea to Marin. There's no reason why a theater shouldn't be practical in a large center like Northgate—it is a prestige location and there's plenty of parking in the evenings when most stores are closed and don't need it."

Abe Blumenfeld, vice president of the theater chain, sees the Northgate opening in another light. "If we didn't move in here, eventually someone else would. And being so closely attached to Marin we would be shirking our duty if we didn't bring to the county the newest equipment and that type of theater which our experience has shown is best suited here."

By some standards, Northgate Theater is not large. It has only 460 seats—60 more than the Lark. But those seats are the new "push back" chairs, designed for comfort.

"We feel that this size theater is adequate in Northgate—and we still have eight other showplaces in Marin where people can go for variety," he added.

Northgate Theater had as its supervising architect, William B. David and Associates of San Francisco. Its 70-foot curved screen, 16-speaker sound system and D-150 projection system employing facilities for both 35 and 70 millimeter film, are designed to handle all types of film.

The cost of installing this equipment is estimated at $250,000.

The opening attraction tomorrow is The King and I, to be followed by first run showings of The Oscar and Nevada Smith.

Collision Injures Young Bike Rider

Eight-year-old Stephen Randall Qualls of San Rafael suffered a fractured left wrist when he was struck by a car while riding his bicycle across Manuel Freitas Parkway at Del Ganado Road at 5:45 p.m. Monday.

Stephen, who lives near the intersection at 658 Tarragon Drive, was treated at Marin General Hospital after being treated at the scene by Terra Linda Firemen.

Officer Wesley E. Taylor of the California Highway Patrol, reported Stephen was struck by a westbound car driven by Patricia Ann Young, 34, of 16 Surrey Lane, Terra Linda.

Streptococcus Only Disease In Report

The only communicable disease reported in Marin County last week was streptococcus infection, reported Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 53 cases, with San Rafael and Novato leading the list at 12 cases each.

Trial Dates Slated On Burglary Charges

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday scheduled jury trial for Raymond Rudolph Beauchamp and Isaiah Howard Wallace, jointly charged with burglary, for Oct. 10.

Wallace and Beauchamp Marin City, 18-year-olds, allegedly broke into Brown's Home Furnishers in Mill Valley on April 14.

Farm Bureau To Revamp By-Laws

Directors of the Marin County Farm Bureau Monday named an eight-man committee to revise the bureau's by-laws and gave it six months to do the job.

James Marshall of Tomales, president of the bureau, was named chairman of the committee. Other members are David Burbank and Eugene Brown of Fallon; A. J. Bianchi, H. H. Edrington, Marin Nunes, and Robert Giacomini of Point Reyes Station, and Wilfred Lafranchi of Nicasio.

Robert King, administrator of the California Farm Bureau health insurance program, is to be at the Marin County office in Novato all day tomorrow to explain to members the bureau's new health insurance and health indemnity programs.

Negro Students Visit Tiburon Classrooms

About 20 Negro sixth grade pupils from Richmond attended classes at Granada School in Tiburon Monday as part of a two-year-old exchange program.

Principal John C. Fitch said the pupils, from Longfellow School, spent the day in classes, then were picked up by their parents.

Jackie, Duchess Meet At Glittering Party

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two of the most famous women in the world —Mrs. John F. Kennedy and the Duchess of Windsor — met for the first time last night because they patronize the same jeweler.

The setting was the penthouse of French and Co., America's prime emporium for arts and antiques, which was showing the jeweled fantasies created by internationally renowned David Webb as the climax of the New York social season. The American-born duchess and her husband, the former King Edward VIII, practically bumped into the former First Lady when they arrived via elevator as Mrs. Kennedy was departing.

The meeting was brief but cordial. The duchess explained that she was carrying a cane because of a pesky foot condition that recently required surgery. She wore a black and white striped evening gown, a contrast to the red floral gown worn by Mrs. Kennedy.

Both women, rated as the world's most elegant, expressed a mutual admiration for the tiny sculptures, evening purses, paperweights and other collectors' baubles fashioned by Webb out of 24-carat gold, diamonds, coral, sapphires, emeralds, agate, pearls and rock crystal.

Nearly 1,000 of New York's smart set paid $35 for admission tickets as a donation to the hospital for special surgery.

Johnson Signs Bill On Mortgage Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill authorizing the government to shift federal loans to private investors.

Under the legislation, the administration plans to sell about $4.2 billion of mortgages and loans in the fiscal year starting July 1. This would reduce next year's budget deficit by an equal amount since income received from the asset sales will be subtracted from the expenditures of various agencies.

No Competition For Board Posts

No petition has been circulated for a write-in candidate for either of two upcoming vacancies on the Almonte Sanitary District board; therefore, the County Board of Sueprvisors will be asked to appoint directors on or before June 7.

Almonte board members Monday night agreed to ask that incumbents Hugh Brown and Herbert E. Davis be appointed.

Directors discussed proposed southern Marin sanitation district and the proposed Tamalpais Valley community services district and indicated they favor a Greater Richardson Bay sanitation district and a southern Marin district over a Tamalpais community services district.

Marin City Youth Pleads Not Guilty

William Lloyd Bland, 18, of 99 Cole Drive, Marin City, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday to two counts of concealing stolen property. Jury trial was set Aug. 29.

Bland allegedly was in possession of two television sets stolen from Klein's TV, 14 Princess Street, Sausalito.

RICHARD FIGEROID

Figeroid Is Named Manager

Manager Richard Figeroid of the Northgate Theater has been an employee of Blumenfeld Enterprises for 21 years.

Figeroid first joined the Blumenfelds in 1945 in Oakland, when he went to work in the T and D Theater. He remained there 15 years, then was made assistant manager at Oakland's Roxey Theater.

Four years ago he came to Marin and was placed in charge of the Lark in Larkspur, where he has been until his recent appointment to Northgate.

Born in San Francisco and educated in Oakland, Figeroid embarked on a theater career after he was discharged from the Army in 1942. His first experience in that field came with Fox West Coast Theaters.

"This is bound to be a successful enterpirse," Figeroid said, in speaking of the new Northgate theater. "The most modern equipment has been used and it will make pictures of all kinds more clear and enjoyable to the audience."

Supervisorial Hopefuls On Air

Candidates for Marin County supervisor for the First District will take part in the radio station KTIM discussion program, "Marin Sounding Board," tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Speakers will be John F. McInnis, Dr. William F. Upton and Melvin S. Warenback. Moderator will be Kitty Openheimer.

A recording of the program will be broadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m. The sounding board scheduled for June 2 will feature a debate on the $4.3 million county-wide parks bond issue.

No Decision Reached

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors Monday night discussed the proposed assessment district in the Waldo Point area but came to no conclusion, adjourning the meeting to June 27, reported secretary Edwin S. Long.

The Very Best At New Theater

Motion picture viewing at Northgate will provide a new experience for many theater goers.

The huge Century projectors with their modern Ashcraft lamp houses and ability to use all types of professional film from the early versions of 35 millimeter to the new double-width 70 millimeter film will give the Northgate showhouse an adaptability to productions possesed by no other theater in the county.

Viewers will be able to follow sound clear across the 70-foot wide curved screen, for 16 speakers are used in the Ampex six-track stereophonic system which places the sound where the action is. The audience will hear crisp, full range tones, look at needle-sharp images in such realism as to make the viewer feel he is caught up in every scene.

One of the most important pieces of work at Northgate was the proper soundproofing of walls and other surfaces to eliminate overtones.

Marin City Assault Brings Guilty Plea

Guilty plea to assault with a deadly weapon was entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by Blaine J. Walters, 19, of 345 Drake Avenue, Marin City. He is to be sentenced June 14.

Poppy Sales Planned By Novato Veterans

Poppy days have been set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday by Donald V. Westlund Post 7816, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and its auxiliary in Novato.

Members of the post and the auxiliary will sell the poppies to honor the dead and help the relief funds of these organizations.

Dixie Trustees To See Budget

Dixie School District board will take a look at a preliminary $2,500,000 budget at 8 p.m. today at the district office. The preliminary budget anticipates a beginning balance of $73,500, total state income of $1,004,000, federal funds of approximately $52,000. The balance must come from local taxes.

The expenditure budget is based on an instructional staff of 194 and an average daily attendance of 4,320 pupils.

Also on the agenda for tonight's meeting are a request by classified employees for a five per cent salary increase, transportation for summer school pupils, and a salary schedule for principals.

Narcotics Guilty Plea

Ronald Hilmer Ross, 33, of 1675 Bridgeway, Sausalito, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to misdemeanor possession of a device for smoking a narcotic, and is to be sentenced June 14.

Students Donate To Mexico Town

The Interact Club of Novato High School will donate $100 to the Alliance for Health program for the people of Zacapu, Mexico, announced Thad Marks, newly elected president of the club.

Several Marin County doctors and registered nurses are giving their time this summer to the project.

The club will also award a $100 scholarship to a graduate of Novato High School this summer, Marks said.

THREATENS RETURN TO CIVILIZATION — Angered by the announcement of the King of Siam (played by Yul Brynner) that he intends to punish the slave girl Tuptim (Rita Moreno), Anna (Deborah Kerr) tells him that she and her son Louis (Rex Thompson) will leave Siam for good. The scene is a dramatic highlight of the King and I, opening tomorrow night at the Northgate Theater.

Yul Brynner At First Rejected It

If Yul Brynner hadn't been given another chance he probably would have become the unhappiest man on earth for having first said "no" when offered the role of the king in the now world famous Rogers and Hammerstein musical, The King and I.

Brynner would have missed the 1500 performances on Broadway that won him all conceivable honors:

The Donaldson Award, the Antoinette Perry Award and the Critics Circle Award. And he would not have won Hollywood's coveted Academy Award for repeating his performance in the 20th Century - Fox Cinemascope and de luxe color film version of the stage production.

From the moment of his second chance, Brynner has had several years to thank his lucky star and pass this advice along to fellow players: "Never turn down a part until you've at least read the script."

Both Rodgers and Hammerstein had wanted Noel Coward to direct and star in the production. They thought he would accept because he was a friend of Gertrude Lawrence, who brought them the idea of making a musical of Margaret Landon's book "Anna and the King of Siam."

It turned out that Coward said he would direct, but he wanted Brynner for the role. Brynner turned down the audition in what might have been the most terrible mistake of his career. As a top television producer and director he was making a good living and he enjoyed his work.

"They kept after me for about three months," he said. "Finally Rodgers and Hammerstein had one act of The King and I finished, and insisted that I read it before I gave them an answer. After that, of course, I immediately recognized this character of the king was irresistible and I decided to accept the role and play it on the stage."

Brynner played the king opposite several leading ladies, the first being the late Gertrude Lawrence, and the last, Deborah Kerr in the film version opening in Marin tomorrow at Northgate.

San Franciscan Faces Warrant

Warrant of arrest of James Hawkins, 19, was issued yesterday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court on Hawkins' failure to appear to plead to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Hawkins, of Hunter's Point in San Francisco, allegedly shot Eugene Johnson, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Johnson, 270 Drake Avenue, Marin City, in the right thigh on Feb. 22. Johnson, who recovered, said the assault was unprovoked.

New bail for Hawkins is $11,000.

To Juvenile Court

Case of Shelia Kathleen Malone, 19, of Larkspur, charged in Marin Municipal Court with petty theft, has been certified to juvenile court.

'The King And I' Opening Feature

The music from "The King and I," opening feature at the Northgate Theater ranks among the finest in the world and its popularity is still unsurpassed.

Numerous recordings have been made of this music and are heard regularly on radio and television. Now Marinites will have the opportunity to view the 20th Century-Fox film version of the widely acclaimed Rodgers and Hammerstein musical spectacle which stars Yul Brynner as the intrepid king and Deborah Kerr as the refined school teacher to the royal children in the court of Siam in 1862.

The King, half barbarian and half scholar, who is struggling to make his country part of the modern world; the teacher, a recently widowed Englishwoman, very Victorian in her attitudes; a pair of ill-fated young lovers; and about 20 royal children who love their school teacher, but do not believe the possibility of things like snow, and the fact that their mighty country is one of the smallest in the world.

After running five years on Broadway, two years were required by 20th Century-Fox to prepare and transform The King and I to the motion picture medium. Upon completion, it was the most expensive musical ever made at that studio.

Presented by Darryl F. Zanuck, a staff headed by producer Charles Brackett, director Walter Lang and writer Ernest Lehman started from scratch to mold the heralded stage production into a film.

Art directors Lyle Wheeler and John De Cuir created the atmosphere by designing 40 different sets that literally glittered in gold. For example, the Throne Room, 250 feet long and 150 feet wide is studded with hand gold-leafed, ebony columns, populated with gold and ebony statues and a golden throne, all set against colorful muralled walls.

The 40 sets made movie-wise people gasp with amazement when they visited the studio during filming.

Among these beautiful sets are the banquet room, featuring hand-painted Siamese screens; the palace pavilion, which includes a remarkable series of marble pagodas, the temple, the royal ballroom in gold, alabaster and ebony; and the king's study where he dictates the famous letter offering Abraham Lincoln a pair of elephants to help him win the Civil War.

Jerome Robbins, one of America's famed choreographers, arranged all dance and ballet sequences. A high point in the film is his ballet, "The Small House of Uncle Thomas," one of the most unusual stagings ever seen on the screen.

Included in the cast of The King and I are Rita Moreno, Carlos Rivas, Martin Benson, Alan Mowbry and Terry Saunders. The production was filmed by three-time Academy-Award winner Leon Shamroy.

Marinites Take Student Offices

San Rafael candidates swept the board in student elections at University of California, Davis. Robert Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Black, 144 Tamal Vista, sophomore majoring in international relations was elected president.

Jack Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edwards, 365 Nova Albion Way, a junior food science and technology major, was elected vice president, judging day chairman and coed king.

Ronald Slausen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clausen, 8 Amalfi Place, was elected representative at large. A sophomore political science major, he is chairman of the homecoming celebration.

Scrap Sale Planned

Scrap copper and rags will be sold at a bid sale on June 16, by the defense surplus sales office at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Stinson Deputy Resigns Post

George J. Miller, resident sheriff's deputy at Stinson Beach has resigned as of June 1.

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson said Miller cited high rental costs in Stinson Beach as one reason for quitting, but also said he had personal reasons for leaving. He has been paying $130 monthly for his house, said Stinson.

Star Says This Role Is Hers

"This is my role. There will never be another to match it as long as I am an actress."

With this declaration, lovely Deborah Kerr summed up her feeling toward the role of Anna in the Rogers and Hammerstein musical, The King and I, opening attraction at the Blumenfelds' new Northgate Theater.

So enthusiastic was Miss Kerr while working in the 20th Century-Fox production in Cinemascope and deluxe color, that she considered her role a dream come true.

"Every actress when she attains any stature, however modest, has one role that's outstanding—like Vivian Leigh's in 'Gone with the Wind'," she said. "I'll have other good roles besides this one in 'The King and I,' but there'll never be another picture, another single role that encompasses the vast variety of moods this film has given me.

"It has every type of scene, every nuance of emotion from drama to comedy, from singing to dancing, from fantasy to what seems outright whimsy—and it is based on a real-life story."

The story, set in 1862, tells of a young English widow who accepts employment an governess and teacher to the numerous children of the King of Siam. Once installed with her young son in the royal palace, she is overwhelmed by the opulence of the Siamese court, shocked by its barbarism, fascinated by its king, and completely charmed by his platoon of youngsters.

Miss Kerr's enthusiasm for the role infected critics throughout the world, who compared her performance very favorably with that of the late Gertrude Lawrence, creator of the role on the New York stage.

Russians Show Hike In ICBM Stockpile

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials report the Soviet Union has increased modestly its force of intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The officials gave no figures, but said the U.S. advantage of about three or four to one in ICBMs "has not been altered."

Drake High Diplomas Ready For 392 Grads

Slum School Meeting Set In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A national conference to explore new methods of educating disadvantaged children will be held in Washington July 18-20.

President Johnson, in announcing the conference yesterday, said he had asked U.S. Education Commissioner Harold Howe II to invite the chief education officers of all 50 states to send delegations to the meeting.

CLASHES WITH THE KING

Anna nettled the King of Siam with her attitude of treating him as an equal, and many conflicts develop in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical which produce both dramatic and comical moments. But slowly, the king, halfway between a barbarian and an enlightened ruler, comes to respect the woman whom he employed as a governess for his children.

NAACP Asks High Court Reconsideration Of Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People told the Supreme Court today its very survival — and that of the entire civil rights movement — may have been imperiled by a recent decision to let an $85,795 Georgia picketing judgment stand.

Asking the justices to reconsider the case, the NAACP said the high court's action opened the door to damage suits which could "harass, impoverish and eventually paralyze" the organization.

The Supreme Court dismissed without explanation April 27 an NAACP appeal from a Georgia ruling that the national ssociation can be held liable for picketing ordered by its Savannah branch.

The 5-4 ruling produced a furious dissent by Justice William O. Douglas, who warned that "juries might run pell-mell" to destroy "unpopular groups" like the NAACP.

The NAACP had argued that it had no control over the picketing of a Savannah grocery store whose owner sued it, the local branch and local offices for damages.

Since the decision was announced, the NAACP said in a brief filed with the high court, it has been named a defendant with the local branch in a similar suit in Virginia and has been threatened with a third such suit in Philadelphia.

The NAACP brief gave no details of the cases, but an official told a reporter that in one the owner of a Victoria, Va., department store is asking $100,000 in punitive damages as a result of pamphlets passed out in front of his store.

Marin City Defendants Bound Over

Marin City residents Phillip Craig Scott, 19, and Edward Boon Green, 20, were bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday following preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court for alleged felony assaults on sheriff's officers last April 4.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas ordered them held on all counts. Scott, of 50 Cole Drive is charged with assault on Deputy Charles T. Prandi, and on Deputy Carl Tim Wiese.

Green, of 343 Drake Avenue, is charged with assault on Deputy Fred Garrison.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Dufficy said information against both suspects will be filed in Marin Superior Court at 9:30 a.m. on June 8.

Preliminary hearing started May 6, and was completed in three sessions. Also charged in the affray in Marin City which involved an estimated 100 Marin City youths and some 28 officers are Claude B. Burton, 21, of 33 Cole Drive, and two juveniles.

Of the latter, James Otis Ames, 17, of 69 Cole Drive, is charged in juvenile court with throwing a rock at a sheriff's car, and with two additional misdemeanor counts of obstructing officers in the performance of their duties.

Decorators Brave —They Used Blue

Albers-Gruen and Associates, San Francisco color consultants, used both imagination and courage in their decorating theme at the Northgate Theater.

It took courage to prescribe a bright blue for the theater's interior, a shade that is often avoided by interior decorators, for fear that it will clash with furnishings.

"We were fortunate in not having this to worry about," said Abe Blumenfeld. "You might say our only furnishings are the chairs — so we made them blue, too."

As part of the wall pattern, brown blocks of cork are spaced throughout, offering pleasant contrast and serving to arrest sound "bouncing."

VFW, Scouts Schedule Memorial Cleanup

Members of the Donald V. Westlund Post 7916, Veterans of Foreign Wars, with the help of members of Boy Scout Troop 73, sponsored by the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church of Novato, will clean and decorate the graves of 15 veterans buried in the two cemeteries in Novato.

Objectors Gain Right To Vote

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Californa Supreme Court ruled yesterday that refusal to serve in the armed forces for reason of conscience is not an "infamous crime."

The court held that two World War II conscientious objectors who served prison terms could not be denied the right to vote because of their prison records.

The ruling involved Kasuki J. Otsuka, 44, Pasadena and John H. Abbott, 43, Los Angeles. They were denied permission to register by Los Angeles County Registrar Benjamin S. Hite because of their prison records as objectors. Conviction for an "infamous crime" is grounds for denial.

Mother Sentenced For Child Deaths

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (UPI) —Mrs. Charlene Hargis, estranged wife of former Rep. Denver D. Hargis, D-Kan., was sentenced yesterday to a maximum of 10 years in prison for the fatal shooting of her four children last October.

Judge William B. Bowie, who handed down sentences of 10 years on each of four counts of manslaughter, ordered that the sentences run concurrently. He said the 37-year-old Mrs. Hargis would be eligible for parole after serving one-fourth of her sentence.

Stinson Beach Water Rate Increase Granted

The rate change will take effect July 1.

Leonard gathers waters from springs and creeks on the Las Baulinas Ranch and other areas near Stinson Beach and sells it to the water company. He does business as Golfito Water Co.

The new rate to the Stinson Beach Water Co. will be a steady 11 cents per 100 cubic feet, with a minimum annual charge of $1,200. Present charge is 7.5 cents in summer and 5 cents in winter, with a minimum annual charge of $950. Leonard had asked that the rates be allowed to go to 16 cents in summer and 12 cents in winter.

Several hearings on the matter were held by the commission at Stinson Beach. Testimony mainly dealt with market values of land with or without water. Commissioners agreed that the data on which Leonard's rates were based should include his public dedication of Steep Ravine, where water rights were found to be worth $15,000.

In Colonial days, a house with a flat floor was considered a luxury dwelling. Such a floor was made of puncheons, or split logs, smoothed off on the face with an axe or adze.

Flautt Sees Budget Hike, But 20-Cent Tax Rate Cut

San Anselmo City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt last night suggested a slight increased in the city's budget for fiscal 1967—but with a 20-cent cut in the tax rate.

Flautt proposed an $816,830 budget, an increase of $6,681, or less than one per cent, over this year's budget of $810,849.

The small increase, coupled with an average increase of 20 per cent in the assessed valuation of property in the city, would allow a 20-cent tax decrease, he said.

Flautt's budget proposal does not include any salary raises for city employees, though. The council plans to determine raises after agreeing on a preliminary budget.

A 20-cent tax decrease would not quite bring the city property tax rate back to its level a year ago, when the council raised the rate 21 cents, from $2.03 to $2.24 per $100 assessed valuation.

Flautt said his budget proposal allows funds for the first year of a five-year, $100,000 funding program which would allow the city to call for bids and erect a badly needed fire station in early January of this coming year.

"The program would call for alternate borrowing from the interim tax reserve fund and a local bank on a six-month basis annually with the gradual retirement of the loan by the general fund through annual appropriations over five years," he said.

The budget also provides for purchase of a $14,000 street sweeper over a five-year period and last payment on a $35,000 fire engine which the city will receive in August. Funds to replace the water line on Woodland Avenue and for a master plan for the proposed Sorich Ranch park are also included.

Approximately $200,000 in gasoline tax funds is earmarked for widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Bolinas and Tunstead avenues.

Councilman Robert M. Scott commented that a 20-cent reduction in the tax rate "would just about double the people's taxes, wouldn't it? I've heard of one person whose assessment was raised 700 per cent."

Flautt answered that some property was also decreased in assessed valuation and he estimates the average at a 20 per cent increase.

San Anselmo One-Way Plan Contemplated

When San Anselmo completes widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, it should make San Anselmo Avenue a one-way street, a traffic engineer last night told the Hub City Council.

James Kell of Traffic Research Corp. in San Francisco, presenting preliminary plans for widening Drake Boulevard from Tunstead to Bolinas Avenue, made the suggestion. Traffic on San Anselmo Avenue should split at the Ross Avenue intersection, he said, the street being one-way southbound to the south of that intersection and one-way northbound to its north.

San Anselmo Avenue and Drake Boulevard are carrying equal loads of traffic "and a great deal of it is commuters trying to avoid the Hub intersection," he said.

Engineer Beverly J. Whitlow, who is preparing overall plans for the street widening project, said of the one-way street pattern:

"We expect objections from people in the downtown area, but this would be of tremendous advantage to the flow of traffic. After two months of driver education, I think motorists will find movement through San Anselmo at its easiest since the horse and buggy days."

The council set a public hearing on the proposal for June 16, with special invitation to the Ross Town Council and representatives of public utility companies. The latter should be there for discussion of undergrounding utilities during the project, they said.

False Alarms A Plague At Terra Linda

Irate San Rafael firemen returned yesterday from a false fire alarm at Terra Linda High School at 12:44 p.m., the second such call in two days.

San Rafael Fire Department estimates there have been "at least 30" false alarms from the school.

A log maintained by the school shows 20 fire alarms this school year, but some of these were fire drills, according to Vice Principal Robert R. Royle.

It's a continuing problem at the school because the 25 fire alarm boxes are easily accessible to students, Royle explained—"all it takes is a slight pressure with thumb and forefinger."

He said each time a false alarm is sounded, students lose the next day's brunch period.

Chemical Cult Sees LSD War

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The leader of a religious cult centered on "sacred biochemicals" today predicted an LSD "holy war" if the government jails Dr. Timothy Leary, the world-famous advocate of the hallucination drug.

Arthur Kleps, director of the 500-member "Neo-American Church" at Morning Glory Lodge, Cranberry Lake, N.Y., described the one-time Harvard psychologist as the leader of the "psychedelic" religious movement inthis country.

The testimony was prepared for the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee.

Hub Council To Study Report From Congress

Recommendations of the San Anselmo Congress for Community Progress, presented last night to the San Anselmo City Council, will be discussed at a council meeting at 8 p.m. June 9 in city hall.

Among the proposals are a design review committee to rule on new commercial and apartment buildings, and a committee of merchants and other citizens to investigate avalability of urban renewal funds for revitalizing the Hub City's downtown.

Recommendations of the congress were handed to the council by James F. Reed, congress chairman.

The design review committee, Reed said, should advise the council of new buildings, landscaping of public areas, street widening projects and street sign and light display. It could also work with the San Anselmo School District on its plans for new buildings.

The urban renewal committee, in addition to seeking funds, should decide on the objectives of such funds by working with the city staff, he said. Other congress recommendations included:

A program for systematic replacement of inadequate water mains should be adopted without delay.

A study should be undertaken immediately to form a plan for solution of traffic problem on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between the Hub intersection and Fairfax city limits.

Plans for widening of any street should provide for placing utilities underground.

San Anselmo should institute a clean-up and fix-up campaign.

Systematic and continuing program of ordinance enforcement should be begun.

Parking Lot "A" in the downtown area should be developed immediately and construction of the proposed new street to replace San Anselmo Avenue should be seriously considered.

A citizens committee should be formed to study and give advice on traffic and street problems.

An ordinance should be considered which would require every property owner, prior to any new construction on his building, to install proper fire protection facilities, including water mains.

The city council "should bring about a satisfactory and reasoned solution" to the question of the location of a west Marin highway link.

Consideration should be given to a new main firehouse away from the congested center of the city.

The council should consider all feasible methods for development of the creek as a natural asset, particularly in the downtown area.

Immediately after a West Marin highway route is adopted, studies should be undertaken to redesign the Hub intersection.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Agreed the city administrator should negotiate with Belvedere and Tiburon to join San Anselmo employees with those of the other two cities under a California Physicians Service health program.
2. Agreed to rent the city's newly acquired building at Sequoia and Red Hill avenues to present occupant, Chris Madera, at $125 a month.
3. Agreed to pay Ghilotti Brothers $1,050 to raze a hazardous building at 10 Ivy Lane.
4. Resolved to ask the county to exclude San Anselmo from the structural fire tax, for a possible 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation saving to city taxpayers.
5. Adopted an ordinance setting standards for sidewalks, curbs and gutters.
6. Accepted the resignation of James Murphy from the planning commission.
7. Introduced a new uniform building code.

Mayor John M. Reichmuth was absent.

Registration Shows GOP Gain

Marin County's Republican registration has pulled substantially ahead of the Democrats, Chairman Gerald E. Misner of the Marin Republican Central Committee reported last night at the regular meeting of the central committee at the San Rafael courthouse.

Republicans now have 41,397 registered, as compared with the Democrats' 38,827. However, Misner warned the Republicans they have a big job ahead because for the entire First Congressional District, Democrats still outnumber the Republicans by 145,105 to 116,304.

About 30 candidates, who are running for posts on the County Republican Central Committee in June, were introduced and made brief campaign speeches.

EXPERIMENT

It's Time To Try New Salad Combinations

The key factor in your salad making is imagination! Experiment! Use a little of this and that! Don't be shy! Wonderful salads and dressings have been created simply because a homemaker "got brave" or ran out of one seasoning and had to substitute another. And May, National Salad Month, is a good time to try new and unusual salad combinations.

For your "creating" enjoyment and to stimulate your own thoughts, we present a selection of salads and dressings. The flavorful ingredient in most of these recipes is tangy American blue cheese.

TWO CHEESE DRESSING
(makes about 2½ cups)

1 cup sour cream
½ cup cheddar cheese, grated
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese
¼ cup minced olives
¼ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ teaspoon garlic powder

FANCY FRENCH
(makes about 1 cup)

½ cup creamy French dressing
½ cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese

Blend all ingredients well. Cover and store in refrigerator.

INTERESTING ITALIAN
(makes about ½ cup)

1 cup Italian dressing
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese
2 tablespoons sesame seed

LUSCIOUS LOW-CAL
(makes about 1½ cups)

1 cup cottage cheese
¼ cup buttermilk
¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese
½ teaspoon ground celery seed

BLUE CHEESE CELERY SEED DRESSING

1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
dash of pepper
dash of paprika
¼ teaspoon mustard
½ teaspoon celery seed
¾ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1¼ oz.)

Add seasonings to sour cream and blend. Add celery seed; mix well. Stir in blue cheese. Chill until ready to use. Makes 1½ cups.

ALL SORTS of wonderful garden-fresh fruits and vegetables can make up a salad. Instead of being a slave to lettuce, try tender spinach leaves for a change. Accent the crisp greens with smooth, rich avocado, tangy onions, hot radishes, and creamy crumbles of blue cheese.

Molded Grape Salad Luncheon Delight

MOLDED GRAPE SALAD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¾ cup orange juice
1 bottle (7 ounces) ginger ale
Juice of 1 lime (2 tablespoons)
1 cup halved seedless grapes
Salad Green and Mayonnaise

In a small saucepan over very low heat, stir together the gelatin and orange juice until gelatin dissolves; remove from heat. Open the room-temperature ginger ale botttle and allow foaminess to subside; stir into gelatin mixture with lime juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in grapes. Turn into four ½-cup size molds; chill until set. Turn out and garnish with greens and mayonnaise. (Salad is on the tart side.)

Cherry Torte Created With Crisp Graham Cracker Crust

Cherry Torte is a combination of creamy cottage cheese, sugar and eggs. Bright red maraschino cherries and crisp pecans are scattered throughout the filling. The smooth, rich topping is of sour cream, sugar and egg, baked just until it sets.

Home economists created this torte with a crisp graham cracker crust. The grape cluster design on top of the torte is made with bright cherries and citron.

CHERRY TORTE

1 graham cracker crust patted into 10" spring mold or pie plate.

FILLING

1½ pounds small curd cottage cheese, drained
¾ cup sugar
4 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup maraschino cherries, chopped
¼ cup pecans, chopped

Beat first four ingredients together until light and fluffy. Fold in cherries and pecans. Pour filling over graham cracker crust. Bake at 350° for 1 hour or until set. Let torte cool slightly to settle.

TOPPING

1 cup dairy sour cream
1 egg
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix ingredients together and spread on top of baked filling. Return to oven and bake at 350° for 15-20 minutes or until topping is set Garnish with whole glace' or maraschino cherries and citron.

Buttermilk Pie Gets Modern Treatment

Cultured buttermilk, straight from the dairy to the homemaker with maybe a stopover at the supermarket, gave eating and drinking pleasure to a large number of Californians last year, according to W. B. Woodburn, manager, Dairy Council of California in Sacramento.

In this recipe for Buttermilk Pie today's cultured buttermilk with its consistent quality and controlled acidity gives extra lightness to a pie beloved by our ancestors. It has been brought up-to-date by Dairy Council home economists who stoutly maintain that pure vanilla extract, when vanilla extract is called for that is, is essential to superior flavor in all baked goods including this one. Recipe makes 6 servings

1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
½ cup (1 stick) butter
⅔ cup sugar
3 eggs
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 cups fresh buttermilk
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract

Prepare single pie shell using favorite recipe or packaged mix; chill. Cream butter and sugar together until thoroughly blended and fluffy. Beat eggs one at a time. Add flour and mix well. Stir in salt, lemon rind, buttermilk and vanilla extract. This mixture will look curdled, but this is as it should be.

Pour into the unbaked pastry shell. Bake in a preheated, very hot, 450-degree oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to slow, 325-degree oven, and bake 35 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Remove from oven and cool thoroughly before serving.

Luci's Recipe For Brownies

Here it is, Luci Baines Johnson's recipe for Brownies — straight from the White House.

The ingredients and method are Luci's own. All we did was to try her recipe and add a couple of details — the sort of flour and the size of pan that may be used.

LUCI'S RECIPE FOR BROWNIES

¼ pound butter
1 cup sugar
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 eggs
1 cup chopped pecans
¾ cup unsifted regular flour
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt the butter; while it is melting, put the sugar into a mixing bowl. Add part of the melted butter (about three-quarters of it) to the sugar. To the rest of the butter, add the chocolate and mix over very low heat to melt the chocolate; add this to the butter and sugar mixture.

Beat in the eggs, one at a time, with a spoon. Stir in the pecans, flour and vanilla.

Bake in a greased pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches) at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. It is important to watch that the Brownies do not get too done. To test, lightly press a finger on the top; if no imprint is left, they are ready

Cool, cut in squares and take out of the pan.

Makes a batch of 20.

Old Favorite's Newest Version

Chef's Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Pineapple Chiffon
Upside-down Cake

PINEAPPLE CHIFFON UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons light brown sugar
2 tablespoons dark corn syrup
6 small pineapple rings (from a 1 pound, 4 ounce can)
¾ cup sifted cake flour
⅓ cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons corn oil
2 large eggs, separated
¼ cup water
½ teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar

Preheat oven to slow (325 degrees). Melt butter in an 8 by 8 by 2-inch cake pan in the oven; remove and stir in brown sugar and corn syrup; spread evenly. Arrange drained pineapple slices in 2 rows over mixture. Bake in preheated oven for 15 minutes; remove and reserve. Sift together the flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a well in center and add corn oil, egg yolks, water and vanilla; with a spoon, beat until smooth. Beat egg whites and cream of tartar until mixture forms very stiff straight peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Gently fold batter into egg whites so no blobs of white show. Carefully pour over pineapple. Bake in preheated oven until cake springs back when lightly touched with finger—about 45 minutes. At once invert cake onto serving plate. Serve warm or cold.

Leftover Magic

Start off a lunch like this with a bowl of soup, surround the sandwich with relishes and a simple dessert, and you have a well-balanced, satisfying meal with small effort.

MRS. BARBARA DEADWYLER

Watts Widow Says Officer Fired Quickly

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Barbara Deadwyler told a coroner's jury a white police officer shot her husband without a word when he asked police assistance to take her to a hospital.

Mrs. Deadwyler, 25, gave her account yesterday of the May 7 death of Leonard Deadwyler, also 25. It differed sharply with police versions.

Deadwyler's death has stirred considerable unrest in the Negro district of Los Angeles. The Deadwylers are Negroes.

"I asked him (the officer) why did he shoot him?" said Mrs. Deadwyler.

"When I was asking him why did he shoot my husband, he didn't say anything. He just put his gun back in his holster and he was walking back to the back of the car."

Deadwyler was shot by Officer Jerold M. Bova, 23, who said his gun discharged accidentally as Deadwyler's car lurched.

Other police officers supported Bova's account that the car was speeding and had been forced to the curb by pursuing police when Bova approached it.

Mrs. Deadwyler testified, however, that when her husband first stopped the car, he turned off the ignition.

When Bova walked up to her window, she said, "my husband leaned over to look at the officer and asked him if he would lead him out to General Hospital to take me there, and then the gun went off."

Mrs. Deadwyler said her husband was driving fast because she believed she had labor pains. Her baby is due in June. She said the pains actually were caused by a kidney ailment.

Buganda King Said Missing In Uprising

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — The Ugandan government captured the palace of the rebellious king of the Buganda region last night. But the fate of King Frederick V. Matusa II was not known.

The 41-year-old monarch of Uganda's biggest and richest region was variously reported missing, dead, or under arrest.

(One report to London said the Ugandan army had set the palace on fire and killed 200 of the king's bodyguards.)

Ugandan President Milton Obote's government said its security troops attacked the brick-walled palace compound at Mengo, on the southwest outskirts of Kampala, after it was learned that arms were being distributed there to mobs.

The violence grew out of a long-smoldering power struggle that sharpened last Friday when the king told Obote to take his central government out of Kampala and the Buganda region by May 30.

A New Approach To Psycho-Therapy

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Thanks to perserverance — the outstanding characteristic of one woman, Mrs. Marian Frick, Sausalito has the first center in the world, she believes, for a revolutionary new approach to psycho-therapy.

The center is the Behavior Therapy Institute located on the top floor in a new building at 300 Valley St. in Sausalito. It opened on March 1, and treatment for some 86 patients has already been completed.

They have come from all over the Bay Area on referral by doctors, or on their own, for work on such problems as phobias, anxieties, stuttering, marital problems and improve-martial problems and improvement of personality.

How Marian Frick happened to found the institute is intimately related to her personal story.

BECAUSE OF PERSONAL PROBLEMS involving her marriage to her first husband, Jack Warnick, she decided to consult a psychoanalyst.

"After two and a half years of treatment four or five days a week, I finally was able to terminate a relationship that was destructive to me," she said.

"Several years later, after I was married again, I happened to read 'Conditioned Reflex Therapy' by Andrew Salter. I was amazed. If I had read that book, I would not have had to go to a psychoanalyst and could have saved all that money and time.

"People can go to psychoanalysts and spend hundreds of hours just talking. Sometimes they get an insight into what they are unhappy about and perhaps when it started. This doesn't cure the problem, nor does it necessarily change the person's behavior and how he reacts to other people. The psychoanalyst doesn't give you any answers.

"HE SAYS, 'What are you going to do about it?' The behavior therapist, on the other hand, participates in solving the problem and not only tells you what to do about it but gives you homework and may even rehearse you in facing difficult situations, such as in how to handle an interview for a new job.

"We behave the way we do because we were conditioned that way. Behavior therapy teaches you can change by unlearning wrong reactions, or being deconditioned, and learning new behavior."

Realizing the importance of this new approach, Marian Frick began tracking down every bit of information she could find on behavior therapy. She met Dr. David Fisher of San Francisco, one of the only behavior therapists on the West Coast, who informed her that its methods had been evolved by a Dr. Joseph Wolpe, a psychiatrist who lived in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Through Dr. Fisher she also learned that a Dr. Arnold A. Lazarus, also of Johannesburg, who had spent a year teaching behavior therapy at Stanford University had studied with Dr. Wolpe in Johannesburg and London.

"I thought, why isn't someone teaching this as a clinical subject in this country? I started looking for the answer. I found that Stanford is behavior oriented but that they do not actually teach behavior therapy as a clinical practice. They teach theory and do research but never see a patient. Nowhere else was anything like this available in this country.

"IT WAS AT THIS POINT," she continued," that the idea struck me of founding an institute. I began writing to Dr. Lazarus to see if he would head an institute I would found in Sausalito. My friends thought I was crazy to be talking about a non-existent institute with a prospective head who lived on the other side of the world."

Thanks to the perserverance that makes Marian Frick pursue anything she undertakes to the end and to her powers of persuasion, Dr. Lazarus agreed, despite other offers, to head the institute. After surmounting incredible obstacles, including difficulties with immigration over Dr. Lazarus's entry into this country with his family on Feb. 18, the institute was opened on March 1.

Marian Frick had planned the whole layout of the institute after long study and consultation with such authorities as those in the Western Behavioral Sciences Institute in La Jolla.

Using her own money, she set up and furnished the suite of seven rooms in the new building she had built at 300 Valley St. These will be rent free to the institute for at least one year.

The professional staff consists of Dr. Lazarus and Dr. Fisher and several other part-time psychologists who see patients on an individual or group consultation basis. Administrative work is done by a part-time bookkeeper and Mrs. Frick, who serves without salary.

"It is a non-profit corporation," she explained, "and from the first month the institute has paid its own way. Patients are asked to pay as they go to save record keeping — $20 an hour for an individual consultation and $10 for a two-hour group consultation.

"The average number of visits needed is about 30 — compared with the hundreds of hours required in psychoanalysis." she pointed out.

"We have been deluged with applications from people who want training in the methods of behavior therapy, and we hope to get started teaching selected graduate students, Ph.Ds, psychiatrists and social workers some time in June.

"The University of Nevada wants to bring all of its candidates for doctorates in psychology for training this summer.

"DR. LAZARUS HAS had so many requests for lectures from individual teachers and educational institutions that we have scheduled our first seminary for educational psychologists on Friday.

"Our future plans include treatment of loneliness through having a therapy night when the institute will be open to anyone who wishes to participate in friendly gatherings with refreshments served. This has been done in London."

Personalities with the kind of drive it takes to make a success of a venture of this kind do not just develop suddenly, as a brief resume of this remarkable woman's background shows. She is a born business woman.

DESPITE HER MANY activities, somehow Marian Frick finds time to pursue the hobby of furniture refinishing. Novato district groups will receive rank recognition at an outdoor ceremony at Stafford Dam, 7:30 p.m., June 10. Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. George Pelmear and Mrs. Walter Moreno.

Groups led by Mrs. Pelmear and Mrs. Jefferson Childs will received group torch bearer awards.

TEN PRESIDENTS HONORED

versity of Omaha two years, then decided she wanted to seek a career in California.

She came to San Francisco in 1940. Not trained for any profession or occupation but having a flair for decorating, she leased five apartments for 15 years in a building on Vallejo Street and began remodeling them, actually carrying bricks, mortar and other materials for the carpenter and bricklayer herself, since she couldn't afford to hire a helper.

She was so successful in this that when she married Jack Warnick, they continued in the business at the same time that he had a job teaching and she was working in the music library of the National Broadcasting Co. in San Francisco.

After that they moved to a small ranch in Marin County and became farmers and adopted two babies, Mark and Jean.

"This was fine during the war," she recalled, "but it was so isolated that I became very depressed, and the doctor said I had to get out among people.

"When I heard the Moore Realty Co. in Sausalito might need a receptionist, I went to apply for the job but found that Mrs. Moore wanted to sell the business.

"I decided I could learn the business, and by 6 o'clock that night my husband and I had bought it. A friend in the real estate business in Mill Valley, Archer Forsyth, agreed to be our broker while we got our licenses. In three months, on April 1, 1946, we were able to run the business ourselves."

DURING THIS TIME Marian found time to help found the present Sausalito Nursery School. She bought the property and co-signed with the bank on the loan that made possible the building of the plant for this first cooperatively owned nursery school that became so famous that it was written up in many leading magazines.

"Everything I have gone into has been completely new but a challenge, and that is what makes me respond. The real estate business just happened to be the right decision at the right time.

After the breakup of their marriage, Marian bought out her husband's interests and continued in the business after she was married two years later to Robert Frick.

In 1960, when her own baby daughter, Juli Ann (Dolly), was two years old, she sold the business to spend more time at home, but she was soon busy with many activities.

KEENLY INTERESTED in Sausalito city affairs, she tried to get the city council to buy the key waterfront property owned by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. She put up a $10,000 certified check and headed a 100-citizen committee that would have made a gift of the property to the city until it could pay for it.

"We could have bought it for $105,000," she said, "but they wouldn't go for it. Another council two years later started buying it, after some of the property had been sold, and paid $200,000."

Concerned with public affairs at all levels, Marian Frick started the Marin Committee for the Discussion of Public Affairs which meets Monday nights at her home. Friday, the same date as the first seminar for educational psychologists at the institute, the committee will have a big meeting with author Felix Greene at the College of Marin to discuss China and the United States Foreign policy.

On top of all this, on May 2 Marian Frick was named a member of the Federal Grand Jury which meets every Wednesday in San Francisco.

It's no wonder she looks slim and up to the minute keeping up with all this activity.

Alpha Tau Chapter Plans Ritual And Installation

The ritual of roses ceremony and installation of officers will be held when the Alpha Tau Chapter, Kappa Phi Sigma sorority meets tonight at 7 p.m., at the home of the president, Mrs. James Lazor in Greenbrae.

Decorations will be yellow roses and candlelight. Pledges to be initiated by Mrs. Lazor as full degree members include Mesdames John Bassett, Edward Fernandes, Stephen Halbe, David Hansell, John Hogue, Susan Salkeld, Andrew Snyder and Gordon Tremourex.

Officers to be installed for the year are Mesdames David Douglass, president; Stanley Cazneaux, vice president; Robert Corbett, recording secretary; James McConnell, corresponding secretary; George Schilling, treasurer, Lazor, extension officer and McConnell and Leo Horton, regents.

Members will have dinner at Sabella's Restaurant following the ceremonies.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Foolish Mistakes Bring Misery To 19-Year-Old And Children

DEAR HELEN:

Mine is a self-made problem. I was a fool, but must I pay all my life?

At the age of 15, I met a 20-year-old immigrant, strikingly handsome, and, as I found out, demanding. I had never really dated before and I guess opposites attract. My parents objected, so we sneaked out, and I was too naive to know that he wouldn't stop when I told him to. I was terribly upset but my parents stood by me. We gave the baby away.

Now here was where I made my second terrible mistake. I heard he has been in an accident and I went to see him because the fascination was still there. It started all over again, but this time he married me, against his will.

We have been married two years, have two babies. I am 19. He is never home; he gives me $10 a week to live on; he won't be seen with me or the children (who he says don't belong to him). On the rare times when he is with me, he says mean, cutting things, especially about my morals and my parents. He has beaten me and once he tried to choke me. I have never heard "I love you," nor has he ever shown any love for us. He won't let me have friends, and he won't baby sit, even if I want to go to the store. He seems to hate everyone, even his own parents.

My folks (who buy the baby's clothes and mine) would take me in but I don't want to involve them. Though he constantly tells me to get out, the one time I left him he made life miserable with phone calls and threats. He won't see a counselor, and I can't afford one.

My life is one big fear. For an intelligent person (in school, once) I sure have turned dumb. I don't know what to do or how to do it. Can anything help?

OUT OF MY MIND

DEAR O.M.:

Yes! You can help yourself — by making a decision, and standing by it in spite of your fears.

You said your parents will take you in. I'm sure, then, that they will pay the minor cost of counseling at your Family Service Agency, or perhaps a lawyer's fee. You need expert advice and possibly legal protection. When you discover that both are available, much of your misery and fright will disappear and you'll be able to face what must be done. This may include finding psychiatric aid for your husband as well as a safe place for you and the children.

Don't delay! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is in answer to "Worried" who worried about the nonchalant way children of divorce discuss it. Really, "worried," how else could we act? We have to accept divorces in our family and learn to live with them. If we cry about it, we won't have friends. Where will tears get us, except to Heartachesville?

My mother has been divorced three times and my boy friend's parents twice, both of them! We plan to marry, and I assure you "Worried" doesn't have to fret that we will take "the easy way out." Our marriage will be forever because we don't want to end up like our parents.

If there's anything to worry about it's the kids with undivorced parents who fight all the time. Or the parents who call their children jd's because they get a "C" on their report card, or ground them because of an incomplete in gym. Or parents who tell their children they can't date someone because they don't like the sound of his name. I know such parents.

Let's face it, no home life is completely happy. We all have our crosses to bear, and if we lighten them with shrugs, or humor, let us! — LYNNE

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

'All That Glitters Gold' At Bill Blass Showings

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Rich girls, Bill Blass has decided, are ready to throw away their poor-boy clothes and start looking like rich girls again.

Thus, not all that glittered was gold at the designer's fall collection which opened this week but the twinkling brocades and heavy silks and slick black broadtails and crisp double-faced wools were costly enough to give the wearer a luxurious feeling.

While fiscal fitness was a requirement, physical perfection was not. Tentlike dresses, narrow at the shoulders, fell in voluminous folds at the short short hemline. Pleated versions opened wide like umbrellas. Seamless, flat ones had the simplicity of a yokeless Baby Snooks dress.

SOMETIMES THE manikins —a few of which were designer Blass' rich young clients—hobbled into the showroom in heavy silk dinner gowns that inverted the umbrella silhouette. The fabric rose from narrow, pegged skirts wide to the wrists, like clerical robes. Beltless two-tone bloomer suits in heavy silks also did their bit to camouflage the figure.

Neither the professional nor the amateur models had anything to be ashamed of, it turned out as they paraded in Roman striped shifts with matching coats; Paisley vinyl rain coats with matching tote bags; chenille brocade sunback dresses with matching coats; or any of the long-torsoed dresses with poofs of ruffle at the hems.

SOMETIMES BARE-SHOULDERED and slickly sophisticated in form clinging black crepe with an Indian headdress of cock feathers was the Blass recipe for looking rich.

Sometimes a transparent cape coat sparkling with silver bows over a deep decolletage white dinner dress did the trick.

Very often a trench coat in brocaded geometric pattern worn over a square-backed sheath seemed to have the dollar sign on it.

A broad tail velvet bathrobe coat trimmed in white mink; or a blinding jewel embroidered sheer peacock blue dress and matching jacket were other interesting Blass ways of spelling out m-o-n-e-y.

Merry Wives Plan Coffee

Town & Country Village

If long holiday weekends bring out the family wanderlust . . . wander on down to The Village for a something-for-everyone shopping and browsing experience. Window shoppers welcome!

At Strawberry

Ladies, meet Louis, master chef who rules the range at L'ENTREE. This tiny corner of Gourmet's Paradise, features marvelous take-out entrees and dinners as well as caters the best-fed parties in town. Louis Reimers in known around our homes as Mr. Wizard, since a grateful working mother frequently "blows in" with one of his delicious casseroles, adds her own trimmings, and in very short order, turns out a "company dinner." Complete dinners here too if you only have time or energy for the bare minimum . . . like fresh lipstick. A terrific variety at L'ENTREE . . . you'll enjoy trying each and every treat . . . the price range is a treat too.

IMPORTS INTERNATIONAL left the rain on that soggy plain in Spain, and imported some wonderful drygoods, as well as many handsome Spanish decorative pieces. See the fabulous, handwoven bedspreads in such wonderful colors you'll want to redecorate "around" them . . . add a beautifully carved dresser or breakfront . . . trim with wrought iron sconces or leaded glass lanterns . . . hang a "certainly looks antique" oil, painted on wood . . . and Ole', Amigos, you've found some terrific decorating ideas. The prices at IMPORTS INTERNATIONAL are enough (little enough, that is) to make seasoned shoppers kick up their heels in a real snappy Flamenco. Many other corners of the world to visit at this lovely store . . . be sure to take the complete tour.

In the teen vernacular, we found a real "wiggy" item last week . . . a machine made wig for less than thirty-five dollars. WONDERFUL WORLD OF WIGS stocks this "wiggy" wonder especially for the beach and pool crowd, but it would be great for a quick trip to the market when your hair looks impossible. A complete price range of wigs here, with time payment plans available.

We came across a timely reminder at ALBERTA OF MARIN. There could be few more appropriate remembrances for Memorial Day than an everlasting floral spray of Alberta's beautiful artificial blossoms. These sprays start at three dollars and ninety-five cents and are personally designed to your requirements.

To "see the light" is usually desirable, and even more so when seen through prescription sun glasses. DR. THOMAS MACKEY, OPTOMETRIST, was extolling the value of these lenses the other day and found he was talking to two devotees. We have worn prescription sun glasses for years and can't imagine being without them. If you are reliant upon corrective lenses, these sun glasses make the perfect extra pair since they are used, instead of tucked away in the bureau drawer for emergencies only. They are great for cutting glare even on hazy days . . . and a wonderful help in relieving eye strain when driving. DR. MACKEY recommends either of the two shades of grey he carries, since they do not change color values. He also has three shades of green to choose from.

Considering the holiday weekend ahead party-planners would do well to "plan with Dan" at VILLAGE LIQUORS. Dan can give you very good advice on just what to buy and how much of it. He'll even loan you glassware free. Snoopy shopper clue: look in here for your favorite, hard-to-find labels of liquid delight.

Family fun frequently turns frantic when you try to take the children out for dinner and they get understandably cranky while waiting for their order. We have found THE HICK'RY PIT has good service and good food and good prices . . . and a really good policy towards hungry kids. They are welcome in playclothes and cheerfully fed a sandwich or a full dinner . . . and fast! There is still the feeling of eating out, but just the right informal atmosphere that encourages good manners, instead of demanding them.

Mother-of-the-Bride, rejoice! ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP has a complete line of wedding accessories. (They also have a darned good knowledge of what they're talking about—so feel free to ask questions.)

With a long holiday weekend ahead, we thought we'd check the outdoor cooking and entertaining supplies at HAPPY HOUSE. Found here, are Mr. Cheftender barbecue tools in sets or "singles" . . . a huge, 24 cup enamelware coffee pot with matching cups for a tiny price, only seven dollars and fifty cents . . . a dandy selection of aprons, chef's hats, pot holders etc. . . . ice buckets from nine dollars and fifty cents to nineteen dollars and ninety-five cents. We were very taken with a miniature hibachi at HAPPY HOUSE, specially priced now at two dollars and twenty-nine cents . . . also fascinated with the Match-O-Matic, butane gas match—it lights everything from barbecues to birthday cake candles.

Life in the big wide world commences with commencements next month. To help your favorite graduate keep track of each important minute, VILLAGE JEWELERS suggest a fine watch . . . also elegant little clocks, perfect for the off-to-college crowd. Many other graduation gifts at this newish shop . . . from remembrance-type costume jewelry to really sensational stuff that's sure to be remembered.

A mother-to-be can be party-pretty all summer long in fashions from EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP. Among many lovely dresses, we were particularly impressed with a floor length linen . . . white shell top, empire waist (how thoughtful of Josephine to devise this waistline . . . such a fashionable foil for expectant mothers) and the skirt of black and white windowpane checks. EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP carries fashions for all occasions. If holiday weekends find you entertaining informally, be sure to see the collection of Capris and stunning coordinated tops at this store.

Terrific for travel . . . the Arnel and Banlon fashions at CARLTON'S VILLAGE SPORTSWEAR. We were particularly interested in the Arnel skirts, capris and jamaicas . . . with coordinated print tops in three pretty colors. You could put together a great "mix and match" wardrobe with these that would go around the block or around the world with equal ease. Add a chic Banlon sheath from CARLTON'S extensive selection, and you're off for Anywhere.

Kicky, kookie, toe-wiggling sandals at (natch) THE SANDAL. Bernardo and Capezios dreamed-up some great styles this season and splashed some with zingy colors, just for fun. For even more fun, they've trimmed a few with daisies and bells and stuff.

Devoted dog owners are a fussy lot when it comes to feeding their pets. They will be interested to know that MUTTS OF MARIN is exclusive distributor for the famous Kal Kan Kibble Chunks. Many other fine foods and food supplements here too.

It's patio partytime again and FIESTA CANDLE SHOP has something new to light up outdoor living. These tallish glass cylinders come in a variety of colors with unique, black, painted-on designs, which give a stained glass effect. With candle, these pretty patio lights range in price from one dollar and fifty cents to three dollars and fifty cents. We think they would make a most attractive indoor candle arrangement, too. FIESTA CANDLE SHOP also stocks bug repellent candles as well as many other indoor-outdoor candles and holders.

Hey, gang, look what we found at THE HEARTH SHOP. A fat, precocious little "fellow" called a Casa-Q, that comes in two sizes to cook almost anything for you . . . almost anywhere. Made of space-age ceramic, this handy little "guy" is decorative, versatile and economical. A perfect gift for Father's Day, for newly weds, for outdoor living fans . . . it would be great on a boat with its snug-fitting top. We rather imagine it would be great anywhere . . . the Casa-Q at THE HEARTH SHOP.

If leisure hours mean reading hours to you, check the paperback selection at CAPRICORN BOOKS. You'll find fiction, "how to" books, mysteries, classics . . . just in, the paperback of "Night of Camp David," by Fletcher Knebel. Or maybe you'd prefer the brand new "Charlie Brown's All-Stars," by you-know-who. Whatever your reading pleasure may be, you are sure to find what you like at CAPRICORN BOOKS.

For an old fashioned good time, we recommend packing a picnic basket at HICKORY FARMS OF OHIO, the old fashioned country store in Marin. Your two snoopy shoppers did just that last week, after picking out a perfect basket from the large HICKORY FARMS selection. There are so many delicious choices at HICKORY FARMS we'll just have to do this again and again. But, for a starter, may we suggest . . . sandwiches of salami, Beefstick or ham — with imported Swiss cheese, spread with Sweet-Hot Mustard and enclosed in Table Water Biscuits. At least three different pickles . . . Double Sweet Kurly Krispies . . . fat juicy dills and real old fashioned Tomato Rings. For dessert, we chose two French cheeses—Grape and Cherry Kirsch—with HICKORY FARMS Old Fashioned Biscuits. Added a maple sugar "figure" for each child and assorted cookies and candies for the rest of us, as we sip the very special HICKORY FARMS Tea and Coffee (just couldn't decide here, so took along both).

You may notice, as we did, the repeated use here of the word "Old Fashioned." Makes us wonder if some things are never really improved upon . . . like the wonderful flavors and aromas from Grandma's kitchen. (And the modern reproduction of this nostalgia at HICKORY FARMS OF OHIO.)

NO GOLDEN AGE OF PRIVACY

Herman Halpern, a hard-pressed businessman, finds himself surrounded in the Golden Age Nursing Home in Festival Treater's West Coast premiere production of Lillian Hellman's lunatic comedy, "My Mother, My Father and Me." Actors are (from left) Owen Orser, Louis Bennett, and Marjorie Casebier, all members of the theater's professional acting company. The play is in the last two weeks of a seven-week run, with performances Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m. at the Festival Theater in San Anselmo.

Senators Propose Deadlock Solution

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Senate leaders, rejecting the latest Assembly plan, offered a new compromise today on the conflict-of-interest issue that has stalled the legislature for nearly three months.

Chairman Luther E. Gibson of the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee said yesterday there was "no agreement whatsoever" among senators for a compromise suggested by a two-house negotiating committee.

But he said acceptance of an amendment by Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan, D-Santa Rosa, could clear the way for a speedy end to the session that has lasted nearly 16 weeks —a near record for an election year.

Rattigan proposed to add to a constitutional revision measure a pledge that next year's legislature would enact conflict-of-interest rules, taking that issue out of a pending bill to raise lawmakers' salaries .

As the unofficial negotiators renewed their efforts today, the plan appeared to be unacceptable to Assembly leaders, who have insisted the pay raise from $6,000 to $16,000 a year be conditioned on conflict-of-interest laws passed this year.

Senators, in turn, have rejected conflict-of-interest provisions that would prohibit lawyer-legislators from engaging in activities that conflict with their legislative duties, including representing clients before state agencies.

The pay raise bill by Assembly Majority Leader Jerome R. Waldie, D-Antioch, would not go into effect unless the constitutional revision creating annual sessions of the legislature were enacted by the voters in November.

Gibson said rejection of the latest Senate plan could mean that constitutional revision "may well go down the drain."

That issue has blocked consideration of the other crucial issues of the long session — Gov. Brown's $4.62 billion budget and the change in bookkepping system needed to balance it without a tax boost.

The constitutional revision measure included major revisions of all three branches of government when it cleared the Assembly by an overwhelming vote.

The Senate trimmed it simply to provide for annual sessions and allow lawmakers to set their own salaries, now frozen into the State Constitution at $6,000 a year.

Waldie's bill proposed salaries of $18,000 a year but the negotiating committee sliced that to $17,500 a year — the salary of Los Angeles city councilmen — then again to $16,000.

The revision measure needs a two-thirds vote in the 40-seat Senate, which now has three vacancies, meaning that 11 senators could block the plan. Fourteen senators are attorneys.

Larkspur Concert Tonight

The 80 piece combined schools orchestra and band of the Larkspur School District will give its annual concert at 8 p.m. today in the Henry C. Hall School auditorium.

The program calls for the combined orchestra to open the concert and the band to close it, with ensembles and soloists performing between. The orchestra and band are composed of fourth through eighth grade students from all four schools in the district.

Music will range from the classical to the more recent beats of the Tijuana Brass and the Beatles. Students Susie Zuschin and Jerry Piro will be announcers. Marjorie Whittesley is district music director.

Contract Awarded

R-E Corp. of Santa Rosa was awarded a $27,373 contract yesterday to replace gas mains at Hamilton Air Force Base by the base procurement office.

WHY SHOULD RACCOONS ACT THAT WAY?

Whate makes a raccoon erratic?

A pair of raccoons, shot by San Rafael policemen last weekend because they were frothing at the mouth and behaving erratically, were not tested for rabies.

Miss Nancy Ruggeri, in charge of the county's rabies control program, said the animals weren't tested because several raccoons have been found in the city lately in the same condition and tests revealed no rabies.

Then why were they behaving erratically? "I have no idea," said Miss Ruggeri.

Final Wolden Argument Starts

The prosecution ended its Publications Inc., added yesterthat Wolden spent thousands of dollars in cash which came from "pure and simple bribes."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Francis W. Mayer told the jury Wolden was unable to account for the source of some $43,000 which he spent between 1960 and 1964. He said Wolden's bills at fine stores ranged from $800 to $11,500.

Senate Passes Exhaust Control Bill, 24 To 8

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has passed a major auto anti-air pollution bill over cries from some of its members that the measure would create a monopoly.

The bill by Assemblyman Tom C. Carrell, D-San Fernando, passed the Senate yesterday 24-8, moving back to the lower house for concurrence in amendments.

The measure would activate present law requiring — in addition to anti-smog crankcase devices — exhaust devices on used cars.

Under present law, two companies must manufacture exhaust devices before the requirement could go into effect. Carrell's bill, however, would trigger the law if one company could make such a device which:

Costs $65 or less to buy and install.

Lasts 50,000 miles.

Costs no more than $15 a year to maintain.

The bill would allow the Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board to require the single manufacturer to "cross-license" the device so that one or more competing companies could enter the field.

"I think this is highway robbery," said Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Miller said the bill was "going to gouge the people" and create a monopoly.

"I'll be very much surprised if the cost is under $60," Miller said.

Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan, D-Santa Rosa, carrying the bill in the Senate, said the cross-licensing provisions should prevent a monopoly situation from arising.

It would be around 1968, said a spokesman for the Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, before an exhaust device could be properly tested, approved and marketed to California drivers.

Brown Signs Slum School Finance Bill

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Brown went to a slum school in his hometown today to sign an education bill aiming to improve the educational lot of kids in 12 California poverty areas.

The signing of the measure by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, was at the John Swett Elementary School on Golden Gate Avenue in one of the city's poorer sections.

Some $10 million is provided for additional teachers, to cut class sizes to a 25-1 pupil-teacher ratio in the most overcrowded schools in kindergarten through grade six.

Another $35 million would come from the $275 million local school bond to be voted on June 7. It would pay for repairing rundown schools, building new classrooms or using portable classrooms in slum areas to trim class size.

And $4 million will pay for a program aimed at avoiding potential junior high school dropouts by special math and reading instruction.

Although the Watts riots of the last few months have spurred action on the program, Brown said "I am signing this bill not as a reward for rioters . . . I am signing it not simply to reduce tensions in California's pockets of poverty, though tensions must be reduced."

"I am signing it into law today for just one reason: Because it is right."

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Senators reject Assembly compromise on legislative conflict of interest, but offer their own plan. If accepted, adjournment of the 1966 session would quickly follow.

THE SENATE

Bills passed:

Exhaust — Requires used cars to have auto exhaust anti-pollution device after one manufacturer, rather than two, produces device which costs less than $65, costs less than $15 a year to maintain and has a 50,000-mile life expectancy; AB 98, Carrell, D-San Fernando.

Tax — Exempts personal property of educational television stations and noncommercial educational FM broadcast stations from property taxation; AB 150, Petris, D-Oakland.

Property — Authorizes board of supervisors in county with population of four million or more to reassess property in damaged or destroyed condition due to landslides; AB 182, Stevens, R-Los Angeles.

Resolutions adopted:

Education — Authorizes Joint Committee on Higher Education studying master plan to continue until the 1969 legislature convenes; ACR 56, Unruh, D-Inglewood.

Retirement — Requests Joint Legislative Retirement Committee to study management of State Teachers' Retirement System; ACR 54, Allen, D-Los Angeles.

Resources — Requests Resources Agency administrator to give highest priority to program for management of sport and food marine resources and report to 1967 legislature; SR 150, McAteer, D-San Francisco.

Resolution introduced:

Bridge — Requests board of directors of Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to delay taking action in approving construction of second deck on Golden Gate Bridge until Bay Area Transportation Study Commission has completed study; SCR 38, McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

THE ASSEMBLY

Concurred in Senate Amendments:

Courts — Allows transfer or postponement of civil trials when governor declares judicial emergency arising from mass arrests; AB 37, Song, D-Monterey Park.

Migrants — Requests Department of Education to make study and report to legislature in 1969 on educational problems involving children of migrant workers; ACR 30, Pattee, R-Salinas.

Resolution introduced:

Allen — Creates position of legislative historian and appoints Assemblyman Don A. Allen, D-Los Angeles, to post for life without compensation; ACR 63, Moretti, D-North Hollywood.

Winifred Baker In Campus Event

Marin County choral conductor Winifred Baker and two Marin County soloists, soprano Marian Marsh and baritone David Wade, will appear in the June 4 concert of the San Francisco Civic Chorale at San Francisco State College.

The free concert will begin at 8 p.m.

Novatan Gets 90 Days For Passing Checks

A 37-year-old Novato man, Charles Robert Coddington, was given a 90-day county jail term and placed on three years probation yesterday in Marin Superior Court for passing worthless checks.

Coddington, of 756 Diablo Avenue, had pleaded guilty April 28 to passing 10 bad checks ranging from $50 to $125 from March 11 to March 17 with intent to defraud Value World Inc., Larkspur.

Mill Valley Pupils Lack Push-Up Proficiency?

Mill Valley pupils appear to be weak in physical education activities involving the upper torso, it was reported Monday night to the school district board of trustees.

Steve Buffo, physical education director at Edna Maguire School, and Robert De Vilbiss, assistant principal of Park School, said this reference is to exercises such as push-ups, pull-ups and chinning.

Pupils excel in running and kicking, using the lower limbs, they reported.

What to do about it? The speakers suggested better coordination of the physical education programs throughout the elementary grades.

The school board accepted the $2,113 per year low bid of Speedspace Corp., Santa Rosa, for seven portable classrooms on a lease-purchase arrangement. Other bidders were Mobile Rentals at $2,460 and Modulux at $2,432.

The district now has seven such classrooms, three having been installed last week at Homestead, Marin Terrace and Tamalpais Valley schools to be used as libraries. The additional seven will be at Alto and Tamalpais Valley, two each; Marin Terrace and Strawberry Point schools, one each, and a special class for educationally handicapped children at a site not yet selected.

Mill Valley School District trustees also:

1. Set a special board meeting for 8 p.m., June 6, to discuss the philosophy of education and educational objectives with Dr. J. Cecil Parker, newly hired educational consultant.

2. Awarded contract to Kunst painting contractor, San Rafael, to paint the exterior of Old Mill School at $4,796.

3. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lawrence Nordstrom and granted leaves of absence or extensions of leaves to William J. Tasca, Mrs. Harvey Parker, and Kathryn Steeves.

4. Robert De Vilbiss, summer school principal, was authorized to hire 34 teachers, a secretary and a nurse for summer school.

Marijuana Suspect Pleads Not Guilty

Melkonian, of 424 West Blithedale Avenue, allegedly had a large cache of the weed in his home when arrested by state narcotics agents and Mill Valley police Jan. 16.

Paintings On Display

Several of the nearly 100 paintings of China Camp by San Francisco artist John Sackas will be exhibited June 9-12 and at his studio at 2733 Lombard Street, San Francisco, June 16-19.

Absolutely no-iron: Munsingwear's

It's really permanent press—a blend with a lot of body: 65% Dacron® polyester for wrinkle-free comfort and easy washability, 35% cotton for strength. It's a Koratron garment: machine washes, dries like new—absolutely no ironing is needed! The underarm gusset gives you plenty of room for a great golf swing; the saddle shoulders and distinctive embroidered penquin on the pocket add style. White, light tan, green, light blue, light olive, maize. S-M-L-XL.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Senator Morse, TV Actor To Help Drath On Stump

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon and Robert Vaughn, television's "Man From U.N.C.L.E.", will join Congressional aspirant Phillip Drath on Saturday for a day of campaigning in Marin and Sonoma Counties.

They will meet the press at 12:30 p.m. in the No Name Bar, 757 Bridgeway, Sausalito. From there, the trio will go to Santa Rosa for an early afternoon picnic and political rally at the Sonoma County Fairgrounds.

Drath seeks the Democratic nomination to Congress from the First District, which includes six counties from Marin to Del Norte.

Both Senator Morse and Drath are outspoken critics of the administration policy in Viet Nam.

STORER BACKERS

Attorney Thomas P. Boyd has been named San Rafael chairman for the Thomas T. Storer for Congress campaign.

Boyd, member of a pioneer Marin family, is a partner in the law firm of Nelson, Boyd Menary and MacDonald.

In San Geronimo Valley, realtor Grace Zanolini has been named co-chairman of the Valley Volunteers for Storer. Laura Nelson Baker of Lagunitas is secretary and publicity chairman. The steering committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Jean Bevans, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lebman, Adrien Stoutenburg, James R. Paullin, and Bill Stroud, all residents of the Valley.

Storer, an attorney and Marin County supervisor, seeks the Democratic nomination for Congress.

REAGAN DRIVE

Mrs. Wayne Campbel of Marinwood is directing a special "Dollar Drive for Reagan" throughout Marin, Paul R. Haerle, chairman of the Marin Reagan for Governor Committee, announced today.

The "dollar drive" is to raise last-minute campaign funds before the June 7 primary election, Haerle said.

TRUCK CAMPAIGN

During the final week of the supervisorial campaign, candidate Melvin Warenback of the First District plans to tour the entire district in a special "Question and Answer Truck."

"The best way I know to discuss the issues is to take my campaign to every neighborhood and every street. I want to hear first hand what they are thinking, what they are concerned about."

I'll answer any question—discuss any issue," Warenback said.

Several more coffee hours have been scheduled for Warenback, as follows: Home of Jack Brandon in Terra Linda on Thursday, of Leon Fisch in Glenwood on June 1, and of Richard V. Bettini in San Rafael on June 2.

UPTON COFFEE

Dr. William F. Upton, candidate for supervisor in the First District, is scheduled to speak at the following coffee hours: Home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Campion of San Rafael on June 1 at 10:30 a.m.; home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Welch of Glenwood on June 2 at 8:30 p.m.

Novato Dance Show

The "Spring Show" of the junior drama and ballet classes will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Novato Community House, sponsored by the Novato parks and recreation department.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

9:18 a.m., Marinwood—Electrical short circuit in automatic door at Lee Brothers Market on Marinwood Avenue, minor damage.

5:15 p.m., Mill Valley—Brush fire, caused by children playing with matches at 150 Greenwood Way.

8:14 p.m., San Rafael—C. K. Stumpf, 48 Dolores Street, burning in backyard without a permit and after permitted hours.

MUHAMMAD COMES TO CAIRO

A grinning Muhammad Ali, who boxes under the name of Cassius Clay, gets a welcoming buss from an unidentified Moselm at Cairo's Tarmas Airport today. The world heavyweight champion is visiting Egypt at the United Arab Republic's bid, and claims, "here, I feel at home."

State Aide Tells Timetable For Planning Highway 17

Alternate routes for Highway 17, to cross Marin from east to west, probably will be recommended by the State Division of Highways in July, with public hearings to start in September or October.

Marin County supervisors got this report yesterday from Alan S. Hart, district engineer for the division. Hart was one of several appearing before supervisors along with officials of the State Chamber of Commerce to tell the status of highway work in Marin.

Hart said major funds are expected in the 1968 fiscal year to purchase right of way for improvement of Highway 101 through San Rafael and over Puerto Suello Hill as far as the Marinwood interchange. Funds for right of way for the Highway 101 bypass of Novato are expected a year later.

Supervisors appeared more interested in Highway 17 than in any other project, and asked several questions.

Hart said after plans are adopted, "You'd be lucky to see completion within seven years."

Hart said that the division was doing no work on proposed improvement of Tiburon Boulevard from Reed Ranch Road to the end of the boulevard at this time.

The engineer would not say what routes would be proposed for Highway 17. He said his staff has not completed its work, but will soon.

Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Named Supervisors Byron W. Leydecker and Ernest N. Kettenhofen to meet with the county board of education on its request for control over all school funds. Part of the county schools budget is now controlled by supervisors.
2. Agreed to give further consideration at budget review sessions next month to Kettenhofen's proposal that the county tax rate be frozen around $2.20 to $2.25 per $100 assessed valuation. The recommended budget for next fiscal year calls for a tax rate of $2.39.
3. Approved a form to be sent special district governing boards that must be filled out and kept current if district funds are to clear the county treasury. The form calls for statements on term and oath of each officer. It will apply to 38 districts whose funds are handled by the county treasury.
4. Approved entry of new employees into the county retirement system after the first month or employment rather than waiting six months.
5. Authorized a change in ordinance allowing employees to be compensated for accrued vacation time at termination of employment.
6. Approved final map of the four-lot McDevitt subdivision at the end of Montecito Road near San Rafael.
7. Put off until next week consideration of plans by Borah Lawrence for seven clustered units on North San Pedro Road opposite Labrea Street.
8. Asked Park and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske to give further study on possible access to 8.5 acres owned by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. west of Merrydale Road. Joske said the land would be available for public recreation for only five years and the expense of building a road probably could not be justified.
9. Adopted a policy limiting loans at no interest to permanent road divisions at no more than one per cent of the total county road budget.
10. Adopted a resolution asking the California Public Utilities Commission to set tarrifs for television companies leasing Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. cables.
11. Called for bids June 28 on sale of $246,000 in bonds for the West Marin School District.
12. Hired Wanda N. Weiser at $463 a month as computer operator trainee, Judith Brown and Evelyn E. Taaffee at $362 each as key punch operators, all in the data processing department; Robert W. Barner at $536 as deputy sheriff; George Pantazes at $510 as maintenance man, and John L. Wells at $486 as assistant mechanic for the county garage.
13. Adjourned at 6:10 p.m.

Tools Reported Gone From Danish Home

Carpenters' tools and construction equipment worth more than $500 were reported stolen yesterday from a shack on a construction site near the Aldersly Danish Home, 326 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Charles Pallavicini, superintendent of Crown Development Co., San Rafael, who reported the loss to police, said entry was made by twisting off a padlock.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1966 — 29

GAME ADS BRING UNWANTED RESULT

By PAT PERRY

This is a game some people play. They drive from supermarket to supermarket, all day long, making no purchase but collecting little white squares of paper with silver discs in the center.

This is a game some other people play. They collect little white squares of paper with silver discs in the center every time they do their grocery shopping. They try to match up the numbers hidden beneath the discs on a bingo card, and if they can't, they insert an advertisement in the local newspaper seeking the missing numbers.

400 CALLS

And this is the game those people play — they answer the telephone 400 times in two days. And they still don't win the game.

The game is sponsored by Safeway Stores in the Bay Area, but under different names and guises it's being played all over America.

For the past few weeks the personal columns have been sprinkled with ads that read: "Safeway Bingo — will split. Need $1000: B-4, 0-2, 0-3, 0-5, N-4, U-4, S-1 . . . "

UNINTENDED RESULTS

A spot check of people who place these ads reveals that they certainly get results — but hardly the kind of results intended.

Mrs. Lydia Watkins of San Anselmo put such an ad in the Independent-Journal Friday. By Sunday she and her husband had answered the telephone "at least 400 times." She said the telephone rang every 20 seconds, often with long distance calls.

And did she get the missing numbers?

"No, everyone has the same numbers as we do, they all wanted the same ones I was advertising for. We got cured. We won't advertise again."

Mrs. Lou Burton of San Rafael cancelled her ad after she received a dozen calls "from people who all wanted me to give them the numbers I wanted." Mrs. Burton said the majority of callers were men.

Several other residents reported similar results: many calls, but no success.

INCOME TAX

It isn't illegal to play the game this way. John Philpotts, public relations spokesman for Safeway, said the supermarket chain "has no feeling either way. We give out the tickets and when someone presents us with the winning ticket we pay. It's as simple as that."

"But the person who collects the money is the one who pays the income tax," Philpotts added. "So if two people agree to split the winnings, they should be aware that the one who collects will be liable for the tax."

There's no way of determining how many, if any, of the winners collect the prize by collaborating in completing the bingo cards. Only the originators of the game know the odds, and they're a New York firm. Sponsoring stores don't know how many of the "key numbers" are given out, nor when.

But several people have tried to buck the odds. Philpotts reported. There have been instances of people driving to as many as 50 Safeway stores in one day, collecting bingo numbers at each in an effort to find the elusive ones, he said.

Since all the bingo cards are identical, the number of winners is determined by controlling the quantity of key numbers given out. And judging by the ads in Bay Area newspapers, the seven key numbers for the favorite $1,000 game are identical in all areas.

Here in Marin there hasn't been a $1,000 winner yet. Top prize so far has gone to Mrs. D. E. Boyer of Mill Valley, who collected $500.

The San Rafael store has had at least 70 winners, reported manager Sam Miller. The Novato store reported about 60.

The contest is now more than half way through its alloted 13 weeks. Spokesman Philpotts predicted that the number of newspaper ads will probably increase "Let's face it, by the time 13 weeks is up everyone will have everything but the key numbers. We reckon in excess of 10,000 winners. It's just a game; no one loses anything."

OPERATION MISERY

Bel Aire Sixth Graders' 'Minority' Gain Rights

Fifty Sixth grade pupils at Tiburon's Bel Aire School suffered first-hand the miseries of minority discrimination this week in an experimental program, but they quickly routed their oppressors after two days by petitioning for their constitutional rights.

"Operation Misery" deprived the sixth graders of all customary privileges. They couldn't speak until spoken to, sat in the rear of the school bus, stood at the end of lines, and weren't allowed to sit with friends.

Originally planned for a full week, "Operation Misery" was defeated yesterday afternoon when four students presented Principal John C. Fitch with a copy of the United States Constitution and a petition signed by their classmates.

Monday the students had a try at civil disobedience to win their cause. They held a sit-in in teacher Helen Kutchnik's class.

"They sat there and said they weren't going to stand up until they got their rights back. I told them go ahead, that wasn't going to get them back," she said.

Later 30 sixth graders picketed the principal's office.

Oppressors in the project were 96 fourth and fifth graders, who were only too pleased to cooperate.

Principal Fitch got the idea for "Operation Misery" from an article in National Elementary Principal magazine, which described a similar program in Colorado. He turned the idea over to sixth grade teachers Donald B. Cowan and Miss Kluchnik. They guided the students, but the children had to find their own correct solution to regain their constitutional rights.

Now the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will spend the rest of the week discussing constitutional rights.

Several parents criticized the project because they felt it interfered with their children's education. Fitch disagreed, saying its activity was mostly out of the classroom. "We discussed it with the children for three weeks before to prepare them," he said, "but maybe we didn't prepare some parents."

Two pupils were kept out of school this week to prevent their participation, he reported, and one other was forbidden to take part.

One mother, Mrs. Patricia W. Reynolds of 4A Circle Drive, Tiburon, said: "You can tell the children over and over about it, but until they experience discrimination they won't know. If my boy didn't like it—good! He shouldn't like it, but he sees the reason for it."

Cowan said a few fifth and fourth graders had to be disciplined "for being too zealous."

Citizens To Meet

The Sausalito Citizens Council board will meet this evening, having postponed last night's meeting one day to be able to discuss items taken up last night by the Sausalito City Council, treasurer Fred Sumner said today.

Inverness Yacht Club Hit For $300 Loot

Loss of over $300 cash in a burglary of Inverness Yacht Club, Inverness, was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Sausalitans Worry Over Barbecue Ban

Should a man have to telephone the fire department each time before he lights his portable barbecue on his patio and puts a hamburger on to grill?

Sausalito city councilmen were divided on the question last night and decided to hold over an ordinance amendment on burning regulations until Fire Chief Charles E. Masten could be present.

Councilman Earl F. Dunphy said the section regarding portable barbecues should be deleted. Councilman Jan Paul Dyk suggested a person might also be required to call when he ignites his fireplace.

"The purpose is to alert the fire department as to location of the smoke signals that will be coming from the hills," said Mayor Mel Wax.

The proposed amendment would change hours of burning from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., as currently applies, to 7 a.m. to 11 a.m., with all fires to be completely extinguished by noon.

It would make it unlawful to ignite an incinerator without a fire department permit.

"With our good weather," said Dyk, there are a lot of phone calls from people having hibachi pots. "Do we have to phone and keep the fire lines busy every time a hamburger steak goes on the grill?" he demanded.

Late Show Ends Without Decision On Cable Video

By BRUCE COLEMAN

After more than two hours discussion on three separate applications, the council:

1. Set a public hearing June 14 on a conditional use permit for Sausalito Community TV System to allow a 40-foot television tower with 15 antennas at the end of Curry Lane.

2. Took under submission an application from Cable TV of Marin for a city-wide franchise, asking further information regarding location of a proposed television tower and on the signal to be brought into the city.

Mrs. Ruth Sisson of 160 Curry Avenue told councilmen that, when one television tower blew down in a storm last year, two poles were erected without city permission and they are "consiberably higher." She said there are also added antennas and a catwalk.

"The time has come to stop this foolishness," she declared.

Ted Chanock, representing Sausalito Community TV System, said he bought the company in January, 1965, the tower blew down in August and was replaced in October. He said he applied for a conditional use permit when he learned it was necessary.

Chanock said both old and new towers were 40 feet high, but both Mrs. Joyce Remak and Mrs. Sisson insisted the new tower is twice the size of the old.

Many questions were asked of Robert D. Lewis, Cable TV of Marin owner, who responded saying he now serves about 20 customers in the Spencer Avenue area, that he has an antenna now near Cloud View Road which he will dismantle to erect a new one between Sausalito and Marin City.

Councilman Alexander R. Imlay said he is concerned about a proliferation of cable TV franchises in Sausalito. There are already three and two pending.

The City Council also encouraged Sausalito Boulevard residents to form an assessment district to improve their street.

It acknowledged a letter from Mrs. May Gabrielson who thanked the council and Rotary Club for honoring her late husband Carl, a former councilman, in naming a downtown area Carl Gabrielson Memorial Park.

First Cluster Gets Nod In Mill Valley

Mill Valley's first "cluster type" development—a planned community of 20 single family homes, 18 of them to be built upon steel platforms to prevent cutting hillsides — was recommended for approval last night by the city planning commission.

The Cochran-Hernandez 11.26 acre development on Edgewood Avenue, to be called Edgewood Park, will have 18 homes in a cluster and two separate from the group. It is to retain five acres as public open space, reported City Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission also:

1. Denied Manuel Gomez master plan approval for a 10-unit development, Cresta del Norte, north of Avon and Marlin avenues on the basis there was not a complete submittal.

2. Set a special meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday, to discuss revision of the zoning ordinance and zoning map.

3. Set for June 14 public hearing on an ordinance to permit the city to set official plan lines for streets and preserve rights of way of future roads.

4. Created a subcommittee of Donald Batchelder, Richard J. Hiatt and Napthali Knox to work with Bragdon on a preliminary development plan for the city's marina.

5. Recommended approval in principle of the Bear Creek Development Assn. planned community near Tennessee Valley.

Junior College Runoffs Slated For Top Post

In balloting yesterday and Monday, Miss Ryan received 360 votes; Glass, 171. Robert Rosenberg of Corte Madera was eliminated with a tally of 156. Runoff election will be held in the College Center tomorrow and Friday.

Michael Kawai of San Rafael, who ran unopposed for vice president, drew 645 votes. Myra Scott of Novato, unopposed for secretary, received 647 votes.

Fred Lockett of Fairfax defeated Marshall Gleisten of Kentfield for treasurer, 381 to 234. The Pequintas, headed by Richard Prather of San Rafael, ran unopposed for yell leaders and received 622 votes.

Three groups ran for song leaders and two were forced into a runoff election. They are the Would You Believe Six, headed by Lynda Beardsley of San Rafael, with 232 votes, and the Spinnakers, headed by Doris Deedy of Ross, with 366 votes. The Beech-Nuts, headed by Candace Calas of San Rafael, were eliminated with 121 votes.

All other offices were unopposed. Allan Ruser of San Francisco was elected rallies and assemblies commissioner with 618 votes; Joseph L. Johnston of Forest Knolls, spirit and athlectics commissioner with 608, and Richard Giovannoli of San Rafael, public relations commissioner with 619.

Utility Board Hires Former Secretary

Directors of Bolinas Beach Public Utilities District met in closed session with the district's attorney for an hour and a half last night, then hired Mrs. Dorothy Paul of Bolinas as district secretary at $175 a month.

She will replace Mrs. Jacque Gianola, who was fired by the directors May 17 after they learned she had made no deposits of district money since last Sept. 24.

The county auditor-controller's office was still working on an audit of the district books today.

Director Robert H. Baird said that Mrs. Paul had served as secretary for two years prior to being replaced by Mrs. Gianola over a year ago. Mrs. Paul resigned at that time due to an illness in her family.

Directors met with attorney Ronald D. Schenck. They confirmed the dismissal of Mrs. Gianola, Baird said.

Telephone Cable Reported Stolen

About 800 feet of copper wire was reported stolen from Western California Telephone Co. at a site about three miles north of Novato on Highway 101, sheriff's deputies said today.

Charles I. Thompson, construction foreman, said the wire was clipped after climbing a telephone pole. The lines were not in service, he said.

KUDOS FOR LOCAL ARCHITECT

Court Rejects Beating Claim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The state Supreme Court rejected yesterday a convict's claim that he was beaten by police until he admitted a fatal kidnaping.

Judges pointed out that witnesses said the convict, Robert Lokey, had declared he confessed because his "conscience could not let him sleep."

Lokey, 26, was sentenced to life without parole possibility for the kidnaping and fatal shooting in 1962 near Sacramento of Ian Shuttleton of Long Beach. Shuttleton was killed by a pistol shot while struggling with Lokey.

Supervisors Reluctantly Approve Social Welfare Revisions Study

A two-month study expected to drastically change Marin County's public welfare program gained approval of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

But the unanimous action came only after several supervisors grumbled that the study, to be state-financed, would probably lock the county into a two-year administrative demonstration program.

The board balked at increasing the salaries of the two social workers in charge of the study, saying that, if the new responsibility merited the pay, and the idea was such a good one, pay raises could come when the two-year program goes into effect on July 1.

The change would do four main things:

1. Take a large number of clerical jobs away from social workers and give them to clerks, who are paid much less.

2. Let a person applying for aid fill out a form on his own financial situation and then assume the form has been filled out honestly, with the exception that a certain percentage of applicants will be closely checked.

3. Eliminate what Social Service Director Betty L. Presley called "ritualistic" jobs of a welfare worker. For instance, a welfare worker must make a home visit on each case once every three months, whether it is needed or not. The effect is that every case gets one visit, but the worker never has time to make more visits where they might do some good.

4. Let social workers combine as a team on individual cases, sometimes also including other county departments or even private welfare services in the casework.

Some of these practices are already followed in old-age assistance cases.

The two-month study will cost $6,417, all of which will be paid by the state. Miss Presley said she expected the state would also pay all the cost of the two-year trial period when cases would be administered under the new system.

The complaints came from Chairman Byron W. Leydecker and Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen. Leydecker said he was afraid the county would be tied into the new program and then learn, belatedly, that the local taxpayer, after all, would have to pay.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he felt, if the social workers had more time to do social work and spent less time on clerical chores, some welfare recipients would return to productive life. Leydecker doubted it.

Kettenhofen especially opposed the pay increase for the two workers, saying that, if the two-year program is cut out at budget time, it would be difficult to make the workers return to their old pay.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer asked if the change would mean fewer case workers would be needed. Miss Presley said that depends on welfare law and caseload changes.

Jess France Jr. Seeks Divorce

Jess J. France Jr., 45, resident manager of York Securities Corp. in San Rafael, who wed his second wife last Oct. 8, has sued her in Marin Superior Court for divorce.

He charges the former Mary Bage, 43, of Woodacre, with extreme cruelty.

Private Donors Over Goal For Mental Clinic

A total of $200,083 in private contributions appeared available today toward construction of the Marin County mental health clinic at Marin General Hospital, but some of the money may go toward improvement of the hospital's parking lot.

One donor has offered $75,000 toward the facility, County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said, with a proviso that it should be used for the parking lot if sufficient funds are collected for the center.

Another has put the same stipulation on a $30,000 donation. Still $11,000 more in the total figure has not yet been firmly committed, Kettenhofen said.

The intent of the drive was to raise $150,000 in private contributions toward the $1.35 million facility. The county and the hospital would each put up another $150,000, the state government $450,000, and the federal government $450,000.

Oregon Voters Back Johnson Viet Nam Policy

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Robert B. Duncan, President Johnson's champion in an Oregon campaign focused on Viet Nam, captured that state's Democratic Senate nomination amid Republican talk of nationwide voter uneasiness about the Asian war.

In Duncan's runaway victory yesterday over peace candidate Howard Morgan, advocates of the U.S. stance in South Viet Nam could find at least apartial answer to the Republican report.

Duncan, a two-term congressman, and Morgan, a former member of the Federal Power Commission, stood together on domestic matters. They argued only about Viet Nam. Morgan called U.S. involvement there a tragic error; Duncan said it is necessary.

Voters rendered their judgments in primary elections in Florida, Oklahoma and Kentucky, too. The most startling decision in the balloting was Miami Mayor Robert King High's rematch triumph over Florida Gov. Haydon Burns.

High's upset climaxed a bitter runoff campaign which produced Burns charges that the short, red-haired mayor was the candidate of a Negro bloc, and a protege of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

In other major races:

ROBERT DUNCAN
Supported war effort

ROBERT KING HIGH
Upsets Florida governor

PRESTON MOORE
Wins in Oklahoma

Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky won renomination without serious opposition. John Young Brown, a college classmate, former congressman and Senate rival 20 years ago, easily won the Democratic Senate nomination.

Preston Moore of Oklahoma City, former national American Legion commander blunted the comeback bid of former Gov. Raymond Gary and won the Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma. State Sen. Dewey Bartlett of Tulsa won the Republican gubernatorial nomination over John N. Happy Camp.

Republican Pat J. Patterson outdistanced Don Kinkaid, who had solicited John Birch Society backing, for the no mination to challenge Oklahoma's Democratic Sen. Fred R. Harris in November.

Former Rep. M. G. Snyder of Kentucky was nominated for the House from the newly designed 4th District, topping two rivals in a race that renewed the Republican split of 1964. Snyder, a conservative, fought for the cause of Barry Goldwater two years ago and lost his House seat in the Democratic landslide.

Secretary of State Tom McCall won the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Oregon; State Treasurer Robert Straub was the Democratic choice.

In Oregon, Duncan will face Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield in November for the Senate seat now held by retiring Maurine Neuberger.

In that campaign, Viet Nam again is likely to be a dominant theme. Hatfield, who easily outdistanced three little-known rivals for the GOP nomination, has criticized Johnson's Asian policy.

In an Oregon sidelight, former Rep. Charles Porter—critical of the administration stand in Viet Nam—led Dist. Atty. William Frye, a Johnson supporter, for the Democratic nomination to succeed Duncan.

Today is Wednesday, May 25, the 145th day of 1966 with 220 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn; the evening star is Jupiter.

American poet and essayist, Ralph Waldo Emerson, was born on this day in 1803.

On this day in history:

In 1935, Babe Ruth hit his last home run, the 714th of his career, in Pittsburgh where his team, the Boston Braves, were entered Shanghai as Nationalist troops abandoned defense of the city.

In 1964, the Supreme Court unanimously held unconstitutional the closing of public schools to avoid desegregation in Prince Edward County, Va.

A Thought for the Day — British novelist Joseph Conrad said: "A man's real life is that accorded to him in the thoughts of other men by reason of respect or natural love."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

To Open Door To Partner's Hand, Don't Act Like A Dog, Be A Man

In a certain kind of hand bridge players remind me of a dog that tries to open a door by jumping at it.

Opening lead — ♡ K

West opened the king of hearts, and East had to win with the ace. East promptly returned the king of diamonds. Mind you, East didn't bark or yelp, but his play was very canine.

REFUSES DIAMOND

South refused the first diamond trick but took the next. Declarer drew three rounds of trumps and led the nine of clubs for a finesse.

East could take the king of clubs, but that was the end of the defense.

South was sure to regain the lead no matter what East returned. Declarer then got rid of his hearts on dummy's good clubs.

NEEDS ENTRY

East should see that he can take a heart, a diamond and a club and that he must get to his partner's hand for the other heart trick to defeat the contract. How should East open a door to his partner's hand?

LIKE A MAN

East takes the king of clubs and leads another low diamond. West thus gains the lead with his 10 of diamonds and cashes a heart trick to defeat the contract. "Played like a man!" West would then say to his partner.

What if South has the ace-10 of diamonds instead of the ace-three?

Then South cannot be beaten, and East's defense gives up 30 points for an overtrick. This is a small price to pay for a chance to defeat the contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ 6 3 2
◇ K Q J 4 2
♣ K 7 4 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one diamond. The hand is not quite worth a jump to two diamonds. Change the king of diamonds to the ace, and you might make the jump response.

Report Card Halt Asked In Kentfield

A committee of parents, teachers, administrators and a trustee in Kentfield School District Monday night reported substantial agreement that report cards should be abandoned in favor of parent-teacher conferences.

The committee, which has been meeting for four months, said it is working on a plan for doing away with the report cards. Instead, parents and teachers would meet at regular intervals to discuss the child's progress. During the conference the parent would fill out a check list on the child's development to take home for his records.

The committee is made up of 11 parents, six teachers, one member of the school board and some administrators, according to Supt. Howard C. Harmon. It should have a definite plan for school board consideration by June 27, he said.

The board awarded five per cent raises, at a cost of $5,380 to the district, to the administrative staff. Harmon's salary, for example, will rise from $18,550 to $19,500.

Kentfield School District Trustees also:

1. Authorized Harmon to hire a landscape architect to prepare plans for landscaping at Adaline E. Kent School.
2. Authorized Harmon to seek informal bids for the district's annual audit.
3. Accepted the resignation of Mary Ann Willmarth, arts and crafts teacher at Kent School.
4. Hired Mrs. Lydia Deinies as a district Spanish teacher at $5,700 annually, and Mrs. Lorraine Valandra to teach fifth grade at Greenbrae School for $8,664.
5. Accepted as complete the addition of a storage room and shop area at Kent School.

Ex-Convict To Face Trial For Shooting

The ex-convict, of 107 Drake Avenue, Marin City, is accused of firing a shotgun blast May 2 striking Leroy Clark, 31, of 121 Drake Avenue, Marin City. Clark recovered.

Speech Therapy Class Signup Dates Slated

Deadline for registration for the annual six-week summer speech therapy session sponsored by the Easter Seal Society is June 3.

Children may be enrolled for the June 20 through July 29 session for a variety of speech problems, including pre-kindergarten pupils. Director of the speech center, at 629 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, is Mrs. Helen Daggett.

CREAMPUFF
'57 BUICK
$345

Here's a rare car that we get once in a great while. A one owner 4 Dr. hardtop Special that we sold new in 1957 and just took in trade on another new Buick.
Original, local couple have given this clean, dependable car a lot of loving care. We're the only one to ever touch it mechanically. Artic white with absolutely brand new appearing upholstery. Power steering, automatic radio and heater.
Cleanest older car in town. You won't believe it's 9 years old when you look at it.

NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT HARVARD-PRINCETON AVENUE IMPROVEMENT PROJECT
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 5th day of October, 1965, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention No. 8693A as subsequently amended, wherein it did declare that in its opinion the public interest and convenience required, and that it was the intention of said Board to order the following acquisitions and improvements, to-wit:
(a) The acquisition of property necessary for the widening of Princeton Avenue from California Avenue to a point 158 feet, more or less, northerly of that 10 foot lane between Lot 1 of Block 214 and Lot 1 of Block 217 as shown on the Map of Marin Terrace, Subdivision 2, Marin Heights, recorded in Book 4 of Maps at page 44, Marin County records, and Harvard Avenue from California Avenue to a point 136 feet, more or less, westerly of that 10 foot lane between Lots 46 and 47 of Block 207, as shown on said map, to a uniform width of 40 feet and the improvement thereof by grading, removing trees, bushes and existing structures and the construction therein of base, pavement, curbs, gutters, retaining walls and surface and subsurface storm drainage facilities where necessary, and the modification and relocation of utility lines where necessary.
(b) The acquisition of all lands and easements and the performing of all work auxiliary to any of the above necessary to complete the same.
All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Board of Directors of said County and on file for public inspection in the office of the County Clerk.
Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.
Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the County Clerk, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. Said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district;
The estimated cost of said project is $72,638.86.
Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided by Division 7 of the Streets and Highways Code, the Improvement Act of 1911, and the last installment of such bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be made payable to bearer and provide a premium of 5% of the unmatured principal thereof on call.
The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention, as amended, are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work, and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.
Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.
Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the County Clerk.
Notice is further given that the Director of Public Works pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, as amended, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 17th day of May, 1966, file with the County Clerk of said County his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, as amended.
NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Tuesday, the 21st day of June, 1966, at the hour of 3:00 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Board, Supervisors Chambers, Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Board when and where it will consider and finally determine whether the public interest and convenience require said acquisitions and improvements, and when it will consider and determine whether the owners of a majority of the area of the property in the proposed assessment district have protested against said acquisitions and improvements or any portion thereof, and when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, as amended, and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions, and that any person interested may file a written protest with the County Clerk at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.
Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention, as amended, and said report, including plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs, diagram and assessment, and maps and descriptions for a more particular description of said acquisitions and improvements to be had and done, and for further particulars, all on file in the office of the County Clerk.

NOTICE OF SALE OF PROPERTY DELINQUENT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF ASSESSMENT BOND NO. 65 SERIES 6058 MARINERO IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT, ISSUED FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN MARIN COUNTY

State of California, default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons, 1/2/66, Pr. $474.24; 7/2/65, Int. $56.91; 1/2/66, Int. $56.91; and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, State of California, proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond. Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 3rd day of June, 1966, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, as more particularly described, to-wit: Lot No. 17, as shown on the map of Red Hill Unit No. 2, which said map was filed in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, on the 7th day of September, 1960, in Book 10 of Maps at page 74. The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof $474.24, due on account of interest $113.82; due on account of penalties $38.68; Total amount due on said bond $626.74.

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publication made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment. Bond may be reinstated upon payment of amounts due, interest, penalties, and fees, in the manner provided by law.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due, accruing up to the date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and $1.00 for the issuance of certificate of sale.

The Independent-Journal is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

Dated: May 18, 1966.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New Remedy Promises Hope For Sufferers From Gout

VAN DELLEN

Good reports continue to appear on allopurinol in the treatment of gout. We hope that the new remedy will be available in this country by the time this article appears. In many patients with severe gout, the level of uric acid in the blood fell within two to three days and was within normal range seven to 10 days after starting the drug.

In gout the body is unable to handle certain protein-type foods which are high in purine. As a result, one of the waste products from this protein (uric acid) accumulates in the bloodstream and body tissues. The uric acid prefers joints, especially those at the base of the big toe which becomes swollen, red, and extremely tender to the touch.

WE HAVE medications that relieve pain (colchicine) and drugs such as probenecid that stimulate the kidneys to filter out and hasten removal of uric acid from the blood. The alternative is to avoid foods that are rich in purines such as meats, fish, poultry, sweetbreads, liver, whole wheat cereals, beans, asparagus, rich cocoa.

Allopurinol has a unique action in that it blocks the final stage of the manufacture of uric acid in the body. In other words, it reduces the formation of the chemical from its immediate precursors, hypoxanthine and xanthine. The latter two are harmless and eliminated by the kidneys.

The drug relieves distress in most of the victims. Now and then other products are needed to bring complete relief. In some instances episodes of acute gouty arthritis continue for several weeks but gradually lessen in frequency, become milder, and more responsive to the other drugs.

THOSE WITH long standing gouty arthritis experienced less disability. Deposits of urate crystals under the skin (tophi) became smaller or disappeared. In addition, the danger of kidney-stone formation from these crystals ceased. To date the drug has been well tolerated and side reactions have been minimal. Some have used the product for more than two years.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

Let's blow the whistle on accidents this Memorial Day Weekend

Don't get carried away by your car–drive it with care and consideration. Remember, a car is powerless until you put on the power. Its speed is YOUR speed and its control is in YOUR hands. Which means that you can control and eliminate accidents by safe and sane driving. To further help you on the highway, the California Highway Patrol will be out in force this weekend. They'll police the road; you police your car. A great combination for a safer, happier holiday!

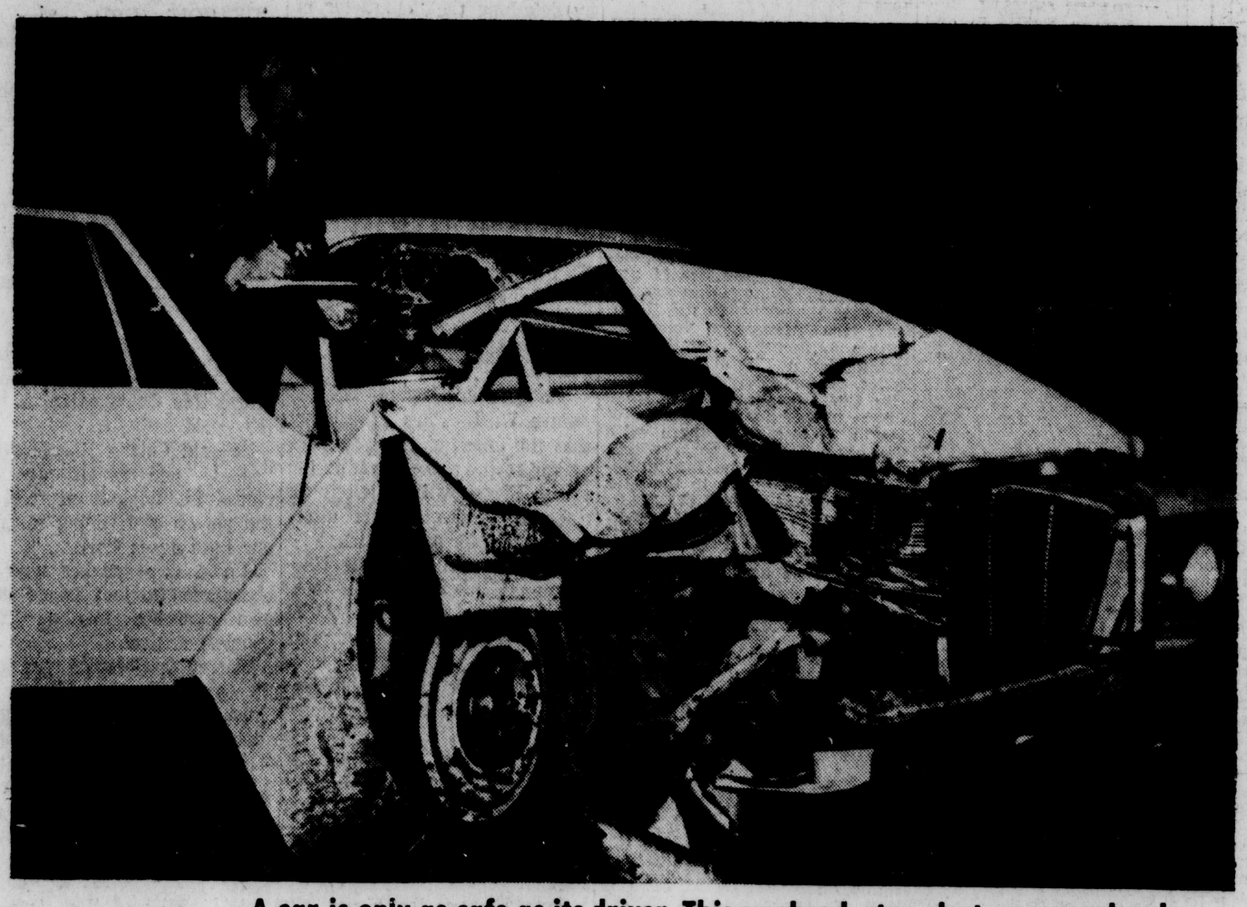
Presented in the public interest by the Independent Journal

A wreck like this occurs in seconds, but the affects can wreck lives, families and homes forever. If you think you're a good driver, prove it!



A car is oniy as safe as its driver. This weekend, stay alert; use your head, not the throttle; and give the other fellow the courtesy you expect him to give you.

TELEVISION REVIEW

'Critics' Consensus' Makes Some Choices

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —CBS-TV's "Death of a Salesman" has been named the finest entertainment program of the past television season by "Critics' Consensus," a newly-formed poll of 12 video columnists.

Actually, the poll has no predetermined categories, and awards are not intended as "bests" for just this season, but as outstanding achievement in any year. But "Death of a Salesman" was the only entertainment endeavor to get at least the required two-thirds of the votes, and therefore was the clear choice for the 1965-66 season.

The Arthur Miller drama, which starred Lee J. Cobb and Mildred Dunnock, received 11 votes. The Barbra Streisand special, "Color Me Barbra," was next among entertainment shows with seven votes, one shy of the two-thirds majority. No network series was a winner.

The "Critics' Consensus" was made up of television columnists in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Memphis, Houston, Seattle, St. Louis, Detroit, Miami, Washington, D.C., and Hollywood. This writer is a member.

There were only four award winners under the two-thirds system, with the period considered being from mid-May of 1965 to mid-May of 1966. In addition to "Death of a Salesman," those cited were Fred Friendly, former president of CBS News; the NBC-TV network, and the Xerox Corp.

I voted for "Death of a Salesman" and Mr. Friendly, but not for the two other award winners. In the case of the Xerox Corp., which also won an Emmy citation Sunday night, I felt that although the company has earned recognition by its approach, it was somehow wrong to cite a sponsor for doing what it ought to be doing in the first place. Since the Xerox Corp. got 11 of the "Critics' Consensus" votes—out of 12—I was somewhat in the minority in this view.

In the case of NBC-TV, I found myself unable to vote for anything as vast and complex as an entire network, even though there were some specific citations within the overall citation. For a network —any network—puts on so many things and does so many things, bad as well as good, that I could not bring myself to give what could be construed as an overall endorsement.

Mr. Friendly received nine votes, the result of getting 29 separate citations for seven nominated reasons. The reasons were:

For conceiving the national audience-involvement test of CBS-TV, about such subjects as driving, citizenship and health.

For pioneering television debate on Viet Nam.

For dedication to high standards of television journalism.

For courageous news documentaries.

For refusing to recognize or take part in the Emmy awards.

—For resigning to protect CBS' failure to furnish complete live coverage of the Senate hearings on Viet Nam.

While I voted for Mr. Friendly for most of the reasons above, his resignation was not one of them . . . agreeing with his protest, I personally wish that after making his point as forcefully as he did, he could have found some way to stay on his job, and continue to be a maverick to the hucksters who were just as happy to be rid of him.

Audio Gear Stolen

Mrs. John O'Hara reported to Mill Valley police at 7:30 a.m. today that burglars entered her home at 141 Del Casa Drive, apparently through the front door, and stole a tape recorder, two speakers and a tuner valued at a total of $890.

Gasoline Tank Taken

A plastic motorcycle gasoline tank valued at $50 was taken from a workbench in his garage between May 11 and yesterday, Loren Richard Williams, 27, of 1400 Chase Street, Novato, reported to Novato police.

The standard work-week in Czechoslovakia is 46 hours.

Ark Dwellers Again Protest Over Eviction

County supervisors yesterday heard further complaints from Corte Madera Creek ark dwellers who asked why they had received lease cancellation notices from the State Lands Commission last week.

The ark dwellers left a meeting of supervisors last week understanding that the 60-day notices would not be issued. These are owners of 15 arks on the west side of Bon Air Bridge who would not have to move for a year if something could be done to continue sewer service.

The downstream phase of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project, to begin in July, will take out the service for the 15 arks.

Supervisors, some of whom also thought the state notices would be delayed, asked that the state give its position on the eviction notices in writing.

"The state has varied back and forth," said Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks.

Public Work Director Donald R. Frost reported an alternate sewer line would cost at least $10,000, not $17,000 as estimated last week.

Supervisors Decry Small School Bonds

Small bond offerings made by school districts came under sharp attack from county supervisors yesterday after they opened four bids on $97,000 in bonds of the San Anselmo School District.

Lowest bid was 4.1211 per cent submitted by Dean Witter and Co., well above the recent 3.9 per cent offered for a larger San Rafael Elementary School District bond sale.

"This is just pure folly," Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker declared. "It's fiscal irresponsibility."

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said the small issues are often caused by the need for districts to bond to capacity to get advantageous state loans and other aids. Supervisors agreed these regulations should be studied and changes recommended.

Mitchell said that situation also appeared as an argument for district consolidations.

Other bidders were Bank of America at 4.1722 per cent, Bateman, Eichler, Hill and Richards at 4.1989 per cent, and Tannen, Winslow and Co. at 4.350909 per cent.

The bids were referred to Mitchell for recommendation on award of contract.

Cycle-Car Crash Hurts Cyclist

A Fairfax man was injured in a motorcycle-car collision at 133 Tamalpais Avenue, Fairfax, at 7:58 a.m. yesterday.

C. J. Glover of 171 Tamalpais Road, Fairfax, who was driving the car, was cited by Fairfax police for driving left of the center line.

Leach Gains U.S. Open Golf Sectional

Ray Leach, the golfing teenager from Novato, and Bob Ellsworth, assistant pro at San Geronimo National golf course, finished among the top 20 yesterday to qualify for the U.S. Open sectionals, stepping stone to the big one in golf.

Leach, the 15-year-old Novato High School student, followed his opening round of 74 with a 76 yesterday at Peninsula Golf and Country Club in San Mateo, while Ellsworth carded a 74 yesterday at Burlingame Country Club in Hillsborough to go along with his 76 the day before.

The 150 totals jut the two Marin County golfers into the sectional tournament scheduled June 7 at San Francisco Golf Club. The U.S. Open itself will be June 16-19 at the Olympic Country Club in San Francisco.

Making it to the sectionals is a feat in itself. Out of 2,437 golfers —pros and amateurs alike—the national field has been pared down to 449. Leach and Ellsworth are among the 449. Those survivors compete in 13 sectionals around the country. The field will then be cut to 123 golfers who will join the 28 players exempt from the Open qualifications.

The 20 qualifiers from the Bay Area "local" competition will join nine from Sacramento, five from Fresno and six from Hawaii, along with locally exempt Harvie Ward and Kyle Burton, in the sectional battle for seven U.S. Open spots.

Six other Marin County golfers were ousted in yesterday's qualfying round. It took 150 or better to make it, with four of eight golfers who scored 151 playing off for the final spots.

The six were: Ron Cerrudo of Mill Valley, 79-74—153; Bob Finn Marin Country Club pro, 77-79—156; LeRoy Silva, Meadow Club pro, 77-81—158, and Marin Country Club amateurs Kai Thomsen, 80-78—158, and George Greenwood, 82-83—165. Marin Country Club assistant pro Mike Rawitser didn't finish the tournament after scoring an 88 in the first round.

MARIN'S GOLF SCENE

MRS. JOHN SAUTER defeated Mrs. Charles Fleishman on the 20th hole and Mrs. Harold Suhrke defeated Mrs. George Fraser 1 up in the first flight of yesterday's handicap tournamet third round play at the Peacock Gap Women's Golf Club.

In the Peacock Flight, Mrs. William Cardinal downed Mrs. Richard Clarke and Mrs. Donald Fox defeated Mrs. Martin Bramonte, each match ending 5 and 4.

Mrs. Richard DeKay shot a 91-25—66 to win the club trophy at Peacock Gap in medal play competition and Mrs. A. S. Cole won the putting contest with a low of 30 putts.

Class winners:

Class B—Mrs. Richard DeKay, 91-25-66; Mrs. Charles Fleishman, 93-24-69; Mrs. John Sauter, 92-23-69.

Class C—Mrs. David Gates, 98-30-68; Mrs. Norman Bourke, 106-30-76; Mrs. Ted Weiman, 108-31-77.

SEVEN MEMBERS of the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club "beat the pro" yesterday and two others tied.

Indian Valley pro Jeff McAndrew shot a scratch 74, three over par, and the gals tried to match it on a handicap basis. Beating the 74 with net scores were Mesdames Jerry Evans, 68; Lew Baysinger, 68; Roy Enos, 71; Thomas Hardcastle, 71; John Gaylord, 72; Homer Sisk, 72; and Rigby Wilkie, 72.

Tying his 74 were Mesdames Norman Herr and Anthony Bacich.

MRS. BO JOHNSON will be going against Mrs. Barry Marsh next Tuesday in the Championship Flight finals of the Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club championship tournament.

Results of yesterday's second round action:

SUDDEN DEATH CLIMAX IN MARIN NET LEAGUE

The Marin Athletic League tennis championship will be on the line today when San Rafael High School's Tony Lugo takes on Tamalpais netter Joe Freidman.

Their marathon singles match went four hours yesterday on the San Rafael court before it was halted because of darkness. At the time, Tam and San Rafael were tied at 2-2, Lugo and Freidman were deadlocked at one set each, and were tied 3-3 in the third set. Joe won the first set 6-4 and Lugo outlasted him in the second one, 14-12.

The two will start where they left off yesterday, with Freidman serving. It will be at 3:30 p.m. on the San Rafael courts.

Since San Rafael and Tam are tied for the league lead at 9-1 with final matches scheduled tomorrow, the winner of the match will clinch at least a tie for the crown.

3-Way Title Tie—Marin Catholic Wins 'Flip'

'Cats Gain Tourney; Novato Whips S.R.

Three-sport all-star John Dolinsek pitched a three-hitter yesterday as his Novato High School Hornets walloped San Rafael 6-1 at Novato in their showdown for the Marin Athletic League baseball co-championship.

Both teams had 7-4 won-lost records going into the final day of action, so Novato woundup as co-champ with Tamalpais and Marin Catholic, each with an 8-4 record.

Last night, in a wild scene at Greenbrae, the Marin Catholic Wildcats won a flip of the coin to represent the league in the Redwood Invitational Tournament of Champions starting tomorrow at San Rafael. See story on page 46. Also, see "Along Marin's Sports Trail."

Dolinsek, a pitcher-first baseman for the Hornet horsehiders who also won recognition in football and basketball, not only struck out 10 Bulldogs yesterday but unoffficially captured the MAL batting championship with two hits in two at-bats, increasing his season average to .412.

DOLINSEK DOUBLES

With the Hornets leading 2-1 in the fift anr two out, Dolinsek doubled to right and scored on a single by Tom Owens who went to second on a throwing error to the plate. Owens then advanced to third on a passed ball and scored when Gary Dinkel ripped a single, making it 4-1.

Starting a two-run sixth inning rally, Hornet John Youngs singled and went to second on another throwing error. Youngs moved to third and Ev Fritz reached first on a fielder's choice, then Youngs was waved home when Bulldog pitcher Joe Cunningham balked. Fritz, now on second, scored on Frank Perachiotti's single.

Gilliam Star For Tam's Co-Champs

Tamalpais High School's baseball team clinched one-third of the Marin Athletic League championship yesterday, nipping the hard-luck Drake Pirates, 3-1, on the Tam field.

Drake took a 1-0 lead in the first inning, but Tam's Ron Gilliam, the winninges hurler in the league, blanked the Pirates the rest of the way and boosted his win-loss record to 7-1, striking out 13 and yielding just 3 safeties en route to his sixth consecutive victory.

Little Miracle At Greenbrae: The JFK Coin That Twinkled...

Three coins in the men's room,
Each one seeking happiness,
Thrown by three hopeful glovers,
Which one did the Padre bless...

Pardon me while I sing on the job today, but all us mackeral snappers are deliriously happy and proud over the success of the Marin Catholic High School baseball team.

Heavenly days and holy mackeral, those Fightin' Wildcats not only tied for the Marin Athletic League championship, but last night they won a flip of the coin to determine which of the three co-champions would represent the league in the Tournament of Champions.

THE SOLEMN rites were conducted in the Marin Catholic gymnasium, but such a crowd jammed the court that League Commissioner George Corson moved the three baseball coaches into a back room for a private contest.

Each of the coaches—Gary Hughes of Marin, Bob Aune of Novato and Al Ahlsten of Tam—was given a Kennedy half-dollar and Marin Catholic Director of Athletics Rev. Donald Kohles assured the gathering that ALL three coins were blessed. (But we know, we know, don't we, Father?)

Tournament of Champions Director Al Endriss piously suggested to Father Kohles that the results be signalled to the waiting crowd by black and white holy smoke sent through a chimney but the Father told him to pipe down.

ANYWAY, IT was too late because the jubilant Hughes exploded out of the room, into the gymnasium where he screamed the results to the congregation, touching off the wildest scene this side of St. Peter's Square.

Oh, sure, there were some soreheads who growled that Marin Catholic had the "home court advantage" in the coin-tossing contest, or that "somebody up there likes them," but the general feeling around the league was, "Good for them. They can use a little luck."

INDEED THEY can, for this marks only Marin Catholic's second major varsity sports championship in the eight-year history of the Marin League—the only previous one also in baseball back around 1961.

I don't have records before me, but I don't think

Walking Wounded Giants Limp Past Bobbling Bucs

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gaylord Perry is the newest successful outpatient on the San Francisco Giants, now the undisputed challenger to the Mayo Clinic nine in case histories.

The right-hander hobbled out to the mound last night with a pulled groin muscle, pitched a strong seven innings and triggered both rallies with inning-opening singles as the Giants beat Pittsburgh, 5-2.

The victory, during which Giant third baseman Jim Hart re-injured his right shoulder getting away from an inside pitch, kept the Giants atop the National League by 3½ games over Houston.

In the seventh inning with the score tied 2-2, Perry singled and moved to second on a sacrifice by Tito Fuentes. This brought Manager Herman Franks, R.N., onto the field for a consultation.

"I didn't want to leave," said Perry later. "'Can you run good?' he asked me. I couldn't run very well."

Perry had jammed his left ankle sliding into second in the Giants' two-run third inning. He left the field looking like the end man in the Spirit of '76 and soon was a winner for the sixth time in seven decisions.

"He (Franks) made the right decision," agreed Perry, who was relieved by Frank Linzy.

This made a loser of Vern Law (1-2), ordained an Elder of the Church of Latter Day Saints. The Mormon Tabernacle Choir came to Candlestick Park from Salt Lake City to cheer Law.

"I've been working on my hitting," said Perry, who gave up seven hits and struck out seven. "I've got to get a raise somehow.

"I pulled the groin muscle (May 6) in St. Louis," Perry told a small group of medical historians. "They have a high mound there."

After the Pirates touched Perry for a run in the third inning, the Giants came back with two quick runs which were little of their own doing.

Perry opened with a single and was safe at second when Law threw Fuentes' bunt into center. Shortstop Gene Alley then deprived the Pirates of a doubleplay with a high relay throw to first.

Mays, who hadn't batted in a run since May 13, got Perry home with a hard infield smash that turned into a force out. But first baseman Donn Clendenon dropped McCovey's high pop for an error and Mays scored on Hart's subsequent single.

Bob Scanlon Wins Nod On Technicality

SAN JOSE (AP) — Officials stopped a scheduled 10-round fight between Luis Molina of San Jose and Bobby Scanlon of San Francisco last night and awarded Scanlon a technical decision after the ninth round.

Scanlon, 139, a former Fairfax resident, was ahead on all three cards. Bybee and judge Jack Silver scored the fight 7-1 for Scanlon and judge Fred Apostoli scored it 6-2.

Under California rules, the fighter ahead on points is awarded the decision if he is unable to continue because of a butt. Molina's trainer, however, contended Molina, 139½, should have been awarded a technical knockout.

About 1,300 fans paid $4,730 to see the bout.

Terra Linda Ace Hurls 1-Hitter

Junior righthander Dan Corona struck out 12 and allowed only one hit in pitching the Terra Linda junior varsity baseball team to a 6-0 triumph over Redwood in the teams' final 1966 game, played at Terra Linda yesterday.

Corona faced only 22 batters in the seven-inning game, as the man who got the lone hit in the fifth inning was the only base runner. He didn't get past first base.

Redwood Tourney Of Champs Opens Tomorrow

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Students and backers of Marin Catholic High School were still high on a cloud today after a flip of a coin put the Marin Athletic League co-champs into the Redwood Baseball Tournament of Champions which begins tomorrow.

Marin Catholic, sharing a piece of the MAL baseball title with Novato and Tamalpais high schools after yesterday's final games, won the coin flipping ceremonies in its own gym yesterday evening, earning the right to compete in the San Rafael Tournament.

The Oakland Athletic League also completed its season yesterday, with Skyline winning the championship and a berth in the Baseball TOC. Marin Catholic will be bringing a record of 12 wins, 11 losses and 1 tie into the tourney and Skyline boasts a 16-4 mark.

There is still one berth undecided on the eve of the tournament openers. El Cerrito and San Leandro, champs of the Alameda Athletic League, playoff today, the winner coming to San Rafael to fill the 10-team tournament.

There will be three games tomorrow, three Friday and seven Saturday, the championship game scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. All but one of the games will be played at Albert Field. With the big load Saturday, a 2 p.m. consolation game will be played at College of Marin's diamond in Kentfield. But that still leaves six games Saturday for Albert Park, and that should be enough to quench the prep baseball thirst of any baseball fan.

In tomorrow's opening round schedule, it's Arroyo (12-6) of the Hayward Athletic League vs. St. Elizabeth's (23-5) of the Catholic Athletic League, 4 p.m.; Napa (18-5-2) of the North Bay League vs. Mount Diablo (14-6) of the Diablo Valey Athletic League, 6 p.m., and Marin Catholic (12-11-1) of the MAL vs. Westmoor (10-10) of the North Peninsula Athletic League, 8 p.m.

The winners of the first two Thursday games will meet in Friday's opening game at 4 p.m., followed by Skyline (16-4) of the Oakland Athletic League vs. Lincoln (17-5) of the Mount Hamilton Athletic League, 6 p.m., and either El Cerrito or San Leandro vs. Monterey (18-6) of the Monterey Bay League, 8 p.m.

Saturday's games start at 10 a.m.

The tournament is ideal for major league baseball scouts, as they can watch some of the best prospects in Northern California without leaving their seats.

"I've already talked to 15 scouts who are going to be here," said tournament director Al Endriss, Redwood High School baseball coach. "The scout from the Los Angeles Angels told me the Angels drafted Monterey first baseman-pitcher Craig Shell No. 2 after getting a good look at him in last year's tournament here." Endriss said Shell is currently attending University of California at Santa Barbara.

A strict time limit will be enforced on all games, with no new inning after 1 hour and 45 minutes from the start of the game. An exception will be made in the case of a tie, with a maximum of two extra innings allowed. If the game is still tied, it will be settled by a flip of a coin. The tie rule will not be in effect in the championship game.

If any team is ahead by nine runs after five innings, the game will be called at that point.

Trophies will go to the championship team, the runner-up, and third place winner. After the championship game, a 10-man all-tournament team will be selected.

Admission each day is $1 for adults and 50 cents for student body card holders.

Tam Gains A Share Of Marin Pennant

shortstop Mike Biber, 2 for 3 on the day including a double in the fourth, cracked a bases loaded single to start the uprising. And Mike Einstein, first baseman, hit a sacrifice fly to drive home the final score of the game. One of the league's top sluggers, Einstein failed to hit safely in two offical at-bats.

Tobin allowed just one base hit during his stint, pitching the remainder of the game.

Indian Steve Woodward, cited by Coach Al Ahlsten as one of the best second sackers in the leauge handled a bad throw from Biber in the third when the Pirates had runners at all stations, then wheeled with a perfect pivot at second, throwing to first base for the doubleplay and final out of the inning, providing the game's most sparkling fielding play.

Redwood Places Fifth

Redwood High School's baseball team finished fifth in the Marin Athletic League race yesterday after blanking the Terra Linda Trojans, 1-0, on the winner's diamond.

It was Bill Poole going the distance for Redwood (6-6), stopping the Trojans (5-7, on just three hits while walking one and fanning four.

MR. CLUTCH DELIVERS AGAIN AS DODGERS SHADE PHILLIES

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mr. Clutch has shifted gears again and the Los Angeles Dodgers are driving.

Ron Fairly, the Dodgers' unsung delivery man, rapped an eighth inning home run last night that made the difference in a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia, the fifth victory in the last six games for the world champions.

Fairly has hit four of his five 1966 homers in his last five games, helping the Dodgers stay within range of first-place San Francisco in the National League race.

Three weeks ago, however, the versatile red-head was struggling to brake a batting skid while the Dodgers, after dropping three straight to the Giants, were at a standstill.

Fairly, a .270 lifetime hitter, had gone 4-for-36 and was hitting a miserable .203.

Since then, he's rolled at a .400 clip, lifting his average to .290, and driven in 11 runs for a team-leading total of 20. The 27-year-old outfielder paced the club with 70 RBI last season and hit a solid .274.

Last night's homer sent L. A. in front 3-1 but turned out to be the winning blow when the Phils scored in the ninth against Ron Perranoski. Perranoski, who came on for winner Don Sutton in the eighth, had not allowed a run in his previous 11 appearances.

Elsewhere, the Giants whipped Pittsburgh 5-2, Cincinnati blasted Atlanta 8-2, Houston beat New York 5-3 and Chicago blanked St. Louis 2-0.

The Dodgers, held to three hits through six innings by Bob Buhl, erased a 1-0 Philadelphia lead in the seventh on run-scoring singles by pinch hitter Al Ferrara and Maury Wills.

The Reds struck for seven runs in the sixth inning and put away Atlanta behind the six-hit pitching of winner Joey Jay, 5-2, and Bill McCool.

Tommy Helms, who cracked four hits for the night, triggered the big inning with a single and finished it off with a run-scoring single. Don Pavletich singled in two runs and John Edwards doubled across two more as the Reds sent 11 men to the plate and collected half of their 16 hits in the sixth.

The Astros scored four runs in the first inning — three on Jim Gentile's bases-loaded double — and held off the Mets on Claude Raymond's one-hit relief pitching over the last 5 1-3 innings. Rusty Staub knocked in the other Houston runs with a double and single.

Glenn Beckert doubled in the sixth inning at St. Louis, and scored on Ernie Banks' sacrifice fly, then drove in the Cubs' second run with a seventh inning single.

Soccer Action On Tap Sunday

Guadalajara of Oakland plays Mercury of San Francisco for the State Cup lower section soccer title at Balboa Stadium in San Francisco, Sunday, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Also on the program will be a junior game at 11:15 a.m., and a game between University Select and San Francisco "Under 23" at 3 p.m.

Next Wednesday night, the famous Glasgow Celtic from Scotland goes against Tottenham Hotspur from London in Kezar Stadium at 8:15. On the following Wednesday, June 8, the Celtic takes on Bayern Munchen from Munich, Germany.

Seven Rookies Reach Big Time In '500'

By PAUL PETROTTA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Seven rookie drivers — considered veterans outside Indianapolis — will crack the big time in the 50th 500-mile classic May 30.

"You're nobody until you've run this joint," said Mel Kenyon of Davenport, Iowa. "It really makes you a somebody."

The last time a rookie hit the winner's circle at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was 1927 when George Souders of Lafayette, Ind., piloted a Duesenberg at 97-plus miles per hour.

Two first-timers this season, Graham Hill of London and Jackie Stewart of Dunbarton, Scotland, are leading drivers on the World Grand Prix circuit.

Besides these and Kenyon, the rookies are Gary Congdon, Garden Grove, Calif.; Cale Yarborough, Charlotte, N.C.; Carl Williams, Kansas City, Mo., and Larry Dickson, Marietta, Ohio.

Stewart, 26, is the hottest driver on the international circuit. Last Sunday he won the season's first Grand Prix race at Monaco and during the first three months of 1966 he won four of eight events to capture the Tasman Championship to Australia and New Zealand.

Stewart, who drives a Lola-Ford, lives 100 miles from Scot Jimmy Clark, who captured the 1965 world road racing crown and is the defending champion at Indianapolis.

Hill, 36, earned the Grand Prix title in 1962 and since has placed second three straight years. The veteran, who started as a mechanic and free lance driver, also will pilot a Lola-Ford in the 500.

Kenyon was burned badly and lost his left hand in a crash at Langhorne, Pa., last June. He missed the rest of the season, but this year his qualification speed of 158.555 m.p.h. put him in the sixth of 11 starting rows.

Kenyon feels the only way his Gerhardt-Offenhauser can win at Indianapolis is "to try to outlast the Fords." Next to Kenyon will be Congdon in a Huffaker-Offenhauser.

Williams spun his Gerhardt-Ford three times before he finally qualified the car last Saturday. He was unhurt.

Yarborough is better known on the stock car circuit where he was runner-up last February in the Daytona 500. He drove his Vollstedt-Ford to a four-lap qualifying average of 159.704 m.p.h. at Indianapolis.

Dickson was the last to make this year's 500 field. He did it with his Halibrand-Ford in the final hour last Sunday.

The Speedway's regular rookie crop has produced several stars—including this year's pole position winner, Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa.

Andretti was Rookie of the Year last May for a third place in the 500 and he finished the season as the U.S. Auto Club national champion.

At Indianapolis this month, he has been the pace-setter, pushing his Brabham-Brawner-Ford to the official Speedway records of 165.899 m.p.h. for four laps and 166.328 for one lap.

His car refashioner, Clint Brawner of Phoenix, Ariz., was honored last night as the top mechanic at Indianapolis.

COSTLY BUCS' ERROR

Pittsburgh Pirates first baseman Donn Clendenon (right) misses a pop-fly off the bat of San Francisco's Willie McCovey as third baseman Bob Bailey tries to catch the rebound. The dropped fly in the third inning put men on first and third. Next batter Jim Ray Hart stung a single to score Willie Mays from third, as the Giants went on to win the game at Candlestick Park, 5-2. (UPI Telephoto)

MORE SPORTS TRAIL

Marin, by far the smallest school in the league, has won a MAL football game in more than four years!

This school year has been brutal. Last fall the Wildcats were 0-6 in football and in basketball this past season they finished with a 3-9 varsity record.

IN THIS spring's sports the Marin Catholic A, B and C track and field teams lost all 18 of their MCAL dual meets, the golf team lost all 11 of its matches and the tennis players were 0-12.

So you see, last night when Hughes' four-bit piece came up heads, every Catholic in the gym could swear they noticed a twinkle in John Fitzgerald Kennedy's minted eye.

Sailing Classes Are Scheduled

Classes designed to help persons new to sailing are going to be offered by Mrs. G. C. Nooney of Mill Valley.

Starting next Tuesday, Mrs. Nooney will give a series of Tuesday one-hour classes, starting at 6:30 p.m., to accommodate the "working girls." The classes will be dockside in Sausalito.

She will also offer the classes to couples, three two-hour lectures for Thursday evenings, starting July 14. The classes will start at 8 p.m.

WOMAN GETS ACE AT PEACOCK GAP

Mrs. Richard DeKay of 14 Oak View Drive, San Rafael shot a hole-in-one yesterday while competing in a tournament at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club in San Rafael.

Mrs. DeKay aced the 150-yard third hole, using a three-wood. Witnessing the shot was Mrs. Martin Bramonte.

Sadecki Very, Very Good, But When He's Bad He's Horrid

HANLEY

At the moment the Ray Sadecki-Orlando Cepeda trade looks like a lemon to Giant fans, particularly boosters of the Bull who is hitting home runs for St. Louis while Sadecki is serving gopher pitches for San Francisco.

The Frank Robinson-Milt Pappas swap temporarily looked the same way to Red fans, particularly rooters of Robinson who immediately began hitting a ton for Baltimore while Pappas was still striving to win his first game for Cincinnati.

Sadecki suffered three successive kayoes in his three initial starts for the Giants, serving home run pitches in his first two assignments and failing to get past the first inning in his last one Sunday against the Mets.

IF THERE were anything wrong with Sadecki's arm, there would be good cause for alarm about the trade. There isn't. Sadecki's problem is one that has plagued the best of pitchers, a wild and high streak that will disappear as soon as he recaptures a rhythmic follow-through.

Take Don Landrum's word for it. Landrum and Sadecki were roommates as Cardinals in 1962 when Sadecki survived another crisis. Now, as Giant teammates, Landrum and Sadecki once again are roommates.

"MY ROOMIE," said Landrum, "is going to win his share of games for us. Make no mistake about it. He's a competitor. He may not look like a pitcher who is exerting himself but he gives every pitch all he's got. He may look lackadaisical on the mound but don't be misled by appearances. He's a fighter."

IT WAS A lackadaisical impression Sadecki created in a 1962 sixth inning relief role against Cincinnati that confronted him with a crisis.

"That was the poorest exhibition of effort I've ever seen on a major league diamond," said Johnny Geane, then Cardinal manager, in a tongue-lashing and $250 fine to Sadecki.

The score was 4-1 in favor of the Reds when Sadecki took over. Bob Purkey hit a homer. Eddie Kasko singled. Then Sadecki made two fielding errors before being tagged for a three-run homer by Robinson. So suddenly the score was 9-1. But the Cardinals ultimately won 10-9.

"If we hadn't won it," said Keane, "the fine would have been $500."

IN THE Cardinal dressing room that night, Sadecki and Bing Devine, then St. Louis general manager, engaged in a shouting match. Sadecki did not show up the next night. So Devine suspended him.

Contacted at his apartment the next day by St. Louis baseball writers, Sadecki said he wanted to be traded.

"I don't see how I can pitch for that manager any more," said Sadecki. "I pitched lousy and I don't mind being chewed out for that but he had no cause for slamming my effort. He was hitting below the belt. I never heard of a fine for pitching bad. How about Purkey? He blew an eight-run lead.

"CERTAINLY I wasn't trying to give Purkey a home run. I knew I had a chance to win that game. I ran into dynamite. We came back and did the same thing to them. That's baseball. There aren't many 2-1 games. What do they do then, fine the hitters?"

Sadecki two seasons later became a 20-game winner for the Cardinals. Without his 20-11 mark in 1964 there would have been no pennant in St. Louis.

Sadecki pitches somewhat like the little girl in the nursery rhyme acted. When he is good he is very,very good. When he is bad, he is horrid.

Baseball Clinics

Baseball clinics for the Novato farm league and pee wee leaguers will be held the next four consecutive Saturdays at the Marion Elementary School grounds. The pee wee leagues will meet from 10:30 a.m. to noon and the farm league from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

San Marin Club Swim Tryouts Slated Saturday

San Marin Pisceans, a newly formed synchronized swimming club, will conduct tryouts Saturday, 11 a.m. at the San Marin Recreation Club, Novato.

Eligible are girls 8 to 17 years of age who are able to swim at least one length of the four strokes—American crawl, backstroke, sidestroke and breaststroke, according to team coach Kathy Kilpatrick.

The Pisceans, who last weekend won the women's novice outdoors synchronized championship of the Pacific Assn., Amateur Athletic Union, plan to conduct clincs, aquacades and compete in more AAU meets this summer.

Glamor Stocks Help Keep Market Active

NEW YORK (AP) —A rally by airlines and some other glamor stocks accompanied an active close of a mixed stock market today.

Trading began with a moderate decline which was held to a minimum. No selling pressure developed so prices improved enough to show an irregular pattern by early afternoon.

The list was able to digest profit taking on a three-day advance without yielding much ground. This encouraged speculative buying at the close.

This was the picture toward the close:

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.5 million shares compared with 7.22 million yesterday.

The list was down a bit in the morning as profits were taken on three days of advance. No selling pressure was generated, however, and buyers regained their courage.

A wide assortment of airlines, electronics and other glamor stocks, as well as blue chips, showed substantial gains. The averages were still dampened, however, by losses of a point in Du Pont and United Aircraft and fractional declines by Jersey Standard, U.S. Steel, Chrysler, American Telephone and New York Central.

Airlines rallied from early softness. Eastern gained about 2, American 1, Pan American and United fractions. Northwest gained 4, Delta 3, Continental and National more than a point each.

IBM was down about 4 but Polaroid gained 3 along with Johnson & Johnson.

Barber Oil tacked on 2. Up a point or better were Murphy Oil, SCM, Getty Oil, Diners' Club, Bucyrus-Erie (New), Xerox, Union Carbide and Zenith.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer traded about unchanged as ballots were counted following its proxy contest.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange recovered from an early decline and moved generally higher in active trading.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Ford To Produce New Sporty Car

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Ford II today confirmed reports that Lincoln-Mercury Division will market a new specialty car, the Cougar, in its 1967 line.

Ford said the new car "will offer more flair and sophistication than the present Mustang."

BIG, SWEET-SMELLING INDUSTRY

California growers supply almost one-fourth of the nation's flowers, doing a business in excess of $125 million a year and accounting for 35 per cent of all air freight shipping from San Francisco International Airport. In one of the huge flower farms at Half Moon Bay (San Mateo County) one worker loads fresh-cut carnations onto a truck for sorting and packing, while another logs yield of adjoining rows of gardenias. San Rafael Teachers Given Controversial Issue Policy

By FRANK FARRARA

The San Rafael Board of Education passed a policy of free discussion of controversial issues last night, then ran into controversy on two other proposed policies.

The new policy on teaching controversial issues allows for free discussion without bias or projudice so the issues can be discussed "in a fair and responsible manner."

The teacher has the responsibility to determine that the issues are germane to the course and that the students are ready for the topics and materials involved, the policy states.

"Teachers shall strive to teach students to weigh issues, to think critically, to respect the value of differing viewpoints, to arrive at their own conclusions and to appreciate the role of controversy in the democratic decision making process," according to the policy.

A proposed new policy for handling complaints about books and other instructional materials, which had been revised once, came in for further scrutiny.

Board Member Anita C. Strom suggested it include provision for the superintendent to present his recommendation along with that of a faculty committee which would review the complaint.

Theodore C. Lachelt, attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, suggested the deadline for filing a complaint be 30 days after the complainant first notifies the teacher.

Bella H. Aaron, attorney for Marin County Local 1077, American Federation of Teachers, backed his proposal.

R. J. Guthrie of 922 Lea Drive said that to regulate a citizen's complaint is to remove a citizen's right.

The board took no final action on the policy, but agreed to the revision that would require a recommendation from the superintendent.

Then board members started discussing a proposed policy for action against staff members, ran into more controversy, and finally tabled it.

Mrs. Strom questioned a section that said "anonymous or second hand (except from a student to his parent) complaints will not be acknowledged."

Supt. Bert C. Corona said that although anonymous complaints would not be "acknowledged," there would be occasions when they would be relayed to the teacher involved.

Paul L. Jones of 735 Las Colindas Road, Terra Linda, related long, futile effort to talk with a teacher at Terra Linda High School. One father took off from work for a whole day and saw no one, he said.

Jones said he felt no policy would be needed if everyone operated according to the education code.

On motion of member Herman L. Childress, the board tabled the policy proposal.

The board postponed discussion of proposed policies on evaluation of administrative and special service personal and sabbatical leaves for teachers.

Hamilton Trial Meets A Delay

The court martial of A/1c James O. Young on a charge of premeditated murder charge of A/1c Robert M. Jennings was continued indefinitely today.

Closing arguments by both the prosecution and defense were to have been heard this morning, but the court martial proceedings were postponed indefinitely pending further psychiatric examination of Airman Young.

The transcript of Young's testimony on the witness stand will be examined by an Air Force psychiatrist.

A tourniquet or ice slows the spread of poison after a venomous bite or sting.

Board Approves Tax On Patrons Of Motels

Marin County supervisors yesterday, acting with the backing of motel and hotel owners, adopted a 4 per cent transient room tax for the unincorporated areas of the county. Proceeds, estimated at a minimum of $34,000 a year, are to support promotion and development.

The board resolved to urge cities to take parallel action.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who has long urged such a tax, said some leverage can be put on the cities when their chambers of commerce seek funds from the county budget. Budget hearings for next fiscal year will be held next month.

The tax was backed by the Marin Visitors Bureau and Marin County Motel Assn., provided that the money went into promoting the county.

John M. Douglas, director of the county's Economic Development Department, said that if all cities adopted a similar tax, agreeing to put it into one promotion budget, the county's entire promotion and development budget could become independent of property tax support.

However, he noted that Corte Madera, Sausalito, Tiburon and Larkspur have already adopted such a tax with no reservation on use of funds.

Guina Pig Trout In Food Laboratory

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — Trout are taking the place of white mice and guinea pigs for research at Oregon State University's Food Toxicology and Nutrition Laboratory.

Researchers, who are seeking to find out what toxic materials may enter foods, say trout are good for research because they are highly sensitive to many toxic materials and can undergo surgery with few ill effects.

Gun Loads Gone From Job Site

San Rafael police warned today that gun loads stolen from the San Rafael High School construction site yesterday could be dangerous if used in a conventional .22-caliber rifle.

The loads, which look like .22-caliber shot, would burst in the barrel of a rifle. They are used in high pressure guns to force nails into cement.

They were reported stolen yesterday by Bob C. Chandler, foreman of Olsen-Baun Contractors.

State Sends 'Task Force' To Seek Jobs

Marin County supervisors learned yesterday that the state Division of Apprenticeship Standards has put a "task force" in Marin to develop jobs for minorities, and that 21 such jobs have already been found.

The report came from County Administrator Alan Bruce, who reported at the same time that Robert E. McKee, contractor for the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center, appeared to be in compliance with the minority hire clause in the contract.

Perry Howell of Marin City disagreed. He heads the Church and Society Committee of St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church which asked that work be halted until there is compliance.

Howell said it is impossible to tell what the status is until the number of workers are known for each phase of the job. Bruce said he expected that information soon.

Commission Lets Nursery Relocate In San Rafael

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night approved a use permit for the San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School to re-locate in a house at 2152 Fifth Avenue.

The commission's unanimous action was made over the protests of four angry women, who appeared likely to appeal the permit to the city council.

Long housed in a rent-free building on the grounds of San Rafael High School, but forced to move because of the high school building program, the nursery has sought new quarters for a year.

Acting City Planner Charles J. Linthicum said 18 neighbors of the old house voiced no objection to its use by the nursery, although a few complained on the basis of noise, parking and traffic problems.

He said it "didn't appear to be a terrific location," but could find no concrete reason for denial.

The four women, who sat together and arose as a group when any one of them talked, expressed fears of flooding, fire danger, overcrowding and a traffic jam if each of the 25 mothers whose children would be at each nursery session brought a car.

Women from the nursery insisted they had been given a clean bill by the state Department of Welfare and the city fire marshal, provided they made some changes in the building. They said car pools would limit the number of cars to six or seven each day.

Mrs. Charles L. McNulty of 2131 Fifth Avenue was unconvinced that the house was big enough for 25 youngsters.

"They'll be just like little animals in a cage," she said. Several of the nursery mothers snickered at this.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Issued a use permit and approved plans for two medical buildings on Loch Lomond Drive in the Loch Lomond Marina. The permit also covered two more similar buildings which will be constructed later.

2. Extended for one year approval of tentative map for the 34-lot Dollar View Estates development between Coleman and Graceland drives on San Rafael Hill, and approved tentative map for the seven-unit Loch Lomond Unit 9 on Kinross Drive off Manderly Road.

3. Approved a two-lot subdivision on Chula Vista Drive south of Oakmont Avenue, asked by James Wirick.

4. Denied, without prejudice against a later application, application of Richard R. Pelton for a use permit for YMCA offices in the old Coleman School at 1711 Grand Avenue. Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. reported YMCA directors had decided against the idea Monday night.

5. Approved plans for the Eileen Feather Salon, an exercise gymnasium at 4050 Redwood Highway; for a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. plant work center at 23 Mark Drive; for a Madak, Inc., warehouse at 90 Mitchell Boulevard; and Peterson Tractor Co. office and warehouse at 135 Paul Drive. The last three are in the Northgate Industrial Park.

Commissioner John A. Miskimen was absent.

Top Wages Discovered On Pacific Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Go West for higher paychecks.

Or so figures the Encyclopedia International which says in the United States wages are highest in the Pacific Coast states followed in descending order by the Midwest, the Middle Atlantic states, New England and the South.

Dominican College Opposes Site Condemnation For Coleman School

The San Rafael Board of Education will have to condemn Dominican College property if it wants to obtain it for expansion of Coleman School.

The elementary school district has been negotiating to buy four acres adjacent to Coleman School, including the Forest Meadows area where Marin Music Chest summer concerts are held.

Attorney Richard V. Bettini, representing the college, last night told the board that Dominican Convent needs the land for expansion of the college and could not sell it voluntarily.

He said that the college plans to construct an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,500 and a little theater on the Forest Meadows lands.

As to condemnation by the school district, he said, "This is not a right step, but you have a legal right."

Charles L. Condrotte, business manager for the San Rafael City Schools, said all alternate sites in the Coleman School area have been investigated and the property adjacent to the school proved to be the most advantageous.

Condrotte said Coleman School has more than 500 pupils and estimated that by 1970 it will have 750.

Mrs. Elizabeth Banning Davies of Novato said the Forest Meadows area "is one of the most beautiful open spaces you have. You have a gold mine in a setting that would be lost."

Board President Carl J. Brown said that the board would look into all other possibilities.

Supt. Bert C. Corona reported he had received one letter and six telegrams opposing acquisition of the site.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

1. Awarded Page Construction Co. of Novato, lowest of five bidders, a contract for construction of a four-classroom addition to Santa Venetia Junior High School at $75,572, and named Abbott Hanks as testing laboratory and Aldo Culazzo as building inspector.

2. Unanimously denied a request from the City of San Rafael for more recreation funds. The board budgeted $15,000; the city asked for $16,636.

3. Hired Marcia Arevalo, student teacher at San Rafael High School, as girls' physical education teacher in the high school district at $6,410 a year; Valentine Sweger, teacher at San Domenico High School, as reading laboratory teacher in the high school district, at $6,410; Alberta Baker as home instructor, high school district, $6 an hour; Charlotte Gill, as nurse, elementary school district, $8,030 a year; Caryl North, home instructor, high school district, $6 an hour.

4. Reassigned teacher Anne Rowe from the mentally retarded class at high school to the educationally handicapped, elementary district.

5. Accepted resignations of Farhad Moezzi, art teacher at San Rafael High School, who will teach at the College of Marin; John C. Curtain, humanities and philosophy teacher at San Rafael High School, who will teach at San Francisco State College; Cecil Shelley, language teacher at Santa Venetia Junior High School, to accept another job; Albert Baker, custodian, San Rafael High School, and John Hunn, Edward Walsh and Peter Wuertz, all bus drivers.

6. Viewed the new reading laboratory and heard a report on the reading-study skills program.

7. Received a report from Mrs. Urusula Johnson and Mrs. Helen Crotty on pilot program in art appreciation, conducted by volunteers under sponsorship of the Marin Museum Assn.

8. Received a report from Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat that 11th grade test results showed that the 875 11th graders had an average intelligence quotient of 104, with 64 per cent at or above the average.

9. Referred to the staff for review a report from Howard A. Levenson, president of the Marin County Optometric Society, on a pre-school vision screening program.

10. Received a request from Mrs. Margaret Klebanoff of 4 Meriam Drive for bus service for Terra Linda High students from the Santa Venetia area.

11. Received from Mrs. John M. Douglas of 80 Oakmont Avenue, an announcement of formation of the San Rafael Forum for Education.

12. Received a commendation from San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa for teachers Glenna Harmon and John McSween for help in solving of a series of burglaries at schools.

13. Received a letter from Mrs. Frank Parker commending Lawrence Geiger, principal of Santa Venetia Junior High School, and questioning his transfer to Hartzell School.

14. Received an objection from Alain Renoir, chairman of the department of comparative literature at University of California at Berkeley against reducing Latin instruction, and a letter from George Yertson, principal of Terra Linda High School, that Latin instruction is not being reduced but classes are being combined because of smaller size.

15. Adjourned to a closed session to discuss the hiring of a high School principal, and announced that the board will meet next Tuesday at E Street School at 7:30 p.m. to review the preliminary budgets.

Board member Lawrence Kramer Jr. was absent.

Terra Linda Teacher Tells Of Assault

An attack by a 15-year-old student on a teacher at Terra Linda High School was reported to San Rafael police yesterday, but vice principal Robert R. Royle asked no police action be taken.

Royle said the incident will be referred to the San Rafael Board of Education with recommendation the student be expelled.

The boy was sitting in a hallway at the school April 28 with his feet blocking the stairs and was asked to move by Donald F. Achziger, dean of boys, police reported.

When the student refused, Achziger bent down and picked him up, whereupon the boy began kicking and hitting.

Royle said the student has had to be disciplined 18 times in as many months.

Senator Murphy's Appeal For Refugees Worthy One

Senator George Murphy has issued letters to various corporations and individuals in California, seeking support for the International Rescue Committee's campaign to help South Vietnamese refugees and war orphans.

"Most pathetic are the children," writes Senator Murphy. "More than 110,000 of them have been orphaned or have lost at least one parent as a direct result of the war . . .

This campaign is the latest in a long list of worthy causes undertaken by the International Rescue Committee since its inception 33 years ago to assist the victims of Nazi persecution.

In the 1930s, the IRC provided funds, escape routes, and resettlement aid for refugees from Naziism. With the fall of France in 1940, the IRC helped evacuate prominent intellectuals, artists and political opponents most likely to be sought by the Nazis.

At the end of the war, the IRC became permanently established as the major non-sectarian American agency to assist refugees from political oppression.

Last year, IRC helped more than 11,000 refugees from the Iron Curtain. Now, its attention is focused on South Viet Nam.

It is interesting to see Senator Murphy emerge as one of the champions of this movement. Liberal critics would have us believe that conservatives like Senator Murphy are unconcerned with human misery.

We find Senator Murphy using his time and talent, asking newspapers to help raise funds for this worthy effort instead of seeking publicity for his part in the program. He is more interested in helping the unfortunate than in publicizing his own efforts. This is the mark of a true humanitarian.

Many self-styled liberals try to foist on the public the idea that only those who call themselves liberals are capable of humanitarianism. Murphy's actions in this campaign completely disprove that unenlightened view.

We hope that Senator Murphy's appeal is successful and the International Rescue Committee is once again able to make a major contribution to the relief of human misery.

No Vested Interest In Starvation?

The noted journalist, James Reston, has noted, "The total appropriations to alleviate world starvation and misery are still only the smallest fraction of the sums used for atomic and rocket research, yet the main battlefields in the cold war are increasingly among the starving peoples."

Perhaps we Americans should take another look at our conscience. Can it be that the vested interests believe there is more to be gained through building armaments than alleviating hunger? If so, we believe they are mistaken.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Brown's Special Call Requests Help Delay State Legislature

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — The non-action of the California Legislature, the dalliance in dealing with the matters before it, the difficulty in obtaining quorums both for sessions and in committees, continuance of the session on expenses derived from the taxpayers' money, absenteeism for political purposes, and a few other things, have grown to the point of public disgrace, some observers feel.

Whether a public disgrace or not, it is a known fact that this year's session is the "worst" in history as far as accomplishment is concerned. Instead of dealing with legislation in a business-like manner, legislators are playing with them like a group of politicians.

THE LEGISLATURE has stretched to nearly four months the 30 days provided in the constitution for passage of a budget, and hasn't passed it yet. When California adopted the constitutional amendment providing for the budget session, they expected the job to be done in a month.

Several situations conspired this year to develop this unbusinesslike travesty on democratic government. Among these were reapportionment of the State Senate, the impending June 7 primaries, and dissensions within the Democratic (majority) party.

But probably the biggest contributing cause of the foul-up was the action of Gov. Edmund G. Brown in placing 67 different items of legislation on his calls for extraordinary sessions.

THE CONSTITUTION gives the governor the authority to call the legislature in "extraordinary" session any time he so chooses. It also gives him the authority to place any subject of legislation on the call for consideration by the legislature.

Although the constitution does not specify these items must be of an emergency nature, it does imply the occasion of a special session should be for "extraordinary" matters.

In all the 67 items submitted by the governor for legislative action this year, no single one is "extraordinary" in the sense that it could not have been brought up at the 1967 regular session, with no public detriment. Neither would any of the 67 items warrant a special call on its own merits.

GOV. BROWN can hardly be accused of abusing his executive powers in presenting what amounts nearly to a full legislative session during an off year. Rather, it may be said he is taking advantage of circumstances which under normal conditions, would get some legislation out of the way.

But the fact remains, had the controversial and unnecessary at this time items been left for consideration at the 1967 legislature, the representatives of the public would have had only their constitutionally mandated job to do, which is passing the budget.

If the people of the state want annual sessions of the legislature, with full-time legislators at $18,000 per year, it is up to the people to vote this procedure into the constitution.

But the provision is not in the constitution now, so it would appear Governor Brown circumvents the intent of the constitution in bringing up extraneous matters in special sessions.

Family Day, Pet Show Successful

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The San Rafael Guild of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum wishes to thank the people of Marin County who attended our Family Day and Pet Show, and helped make it such a success. We hope that Marin youngsters will be looking forward to our pet show next year, and that they had as much fun participating as we had in planning and presenting it.

We appreciate the coverage of the press, and want to thank the businessmen of San Rafael and the members of the museum who judged the pets, the Tri-Valley and Ross Valley 4-H Clubs for their help and all the other volunteers who contributed their time and effort. Thank you all.

Was Goldwater Policy Wild?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

W. H. Durr, commenting on Morrie Ryskind's column of May 17, writes that he could not vote for Goldwater in 1964 because of his "wild foreign policy". I wonder whether he had reference to the policy enunciated at the San Francisco Convention as drafted by the Committee on Resolutions, reflecting to a great extent the party presidential nominee's thinking, or Goldwater's policy as distorted by his opponents. The former included practical measures to halt the deterioration of the NATO, SEATO, and CENTO alliances (which have since continued to deteriorate), a stand on Red China no different than that of the Democrats, more vigorous economic and political measures to unseat the Communist usurpers in Cuba as well as support of a government in exile (the Administration has accomplished nothing in this regard), more effective measures to prevent subversive Communist takeover of Southeast Asia including better equipment for our troops there (the Administration eventually carried out portions of this plank but not promptly or decisively enough to avoid the present mess), a change in the method of voting in the U.N. reflecting population disparities among member states (or is "one man, one vote" unfair internationally?) and a denial of votes to member nations of the U.N. refusing to meet properly levied assessments (the Administration also favored this but later chickened out).

A fair evaluation of the above foreign policy would indicate that Mr. Durr, along with many other voters, was slightly bamboozled in 1964.

Wrong Bowl Group Asked For Apology

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In reply to Joseph Doctor's "Cheering Errors Is Decried" letter to the editor in the May 12, 1966, publication:

How can you possibly expect an apology from: (1) Marin County Woman's Bowling Assn.'s president, (2) Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. and (3) Nave Lanes, when none are responsible for any lack of sportsmanship at the Masters Bowling Tournament?

First of all, our president and good friend of mine, Maxine Bryden, who has held that office for the past four years, just happened to be with me, four other officers, and four directors of the Marin County Woman's Bowling Assn. at the California State Bowling Convention in Oakland at the time of this alleged occurence. This week she is at the National Bowling Convention in New Orleans, so she won't have an opportunity to answer until after May 22.

Secondly, I can't understand your justification in condemning a whole association of 2,200 Marin County women nor of holding it responsible for the actions of one member.

Thirdly, how can you possibly expect the lanes (or any type of sports establishment) to be held accountable for the moods and emotions of the spectators?

If any public apology is due, Joseph Doctor, I believe it is from you.

Boy's Club Says Thanks For Work

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Last April 23, a number of Marin County organizations and individuals generously donated their time, labor and costly building materials to reroof the former Maintenance Building in Marin City, which will be the future home of the Boys' Club of Southern Marin.

The Boys' Club of Southern Marin wishes to express its deepfelt gratitude to the following volunteers who have already helped to make our new Marin City headquarters a reality:

Community Services District, Marin City; Booth & Little Roofing, Larkspur; De Mello Roofing, San Rafael; McLaren Roofing, Corte Madera; Marin County Roofing Company, San Rafael; Novato Roofing Company, Novato; Roofing Service & Supply Company, Inc., San Rafael.

McPhail's Inc. Building Materials, San Rafael; Mill Valley Youth Council; Barret Construction Company, San Francisco; Jack Brabo Plumbing Company, Mill Valley; The Prince Charlie Inn, Tiburon.

Thanks to these public spirited people, the new Boys' Club is expected to open on June 15, offering recreation and professional guidance facilities, a games room, library, and arts and craft shop for 400 boys from Marin City, Tam Valley, Mill Valley, Sausalito and Tennessee Valley. Much additional rehabilitation work to the building remains to be done.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

WALL STREET will never produce a character who gathers wider publicity, or evokes more laughter, than Max Donovan—salaried executive, payer of federal income taxes, and member in good standing of the Book-of-the-Month Club. Max Donovan is a schnauzer. What legalistic shenanigans his owner was up to have not yet been cleared up, because just as the law was closing in, Maxie boy vanished. When last seen he was poking his head out of a car window, barking angrily at a Siamese cat on the sidewalk.

FAMED NEWSPAPER editor Herbert Bayard Swope prided himself on his incredible fund of worthless information and, furthermore, could never understand why his friends found occasional lectures by him just a wee bit long-winded. To a gathering of handkerchief manufacturers hoping just for a pleasant get-together, Mr. Swope scolded, "I'll bet not one of you fellows are aware that the finest Belgian linen you import is achieved by patient women beating the cloth for hours on end on the shore of the Ypres River—the Belgian side of the river, of course." He added hastily, "And if you ever advertise wool sheared from llamas, I urge you to let the public in on the fact that llamas, when angry, spit on the objects of their ire."

By this time, notes Swope's biographer, E. J. Kahn, Jr., there wasn't a dry throat in the place.

Letting Red China Join U.N. Won't Change Warlike Policies

WASHINGTON — If Red China is to be admitted to the United Nations, it would be well to understand that there is no reason to assume this will turn it into a "peace-loving" nation.

One of the main arguments for admission is that if we can bring China into fuller contact with the community of free nations, this will moderate Peking's expansionist ambitions.

Would it? We can't be sure, but past experience suggests it would do no such thing.

Obviously we can't be certain because no person outside the Communist hierarchy in Peking can know what China has in mind.

But is there a precedent? Thus the question can be answered in part by what has already taken place under similar circumstances.

IS THERE a nation which was committed to territorial expansion and revolution and which was taken into the community of nations in the hope that such contact would mute its aggressive ambitions?

There is, indeed, a most revealing precedent and the record of what happened is cited in an analysis prepared by Dr. Frank N. Trager, professor of international relations, New York University. He says:

"Let me call to mind a case which has relevance to the present issue: The admission of the Soviet Union to the League of Nations in 1934, a year after the recognition of the USSR by the U.S.

"Such foreign 'acceptance' did not prevent the Soviet Union from invading Finland, occupying Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, and signing a non-aggression pact with Hitler.

"Nor did membership in the League 'moderate' internal Soviet policy, since the wholesale slaughter of the kulaks and the proliferation of slave labor camps in Siberia continued after membership in the League and American recognition.

"THESE WERE ignominiously followed by the bloody purge trials of 1936-37 and by systematic assaults on religious freedom in the USSR."

On the basis of this record, it seems to me that Professor Trager asks the right question: "If the rulers of Russia were insensitive to world opinion, how much more insensitive can we expect the rulers of Communist China to be, whether or not they are U. N. members?"

While the answer cannot be given with total certainty, experience shows that an aggressive, revolutionary state like Red China is unlikely to moderate its ambitions to please the U. N., and more likely to try to use the U. N. to further its ambitions.

The U. N. charter does not seek universal membership. It says that the U. N. is open to nations "which accept and are able and willing to carry out" the obligations in the charter.

ITS OWN leaders openly say that China is not a peace-loving nation. Mao Tse-tung has boasted that "power comes from the barrel of a gun."

Some China experts suggest we should not believe the Chinese Communist leaders when they talk this way because they don't mean it. Then are we to believe Communist China when its leaders say they have decided to abide by the U. N. charter?

At stake here is not primarily what is good for China or for the U. S., but what is good for the United Nations. Nothing could be more hurtful than to allow the spirit and letter of the U. N. charter to be turned into empty words.

Lodge Advises Bombs For Haiphong Depot

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge strongly favors bombing the huge oil depot near the port of Haiphong. That puts this long-pending decision squarely up to President Johnson.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff have repeatedly recommended destruction of this crucial Communist supply center. The largest oil depot in North Viet Nam, it is estimated to hold more than one million barrels. The numerous storage tanks are in a sparsely populated area covering several square miles. They are heavily defended with SAM (Russian ground-to-air) missiles and radar-operated anti-aircraft guns.

Lodge threw his influential backing behind the Joint Chiefs' stand during his talks with the President early this week.

This significant backstage development came to light during Lodge's closed-door meeting with members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS brought out by questions were:

1. In Lodge's opinion it will be necessary to increase U.S. troops to 400,000 "before the war is over." At present the total is around 250,000.

2. The promised elections for a civilian government "can and will take place." A considerable part of the cost will be borne by the U.S. Lodge was unable to say how much that would be.

3. The recent highly critical public hearings on Viet Nam by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, headed by Senator William Fulbright, D-Ark., were decidedly harmful and inadvisable. Lodge caustically characterized them as a boon to the Communists.

Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.J., triggered Lodge's scathing outburst against the Senate hearings.

THE ENVOY TO Saigon was asked to assess the effect of the hearings on the war, and the proposal of some senators that the Viet Cong be included in a South Viet Nam coalition government.

"The effect has been extremely bad," replied Lodge intently. "Those hearings were most unfortunate. They did us no good. Among other harmful effects, they encouraged Hanoi and Peiping to prolong the war in the belief that the American people will run out of patience and insist on quitting.

"The proposals for recognizing the Communist Viet Cong hurt the war effort in three ways: They raised the morale of our enemies; they created doubts and uncertainties among our allies; and they had a detrimental impact on our troops."

Another legislator asked, "When are we going to start winning this war?"

"We turned a corner a year ago," said Lodge, "as a result of the big build-up of our combat forces, and things have been improving ever since. But we still need more troops, I would say around 400,000."

ASKED IF HE had advised President Johnson to bomb the huge Communist oil depot near Haiphong, Lodge declined to answer directly, explaining he could not reveal what was discussed.

"But personally I favor that," he continued. "Destroying those oil tanks would be very, very helpful. They are a vital source of supply for the enemy, and there can be no question they are a legitimate military target. I am all for wiping them out."

Lodge characterized the latest clash between Premier Ky and elements in Da Nang and elsewhere as a "civil disturbance rather than civil war."

Riding Buses Will Soon Become Insidious Un-American Activity

WASHINGTON — It is no secret that the entire economy of this country depends on automobile sales, or, to put it another way, "when General Motors sneezes, Wall Street gets pneumonia."

The situation has reached such serious proportions that, if just one person decides not to buy a new car this year, he could send the whole country into a depression.

So far several Congressional committees have been investigating the automobile industry, but if the downward trend continues in auto sales, the whole thing will have to be turned over to the House Un-American Activities Committee.

I can see a hearing in the near future.

The chairman speaks: Mr. Irving Edsel, our investigation has shown that you do not own an automobile and never have. Could you tell us why?

EDSEL: I take the bus.

CHAIRMAN: Mr. Edsel, do you realize what would happen in this country if everyone took the bus?

EDSEL: You probably would never get a seat on one. They're pretty crowded as it is.

CHAIRMAN: You say you're a good American, Mr. Edsel. How can you be a good American if you don't support the automobile industry?

EDSEL: I'll be very honest. The reason I don't drive is that you can never get a place to park.

CHAIRMAN: That's a poor excuse for not buying a car. If everyone who couldn't find a place to park refused to purchase an automobile, we would all be selling apples on the street.

EDSEL: It's not just that I can't find a place to park, Mr. Chairman. It's also that the roads are so crowded that I get very nervous.

CHAIRMAN: Mr. Edsel, I wish to remind you that our forefathers fought and bled for your right to drive a car. If you were in the Soviet Union, you wouldn't be able to buy a car.

EDSEL: Yeah, but I hear they have plenty of places to park over there.

CHAIRMAN: Are you trying to say their system is better than ours?

EDSEL: No, all I'm saying is that they have more parking space. I mean they have better parking facilities because they have fewer cars. It stands to reason, doesn't it?

CHAIRMAN: You say you take the bus in the morning. I would like you to give this committee the names of the other people who take the bus with you.

EDSEL: Oh, I couldn't do that.

CHAIRMAN: I can hold you in contempt, Mr. Edsel.

EDSEL: I don't mind talking about myself. But I'm not a squealer.

CHAIRMAN: Do you know who doesn't buy cars in America, Mr. Edsel?

EDSEL: I have no idea.

CHAIRMAN: Communists don't buy cars, that's who. The Communists know that the only way they can make the economy of this country collapse is if they can get people to stop buying automobiles.

EDSEL: I'm not a Communist.

CHAIRMAN: You're a fellow traveller — a fellow bus traveller, which is the worst kind. I'm turning your case over to the FBI.

EDSEL: Mr. Chairman can I ask one question? If I buy an automobile and don't drive it, will I still be held in contempt?

CHAIRMAN: Of course not. We don't care what you do with the damn car as long as your purchase it. We'll give you 10 days to think about it. I'd like to call the next witness now. Will Mr. Ralph Nader please take the stand?

Goats Mow Grass In Illinois Town

CHRISTOPHER, Ill. (AP) — The City Council says "n-a-a!" to paying $1,000 a year to mow the grass on city-owned land.

Instead it will spend $20 for six goats to keep the grass closely trimmed.

Stock Holdings By Text Judges Denied By Firm

LOS ANGELES (AP) —The president of a firm publishing a controversial textbook denies allegations that members of the State Curriculum Commission hold stock in the corporation.

Dwight Reay, a Pasadena attorney and president of Franklin Publications Inc., added yesterday that he would welcome an investigation of his firm.

Assemblyman John L. E. Collier, R-South Pasadena, proposed an investigation.

Collier said at an Assembly Ways and Means Committee hearing that "confidential and reliable information" indicated some curriculum commission members owned stock in the firm which publishes a history text on the united States, "Land of the Free." The text has been approved for California schools by the commission.

Coming Summer Worries Parents Near Strawberry Drive Crossing

Mounting pressure from Strawberry residents has forced the state to improve pedestrain safety measures of Tiburon Boulevard, but parents maintain that the wide, fast boulevard ramains a menace to their children.

So does the Mill Valley School District, which operates one of the shortest school bus routes around. Each school day it carries 40 children four blocks from the Bay Vista Heights section across Tiburon boulevard to Strawberry Point Elementary School.

"We consider Tiburon Boulevard a dangerous road," said Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson. "Our rules allow us to transport children across dangerous thoroughfares regardless of distance."

WITH SUMMER coming on, Strawberry parents are worrying about the safety of their children crossing the boulevard to play in Strawberry Park or visit their friends. Tiburon Boulevard from Highway 101 to Trestle Glen Drive is a four land divided highway that rolls and twists down the Tiburon Peninsula with a 45 miles per hour speed limit along most of it.

The state contend that statistically speaking, the boulevard is safe. According to Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol, there were, for example, three accidents at the intersection of the boulevard with Strawberry Drive in a 15-month period.

Two of these were small rear enders, while the third resulted in the death of an eight year old boy who was crossing in a crosswalk.

"It's no consolation to the parent whose child was hit," Parnow said, "but this is an outstanding traffic record. There is excellent compliance with traffic laws there."

STRAWBERRY PARENTS thought otherwise and met with state and county officials April 12.

They requested of the state that the northern set of across Tiburon Boulevard at Strawberry Drive be removed, that they be painted yellow to denote a school zone, that the traffic light sequence be changed to permit a longer crossing time, the speed limit be lowered to 35 and a pedestrian overpass be built.

The state has performed the first three, is studying the speed limit and refused to consider a pedestrian overpass.

The state refused to consider the overpass because if it built one at Tiburon Boulevard and Strawberry Drive, it would have to build many more.

In a letter to the County Board of Supervisors, the San Francisco office of the State Division of Highways said it is "financially impossible" to construct an overpass because there are "thousands of similar intersections used by children all over the state."

The Strawberry Drive intersection has "every modern safety convenience," the department said. But, if the parents or a local agency wanted to build an overpass, the department would give them the right to "providing highway funds were not used."

THE STRAWBERRY safety fight has been spearheaded by the Strawberry Point School P-TA and the Strawberry Recreation District. Newest group to join the fray is the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council.

Depending on the results of the state's speed limit study, the council is considering a mass meeting to plan further action among parents and interested groups.

An ironical facet to the fight arises, however. Although it improved the highway, the state contended that the improvements weren't needed because few children crossed the boulevard.

"Of course not," countered Mrs. Gerald C. Jampolsky of 7 Sky Road. "When the school bus isn't taking the children across the boulevard, the mothers band together and take them across in their own cars."

GAME ADS BRING UNWANTED RESULT

By PAT PERRY

This is a game some people play. They drive from supermarket to supermarket, all day long, making no purchase but collecting little white squares of paper with silver discs in the center.

This is a game some other people play. They collect little white squares of paper with silver discs in the center every time they do their grocery shopping. They try to match up the numbers hidden beneath the discs on a bingo card, and if they can't, they insert an advertisement in the local newspaper seeking the missing numbers.

400 CALLS

And this is the game those people play — they answer the telephone 400 times in two days. And they still don't win the game.

The game is sponsored by Safeway Stores in the Bay Area, but under different names and guises it's being played all over America.

For the past few weeks the personal columns have been sprinkled with ads that read: "Safeway Bingo — will split. Need $1000: B-4, 0-2, 0-3, 0-5, N-4, U-4, S-1 . . . "

UNINTENDED RESULTS

A spot check of people who place these ads reveals that they certainly get results — but hardly the kind of results intended.

Mrs. Lydia Watkins of San Anselmo put such an ad in the Independent-Journal Friday. By Sunday she and her husband had answered the telephone "at least 400 times." She said the telephone rang every 20 seconds, often with long distance calls.

And did she get the missing numbers?

"No, everyone has the same numbers as we do, they all wanted the same ones I was advertising for. We got cured. We won't advertise again."

Mrs. Lou Burton of San Rafael cancelled her ad after she received a dozen calls "from people who all wanted me to give them the numbers I wanted." Mrs. Burton said the majority of callers were men.

Several other residents reported similar results: many calls, but no success.

INCOME TAX

It isn't illegal to play the game this way. John Philpotts, public relations spokesman for Safeway, said the supermarket chain "has no feeling either way. We give out the tickets and when someone presents us with the winning ticket we pay. It's as simple as that."

"But the person who collects the money is the one who pays the income tax," Philpotts added. "So if two people agree to split the winnings, they should be aware that the one who collects will be liable for the tax."

There's no way of determining how many, if any, of the winners collect the prize by collaborating in completing the bingo cards. Only the originators of the game know the odds, and they're a New York firm. Sponsoring stores don't know how many of the "key numbers" are given out, nor when.

But several people have tried to buck the odds. Philpotts reported. There have been instances of people driving to as many as 50 Safeway stores in one day, collecting bingo numbers at each in an effort to find the elusive ones, he said.

Since all the bingo cards are identical, the number of winners is determined by controlling the quantity of key numbers given out. And judging by the ads in Bay Area newspapers, the seven key numbers for the favorite $1,000 game are identical in all areas.

Here in Marin there hasn't been a $1,000 winner yet. Top prize so far has gone to Mrs. D. E. Boyer of Mill Valley, who collected $500.

The San Rafael store has had at least 70 winners, reported manager Sam Miller. The Novato store reported about 60.

The contest is now more than half way through its alloted 13 weeks. Spokesman Philpotts predicted that the number of newspaper ads will probably increase "Let's face it, by the time 13 weeks is up everyone will have everything but the key numbers. We reckon in excess of 10,000 winners. It's just a game; no one loses anything."

OPERATION MISERY

Bel Aire Sixth Graders' 'Minority' Gain Rights

Fifty Sixth grade pupils at Tiburon's Bel Aire School suffered first-hand the miseries of minority discrimination this week in an experimental program, but they quickly routed their oppressors after two days by petitioning for their constitutional rights.

"Operation Misery" deprived the sixth graders of all customary privileges. They couldn't speak until spoken to, sat in the rear of the school bus, stood at the end of lines, and weren't allowed to sit with friends.

Originally planned for a full week, "Operation Misery" was defeated yesterday afternoon when four students presented Principal John C. Fitch with a copy of the United States Constitution and a petition signed by their classmates.

Monday the students had a try at civil disobedience to win their cause. They held a sit-in in teacher Helen Kutchnik's class.

"They sat there and said they weren't going to stand up until they got their rights back. I told them go ahead, that wasn't going to get them back," she said.

Later 30 sixth graders picketed the principal's office.

Oppressors in the project were 96 fourth and fifth graders, who were only too pleased to cooperate.

Principal Fitch got the idea for "Operation Misery" from an article in National Elementary Principal magazine, which described a similar program in Colorado. He turned the idea over to sixth grade teachers Donald B. Cowan and Miss Kluchnik. They guided the students, but the children had to find their own correct solution to regain their constitutional rights.

Now the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will spend the rest of the week discussing constitutional rights.

Several parents criticized the project because they felt it interfered with their children's education. Fitch disagreed, saying its activity was mostly out of the classroom. "We discussed it with the children for three weeks before to prepare them," he said, "but maybe we didn't prepare some parents."

Two pupils were kept out of school this week to prevent their participation, he reported, and one other was forbidden to take part.

One mother, Mrs. Patricia W. Reynolds of 4A Circle Drive, Tiburon, said: "You can tell the children over and over about it, but until they experience discrimination they won't know. If my boy didn't like it—good! He shouldn't like it, but he sees the reason for it."

Cowan said a few fifth and fourth graders had to be disciplined "for being too zealous."

Citizens To Meet

The Sausalito Citizens Council board will meet this evening, having postponed last night's meeting one day to be able to discuss items taken up last night by the Sausalito City Council, treasurer Fred Sumner said today.

Inverness Yacht Club Hit For $300 Loot

Loss of over $300 cash in a burglary of Inverness Yacht Club, Inverness, was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Sausalitans Worry Over Barbecue Ban

Should a man have to telephone the fire department each time before he lights his portable barbecue on his patio and puts a hamburger on to grill?

Sausalito city councilmen were divided on the question last night and decided to hold over an ordinance amendment on burning regulations until Fire Chief Charles E. Masten could be present.

Councilman Earl F. Dunphy said the section regarding portable barbecues should be deleted. Councilman Jan Paul Dyk suggested a person might also be required to call when he ignites his fireplace.

"The purpose is to alert the fire department as to location of the smoke signals that will be coming from the hills," said Mayor Mel Wax.

The proposed amendment would change hours of burning from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., as currently applies, to 7 a.m. to 11 a.m., with all fires to be completely extinguished by noon.

It would make it unlawful to ignite an incinerator without a fire department permit.

"With our good weather," said Dyk, there are a lot of phone calls from people having hibachi pots. "Do we have to phone and keep the fire lines busy every time a hamburger steak goes on the grill?" he demanded.

Late Show Ends Without Decision On Cable Video

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The television tower, antenna and cable "picture" was blurry at a late show last night before the Sausalito City Council.

After more than two hours discussion on three separate applications, the council:

1. Set a public hearing June 14 on a conditional use permit for Sausalito Community TV System to allow a 40-foot television tower with 15 antennas at the end of Curry Lane.

2. Took under submission an application from Cable TV of Marin for a city-wide franchise, asking further information regarding location of a proposed television tower and on the signal to be brought into the city.

Mrs. Ruth Sisson of 160 Curry Avenue told councilmen that, when one television tower blew down in a storm last year, two poles were erected without city permission and they are "consiberably higher." She said there are also added antennas and a catwalk.

"The time has come to stop this foolishness," she declared.

Ted Chanock, representing Sausalito Community TV System, said he bought the company in January, 1965, the tower blew down in August and was replaced in October. He said he applied for a conditional use permit when he learned it was necessary.

Chanock said both old and new towers were 40 feet high, but both Mrs. Joyce Remak and Mrs. Sisson insisted the new tower is twice the size of the old.

Many questions were asked of Robert D. Lewis, Cable TV of Marin owner, who responded saying he now serves about 20 customers in the Spencer Avenue area, that he has an antenna now near Cloud View Road which he will dismantle to erect a new one between Sausalito and Marin City.

Councilman Alexander R. Imlay said he is concerned about a proliferation of cable TV franchises in Sausalito. There are already three and two pending.

The City Council also encouraged Sausalito Boulevard residents to form an assessment district to improve their street.

It acknowledged a letter from Mrs. May Gabrielson who thanked the council and Rotary Club for honoring her late husband Carl, a former councilman, in naming a downtown area Carl Gabrielson Memorial Park.

First Cluster Gets Nod In Mill Valley

Mill Valley's first "cluster type" development—a planned community of 20 single family homes, 18 of them to be built upon steel platforms to prevent cutting hillsides — was recommended for approval last night by the city planning commission.

The Cochran-Hernandez 11.26 acre development on Edgewood Avenue, to be called Edgewood Park, will have 18 homes in a cluster and two separate from the group. It is to retain five acres as public open space, reported City Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission also:

1. Denied Manuel Gomez master plan approval for a 10-unit development, Cresta del Norte, north of Avon and Marlin avenues on the basis there was not a complete submittal.

2. Set a special meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday, to discuss revision of the zoning ordinance and zoning map.

3. Set for June 14 public hearing on an ordinance to permit the city to set official plan lines for streets and preserve rights of way of future roads.

4. Created a subcommittee of Donald Batchelder, Richard J. Hiatt and Napthali Knox to work with Bragdon on a preliminary development plan for the city's marina.

5. Recommended approval in principle of the Bear Creek Development Assn. planned community near Tennessee Valley.

Junior College Runoffs Slated For Top Post

In balloting yesterday and Monday, Miss Ryan received 360 votes; Glass, 171. Robert Rosenberg of Corte Madera was eliminated with a tally of 156. Runoff election will be held in the College Center tomorrow and Friday.

Michael Kawai of San Rafael, who ran unopposed for vice president, drew 645 votes. Myra Scott of Novato, unopposed for secretary, received 647 votes.

Fred Lockett of Fairfax defeated Marshall Gleisten of Kentfield for treasurer, 381 to 234. The Pequintas, headed by Richard Prather of San Rafael, ran unopposed for yell leaders and received 622 votes.

Three groups ran for song leaders and two were forced into a runoff election. They are the Would You Believe Six, headed by Lynda Beardsley of San Rafael, with 232 votes, and the Spinnakers, headed by Doris Deedy of Ross, with 366 votes. The Beech-Nuts, headed by Candace Calas of San Rafael, were eliminated with 121 votes.

All other offices were unopposed. Allan Ruser of San Francisco was elected rallies and assemblies commissioner with 618 votes; Joseph L. Johnston of Forest Knolls, spirit and athlectics commissioner with 608, and Richard Giovannoli of San Rafael, public relations commissioner with 619.

Utility Board Hires Former Secretary

Directors of Bolinas Beach Public Utilities District met in closed session with the district's attorney for an hour and a half last night, then hired Mrs. Dorothy Paul of Bolinas as district secretary at $175 a month.

She will replace Mrs. Jacque Gianola, who was fired by the directors May 17 after they learned she had made no deposits of district money since last Sept. 24.

The county auditor-controller's office was still working on an audit of the district books today.

Director Robert H. Baird said that Mrs. Paul had served as secretary for two years prior to being replaced by Mrs. Gianola over a year ago. Mrs. Paul resigned at that time due to an illness in her family.

Directors met with attorney Ronald D. Schenck. They confirmed the dismissal of Mrs. Gianola, Baird said.

Telephone Cable Reported Stolen

About 800 feet of copper wire was reported stolen from Western California Telephone Co. at a site about three miles north of Novato on Highway 101, sheriff's deputies said today.

Charles I. Thompson, construction foreman, said the wire was clipped after climbing a telephone pole. The lines were not in service, he said.

KUDOS FOR LOCAL ARCHITECT

The landscape design at Asilomar Hotel and Conference Grounds in Pacific Grove, done by Michael Painter of Mill Valley, won an honor award at the annual meeting of the American Society of Landscape Architects at Yosemite National Park last year. Painter is a partner of the San Francisco architectural firm of John Carl Warnecke and Associates. His landscaping at the College at San Mateo also received an award of merit.

Supervisors Reluctantly Approve Social Welfare Revisions Study

A two-month study expected to drastically change Marin County's public welfare program gained approval of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

But the unanimous action came only after several supervisors grumbled that the study, to be state-financed, would probably lock the county into a two-year administrative demonstration program.

The board balked at increasing the salaries of the two social workers in charge of the study, saying that, if the new responsibility merited the pay, and the idea was such a good one, pay raises could come when the two-year program goes into effect on July 1.

The change would do four main things:

1. Take a large number of clerical jobs away from social workers and give them to clerks, who are paid much less.

2. Let a person applying for aid fill out a form on his own financial situation and then assume the form has been filled out honestly, with the exception that a certain percentage of applicants will be closely checked.

3. Eliminate what Social Service Director Betty L. Presley called "ritualistic" jobs of a welfare worker. For instance, a welfare worker must make a home visit on each case once every three months, whether it is needed or not. The effect is that every case gets one visit, but the worker never has time to make more visits where they might do some good.

4. Let social workers combine as a team on individual cases, sometimes also including other county departments or even private welfare services in the casework.

Some of these practices are already followed in old-age assistance cases.

The two-month study will cost $6,417, all of which will be paid by the state. Miss Presley said she expected the state would also pay all the cost of the two-year trial period when cases would be administered under the new system.

The complaints came from Chairman Byron W. Leydecker and Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen. Leydecker said he was afraid the county would be tied into the new program and then learn, belatedly, that the local taxpayer, after all, would have to pay.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he felt, if the social workers had more time to do social work and spent less time on clerical chores, some welfare recipients would return to productive life. Leydecker doubted it.

Kettenhofen especially opposed the pay increase for the two workers, saying that, if the two-year program is cut out at budget time, it would be difficult to make the workers return to their old pay.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer asked if the change would mean fewer case workers would be needed. Miss Presley said that depends on welfare law and caseload changes.

Jess France Jr. Seeks Divorce

Jess J. France Jr., 45, resident manager of York Securities Corp. in San Rafael, who wed his second wife last Oct. 8, has sued her in Marin Superior Court for divorce.

He charges the former Mary Bage, 43, of Woodacre, with extreme cruelty.

Private Donors Over Goal For Mental Clinic

A total of $200,093 in private contributions appeared available today toward construction of the Marin County mental health clinic at Marin General Hospital, but some of the money may go toward improvement of the hospital's parking lot.

One donor has offered $75,000 toward the facility, County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said, with a proviso that it should be used for the parking lot if sufficient funds are collected for the center.

Another has put the same stipulation on a $30,000 donation. Still $11,000 more in the total figure has not yet been firmly committed, Kettenhofen said.

The intent of the drive was to raise $150,000 in private contributions toward the $1.35 million facility. The county and the hospital would each put up another $150,000, the state government $450,000, and the federal government $450,000.

Bus Bids Requested

The base procurement office at Hamilton Air Force Base today asked for bids for bus transportation service from San Francisco International Airport to the base.

Court Rejects Beating Claim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The state Supreme Court rejected yesterday a convict's claim that he was beaten by police until he admitted a fatal kidnaping.

Judges pointed out that witnesses said the convict, Robert Lokey, had declared he confessed because his "conscience could not let him sleep."

Lokey, 26, was sentenced to life without parole possibility for the kidnaping and fatal shooting in 1962 near Sacramento of Ian Shuttleton of Long Beach. Shuttleton was killed by a pistol shot while struggling with Lokey.

Oregon Voters Back Johnson Viet Nam Policy

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Robert B. Duncan, President Johnson's champion in an Oregon campaign focused on Viet Nam, captured that state's Democratic Senate nomination amid Republican talk of nationwide voter uneasiness about the Asian war.

In Duncan's runaway victory yesterday over peace candidate Howard Morgan, advocates of the U.S. stance in South Viet Nam could find at least apartial answer to the Republican report.

Duncan, a two-term congressman, and Morgan, a former member of the Federal Power Commission, stood together on domestic matters. They argued only about Viet Nam. Morgan called U.S. involvement there a tragic error; Duncan said it is necessary.

Voters rendered their judgments in primary elections in Florida, Oklahoma and Kentucky, too. The most startling decision in the balloting was Miami Mayor Robert King High's rematch triumph over Florida Gov. Haydon Burns.

High's upset climaxed a bitter runoff campaign which produced Burns charges that the short, red-haired mayor was the candidate of a Negro bloc, and a protege of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

PRESTON MOORE
Wins in Oklahoma

Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky won renomination without serious opposition. John Young Brown, a college classmate, former congressman and Senate rival 20 years ago, easily won the Democratic Senate nomination.

Preston Moore of Oklahoma City, former national American Legion commander blunted the comeback bid of former Gov. Raymond Gary and won the Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma. State Sen. Dewey Bartlett of Tulsa won the Republican gubernatorial nomination over John N. Happy Camp.

Republican Pat J. Patterson outdistanced Don Kinkaid, who had solicited John Birch Society backing, for the no mination to challenge Oklahoma's Democratic Sen. Fred R. Harris in November.

Former Rep. M. G. Snyder of Kentucky was nominated for the House from the newly designed 4th District, topping two rivals in a race that renewed the Republican split of 1964. Snyder, a conservative, fought for the cause of Barry Goldwater two years ago and lost his House seat in the Democratic landslide.

Secretary of State Tom McCall won the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Oregon; State Treasurer Robert Straub was the Democratic choice.

In Oregon, Duncan will face Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield in November for the Senate seat now held by retiring Maurine Neuberger.

In that campaign, Viet Nam again is likely to be a dominant. theme. Hatfield, who easily outdistanced three little-known rivals for the GOP nomination, has criticized Johnson's Asian policy.

In an Oregon sidelight, former Rep. Charles Porter—critical of the administration stand in Viet Nam—led Dist. Atty. William Frye, a Johnson supporter, for the Democratic nomination to succeed Duncan.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

To Open Door To Partner's Hand, Don't Act Like A Dog, Be A Man

In a certain kind of hand bridge players remind me of a dog that tries to open a door by jumping at it.

Opening lead — ♡ K

West opened the king of hearts, and East had to win with the ace. East promptly returned the king of diamonds. Mind you, East didn't bark or yelp, but his play was very canine.

REFUSES DIAMOND

South refused the first diamond trick but took the next. Declarer drew three rounds of trumps and led the nine of clubs for a finesse.

East could take the king of clubs, but that was the end of the defense.

South was sure to regain the lead no matter what East returned. Declarer then got rid of his hearts on dummy's good clubs.

NEEDS ENTRY

East should see that he can take a heart, a diamond and a club and that he must get to his partner's hand for the other heart trick to defeat the contract. How should East open a door to his partner's hand?

Certainly not by leading the king of diamonds. East should lead a low diamond at the second trick.

LIKE A MAN

East takes the king of clubs and leads another low diamond. West thus gains the lead with his 10 of diamonds and cashes a heart trick to defeat the contract. "Played like a man!" West would then say to his partner.

What if South has the ace-10 of diamonds instead of the ace-three?

Then South cannot be beaten, and East's defense gives up 30 points for an overtrick. This is a small price to pay for a chance to defeat the contract.

DAILY QUESTION

♦ K Q J 4 2
♣ K 7 4 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one diamond.

The hand is not quite worth a jump to two diamonds. Change the king of diamonds to the ace, and you might make the jump response.

Colma Man Fined

Earl Lavern Lanning, 59, of Colma, San Mateo County, was fined $276, given a 90-day suspended jail term on condition that he serve five days, and placed on three years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 37 on April 19.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, May 25, the 145th day of 1966 with 220 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn; the evening star is Jupiter.

American poet and essayist, Ralph Waldo Emerson, was born on this day in 1803.

On this day in history:

In 1935, Babe Ruth hit his last home run, the 714th of his career, in Pittsburgh where his team, the Boston Braves, were entered Shanghai as Nationalist troops abandoned defense of the city.

In 1964, the Supreme Court unanimously held unconstitutional the closing of public schools to avoid desegregation in Prince Edward County, Va.

A Thought for the Day — British novelist Joseph Conrad said: "A man's real life is that accorded to him in the thoughts of other men by reason of respect or natural love."

Report Card Halt Asked In Kentfield

A committee of parents, teachers, administrators and a trustee in Kentfield School District Monday night reported substantial agreement that report cards should be abandoned in favor of parent-teacher conferences.

The committee, which has been meeting for four months, said it is working on a plan for doing away with the report cards. Instead, parents and teachers would meet at regular intervals to discuss the child's progress. During the conference the parent would fill out a check list on the child's development to take home for his records.

The committee is made up of 11 parents, six teachers, one member of the school board and some administrators, according to Supt. Howard C. Harmon. It should have a definite plan for school board consideration by June 27, he said.

The board awarded five per cent raises, at a cost of $5,380 to the district, to the administrative staff. Harmon's salary, for example, will rise from $18,550 to $19,500.

Kentfield School District Trustees also:

1. Authorized Harmon to hire a landscape architect to prepare plans for landscaping at Adaline E. Kent School.
2. Authorized Harmon to seek informal bids for the district's annual audit.
3. Accepted the resignation of Mary Ann Willmarth, arts and crafts teacher at Kent School.
4. Hired Mrs. Lydia Deinies as a district Spanish teacher at $5,700 annually, and Mrs. Lorraine Valandra to teach fifth grade at Greenbrae School for $8,664.
5. Accepted as complete the addition of a storage room and shop area at Kent School.

Ex-Convict To Face Trial For Shooting

The ex-convict, of 107 Drake Avenue, Marin City, is accused of firing a shotgun blast May 2 striking Leroy Clark, 31, of 121 Drake Avenue, Marin City. Clark recovered.

Speech Therapy Class Signup Dates Slated

Deadline for registration for the annual six-week summer speech therapy session sponsored by the Easter Seal Society is June 3.

Children may be enrolled for the June 20 through July 29 session for a variety of speech problems, including pre-kindergarten pupils. Director of the speech center, at 629 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, is Mrs. Helen Daggett.

CREAMPUFF '57 BUICK $345

Here's a rare car that we get once in a great while. A one owner 4 Dr. hardtop Special that we sold new in 1957 and just took in trade on another new Buick.
Original, local couple have given this clean, dependable car a lot of loving care. We're the only one to ever touch it mechanically. Artic white with absolutely brand new appearing upholstery. Power steering, automatic radio and heater.
Cleanest older car in town. You won't believe it's 9 years old when you look at it.

NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT HARVARD-PRINCETON AVENUE IMPROVEMENT PROJECT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 5th day of October, 1965, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention No. 8693A as subsequently amended, wherein it did declare that in its opinion the public interest and convenience required, and that it was the intention of said Board to order the following acquisitions and improvements, to-wit:

(a) The acquisition of property necessary for the widening of Princeton Avenue from California Avenue to a point 158 feet, more or less, northerly of that 10 foot lane between Lot 1 of Block 214 and Lot 1 of Block 217 as shown on the Map of Marin Terrace, Subdivision 2, Marin Heights, recorded in Book 4 of Maps at page 44, Marin County records, and Harvard Avenue from California Avenue to a point 136 feet, more or less, westerly of that 10 foot lane between Lots 46 and 47 of Block 207, as shown on said map, to a uniform width of 40 feet and the improvement thereof by grading, removing trees, bushes and existing structures and the construction therein of base, pavement, curbs, gutters, retaining walls and surface and subsurface storm drainage facilities where necessary, and the modification and relocation of utility lines where necessary.

(b) The acquisition of all lands and easements and the performing of all work auxiliary to any of the above necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Board of Directors of said County and on file for public inspection in the office of the County Clerk.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the County Clerk, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. Said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district;

The estimated cost of said project is $72,638.86.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided by Division 7 of the Streets and Highways Code, the Improvement Act of 1911, and the last installment of such bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be made payable to bearer and provide a premium of 5% of the unmatured principal thereof on call.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention, as amended, are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work, and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the County Clerk.

Notice is further given that the Director of Public Works pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, as amended, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 17th day of May, 1966, file with the County Clerk of said County his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, as amended.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Tuesday, the 21st day of June, 1966, at the hour of 3:00 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Board, Supervisors Chambers, Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Board when and where it will consider and finally determine whether the public interest and convenience require said acquisitions and improvements, and when it will consider and determine whether the owners of a majority of the area of the property in the proposed assessment district have protested against said acquisitions and improvements or any portion thereof, and when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, as amended, and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions, and that any person interested may file a written protest with the County Clerk at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention, as amended, and said report, including plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs, diagram and assessment, and maps and descriptions for a more particular description of said acquisitions and improvements to be had and done, and for further particulars, all on file in the office of the County Clerk.

NOTICE OF SALE OF PROPERTY DELINQUENT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF ASSESSMENT BOND NO. 63 SERIES 6058 MARINERO IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT, ISSUED FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN MARIN COUNTY

State of California, Default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons, 1/2/66, Pr. $174.88; 7/2/65, Int. $20.98; 1/2/66, Int. $20.98; and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, State of California, proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond. Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 3rd day of June 1966, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of publication of this notice, are paid, and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond together with the cost of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to-wit: Lot No. 16, as shown on the map of Red Hill Unit No. 2, which said map was filed in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, on the 7th day of September, 1960, in Book 10 of Maps at page 74. The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof $174.88, due on account of interest $41.96; due on account of penalties $14.25; Total amount due on said bond $231.09.

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publication made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment. Bond may be reinstated upon payment of amounts due, interest, penalties, and fees, in the manner provided by law.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due, accruing up to the date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and $1.00 for the issuance of certificate of sale.

The Independent-Journal is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 3rd day of June, 1966, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of publication of this notice, are paid, and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond together with the cost of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to-wit: Lot No. 15, as shown on the map of Red Hill Unit No. 2, which said map was filed in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, on the 7th day of September, 1960, in Book 10 of Maps at page 74. The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof $174.88, due on account of interest $41.96; due on account of penalties $14.25; Total amount due on said bond $231.09.

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publication made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment. Bond may be reinstated upon payment of amounts due, interest, penalties, and fees, in the manner provided by law.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due, accruing up to the date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and $1.00 for the issuance of certificate of sale.

The Independent-Journal is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Good reports continue to appear on allopurinol in the treatment of gout. We hope that the new remedy will be available in this country by the time this article appears. In many patients with severe gout, the level of uric acid in the blood fell within two to three days and was within normal range seven to 10 days after starting the drug.

In gout the body is unable to handle certain protein-type foods which are high in purine. As a result, one of the waste products from this protein (uric acid) accumulates in the bloodstream and body tissues. The uric acid prefers joints, especially those at the base of the big toe which becomes swollen, red, and extremely tender to the touch.

WE HAVE medications that relieve pain (colchicine) and drugs such as probenecid that stimulate the kidneys to filter out and hasten removal of uric acid from the blood. The alternative is to avoid foods that are rich in purines such as meats, fish, poultry, sweetbreads

Don't be a memory, be alive!

Let's blow the whistle on accidents this Memorial Day Weekend

Don't get carried away by your car—drive it with care and consideration. Remember, a car is powerless until you put on the power. Its speed is YOUR speed and its control is in YOUR hands. Which means that you can control and eliminate accidents by safe and sane driving. To further help you on the highway, the California Highway Patrol will be out in force this weekend. They'll police the road; you police your car. A great combination for a safer, happier holiday!

CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY PATROL

Presented in the public interest by the Independent Journa

A wreck like this occurs in seconds, but the affects can wreck lives, families and homes forever. If you think you're a good driver, prove it!

A car is only as safe as its driver. This weekend, stay alert; use your head, not the throttle; and give the other fellow the courtesy you expect him to give you.

TELEVISION REVIEW

'Critics' Consensus' Makes Some Choices

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —CBS-TV's "Death of a Salesman" has been named the finest entertainment program of the past television season by "Critics' Consensus," a newly-formed poll of 12 video columnists.

Actually, the poll has no predetermined categories, and awards are not intended as "bests" for just this season, but as outstanding achievement in any year. But "Death of a Salesman" was the only entertainment endeavor to get at least the required two-thirds of the votes, and therefore was the clear choice for the 1965-66 season.

The Arthur Miller drama, which starred Lee J. Cobb and Mildred Dunnock, received 11 votes. The Barbra Streisand special, "Color Me Barbra," was next among entertainment shows with seven votes, one shy of the two-thirds majority. No network series was a winner.

The "Critics' Consensus" was made up of television columnists in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Memphis, Houston, Seattle, St. Louis, Detroit, Miami, Washington, D.C., and Hollywood. This writer is a member.

There were only four award winners under the two-thirds system, with the period considered being from mid-May of 1965 to mid-May of 1966. In addition to "Death of a Salesman," those cited were Fred Friendly, former president of CBS News; the NBC-TV network, and the Xerox Corp.

I voted for "Death of a Salesman" and Mr. Friendly, but not for the two other award winners. In the case of the Xerox Corp., which also won an Emmy citation Sunday night, I felt that although the company has earned recognition by its approach, it was somehow wrong to cite a sponsor for doing what it ought to be doing in the first place. Since the Xerox Corp. got 11 of the "Critics' Consensus" votes—out of 12—I was somewhat in the minority in this view.

In the case of NBC-TV, I found myself unable to vote for anything as vast and complex as an entire network, even though there were some specific citations within the overall citation. For a network —any network—puts on so many things and does so many things, bad as well as good, that I could not bring myself to give what could be construed as an overall endorsement.

Mr. Friendly received nine votes, the result of getting 29 separate citations for seven nominated reasons. The reasons were:

For conceiving the national audience-involvement test of CBS-TV, about such subjects as driving, citizenship and health.

For pioneering television debate on Viet Nam.

For dedication to high standards of television journalism.

For courageous news documentaries.

For refusing to recognize or take part in the Emmy awards.

—For resigning to protect CBS' failure to furnish complete live coverage of the Senate hearings on Viet Nam.

While I voted for Mr. Friendly for most of the reasons above, his resignation was not one of them . . . agreeing with his protest, I personally wish that after making his point as forcefully as he did, he could have found some way to stay on his job, and continue to be a maverick to the hucksters who were just as happy to be rid of him.

Audio Gear Stolen

Mrs. John O'Hara reported to Mill Valley police at 7:30 a.m. today that burglars entered her home at 141 Del Casa Drive, apparently through the front door, and stole a tape recorder, two speakers and a tuner valued at a total of $890.

Gasoline Tank Taken

Ark Dwellers Again Protest Over Eviction

County supervisors yesterday heard further complaints from Corte Madera Creek ark dwellers who asked why they had received lease cancellation notices from the State Lands Commission last week.

The ark dwellers left a meeting of supervisors last week understanding that the 60-day notices would not be issued. These are owners of 15 arks on the west side of Bon Air Bridge who would not have to move for a year if something could be done to continue sewer service.

The downstream phase of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project, to begin in July, will take out the service for the 15 arks.

Supervisors, some of whom also thought the state notices would be delayed, asked that the state give its position on the eviction notices in writing.

"The state has varied back and forth," said Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks.

Public Work Director Donald R. Frost reported an alternate sewer line would cost at least $10,000, not $17,000 as estimated last week.

Supervisors Decry Small School Bonds

Small bond offerings made by school districts came under sharp attack from county supervisors yesterday after they opened four bids on $97,000 in bonds of the San Anselmo School District.

Lowest bid was 4.1211 per cent submitted by Dean Witter and Co., well above the recent 3.9 per cent offered for a larger San Rafael Elementary School District bond sale.

"This is just pure folly," Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker declared. "It's fiscal irresponsibility."

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said the small issues are often caused by the need for districts to bond to capacity to get advantageous state loans and other aids. Supervisors agreed these regulations should be studied and changes recommended.

Mitchell said that situation also appeared as an argument for district consolidations.

Other bidders were Bank of America at 4.1722 per cent, Bateman, Eichler, Hill and Richards at 4.1989 per cent, and Tannen, Winslow and Co. at 4.350909 per cent.

The bids were referred to Mitchell for recommendation on award of contract.

Cycle-Car Crash Hurts Cyclist

A Fairfax man was injured in a motorcycle-car collision at 133 Tamalpais Avenue, Fairfax, at 7:58 a.m. yesterday.

C. J. Glover of 171 Tamalpais Road, Fairfax, who was driving the car, was cited by Fairfax police for driving left of the center line.

Leach Gains U.S. Open Golf Sectional

Ray Leach, the golfing teenager from Novato, and Bob Ellsworth, assistant pro at San Geronimo National golf course, finished among the top 20 yesterday to qualify for the U.S. Open sectionals, stepping stone to the big one in golf.

Leach, the 15-year-old Novato High School student, followed his opening round of 74 with a 76 yesterday at Peninsula Golf and Country Club in San Mateo, while Ellsworth carded a 74 yesterday at Burlingame Country Club in Hillsborough to go along with his 76 the day before.

The 150 totals jut the two Marin County golfers into the sectional tournament scheduled June 7 at San Francisco Golf Club. The U.S. Open itself will be June 16-19 at the Olympic Country Club in San Francisco.

Making it to the sectionals is a feat in itself. Out of 2,437 golfers --pros and amateurs alike—the national field has been pared down to 449. Leach and Ellsworth are among the 449. Those survivors compete in 13 sectionals around the country. The field will then be cut to 123 golfers who will join the 28 players exempt from the Open qualifications.

The 20 qualifiers from the Bay Area "local" competition will join nine from Sacramento, five from Fresno and six from Hawaii, along with locally exempt Harvie Ward and Kyle Burton, in the sectional battle for seven U.S. Open spots.

Six other Marin County golfers were ousted in yesterday's qualifying round. It took 150 or better to make it, with four of eight golfers who scored 151 playing off for the final spots.

The six were: Ron Cerrudo of Mill Valley, 79-74—153; Bob Finn Marin Country Club pro, 77-79—156; LeRoy Silva, Meadow Club pro, 77-81—158, and Marin Country Club amateurs Kai Thomsen, 80-78—158, and George Greenwood, 82-83—165. Marin Country Club assistant pro Mike Rawitser didn't finish the tournament after scoring an 88 in the first round.

MARIN'S GOLF SCENE

MRS. JOHN SAUTER defeated Mrs. Charles Fleishman on the 20th hole and Mrs. Harold Suhrke defeated Mrs. George Fraser 1 up in the first flight of yesterday's handicap tournamet third round play at the Peacock Gap Women's Golf Club.

In the Peacock Flight, Mrs. William Cardinal downed Mrs. Richard Clarke and Mrs. Donald Fox defeated Mrs. Martin Bramonte, each match ending 5 and 4.

Mrs. Richard DeKay shot a 91-25—66 to win the club trophy at Peacock Gap in medal play competition and Mrs. A. S. Cole won the putting contest with a low of 30 putts.

Class winners:

Class B—Mrs. Richard DeKay, 91-25-66; Mrs. Charles Fleishman, 93-24-69; Mrs. John Sauter, 92-23-69.

SEVEN MEMBERS of the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club "beat the pro" yesterday and two others tied.

Indian Valley pro Jeff McAndrew shot a scratch 74, three over par, and the gals tried to match it on a handicap basis. Beating the 74 with net scores were Mesdames Jerry Evans, 68; Lew Baysinger, 68; Roy Enos, 71; Thomas Hardcastle, 71; John Gaylord, 72; Homer Sisk, 72; and Rigby Wilkie, 72.

Tying his 74 were Mesdames Norman Herr and Anthony Bacich.

MRS. BO JOHNSON will be going against Mrs. Barry Marsh next Tuesday in the Championship Flight finals of the Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club championship tournament.

SUDDEN DEATH CLIMAX IN MARIN NET LEAGUE

The Marin Athletic League tennis championship will be on the line today when San Rafael High School's Tony Lugo takes on Tamalpais netter Joe Freidman.

Their marathon singles match went four hours yesterday on the San Rafael court before it was halted because of darkness. At the time, Tam and San Rafael were tied at 2-2, Lugo and Freidman were deadlocked at one set each, and were tied 3-3 in the third set. Joe won the first set 6-4 and Lugo outlasted him in the second one, 14-12.

The two will start where they left off yesterday, with Freidman serving. It will be at 3:30 p.m. on the San Rafael courts.

Since San Rafael and Tam are tied for the league lead at 9-1 with final matches scheduled tomorrow, the winner of the match will clinch at least a tie for the crown.

'Cats Gain Tourney; Novato Whips S.R.

Three-sport all-star John Dolinsek pitched a three-hitter yesterday as his Novato High School Hornets walloped San Rafael 6-1 at Novato in their showdown for the Marin Athletic League baseball co-championship.

Both teams had 7-4 won-lost records going into the final day of action, so Novato woundup as co-champ with Tamalpais and Marin Catholic, each with an 8-4 record.

Last night, in a wild scene at Greenbrae, the Marin Catholic Wildcats won a flip of the coin to represent the league in the Redwood Invitational Tournament of Champions starting tomorrow at San Rafael. See story on page 46. Also, see "Along Marin's Sports Trail."

Dolinsek, a pitcher-first baseman for the Hornet horsehiders who also won recognition in football and basketball, not only struck out 10 Bulldogs yesterday but unoffficially captured the MAL batting championship with two hits in two at-bats, increasing his season average to .412.

DOLINSEK DOUBLES

With the Hornets leading 2-1 in the fift anr two out, Dolinsek doubled to right and scored on a single by Tom Owens who went to second on a throwing error to the plate. Owens then advanced to third on a passed ball and scored when Gary Dinkel ripped a single, making it 4-1.

Starting a two-run sixth inning rally, Hornet John Youngs singled and went to second on another throwing error. Youngs moved to third and Ev Fritz reached first on a fielder's choice, then Youngs was waved home when Bulldog pitcher Joe Cunningham balked. Fritz, now on second, scored on Frank Perachiotti's single.

Gilliam Star For Tam's Co-Champs

Tamalpais High School's baseball team clinched one-third of the Marin Athletic League championship yesterday, nipping the hard-luck Drake Pirates, 3-1, on the Tam field.

Drake took a 1-0 lead in the first inning, but Tam's Ron Gilliam, the winninges hurler in the league, blanked the Pirates the rest of the way and boosted his win-loss record to 7-1, striking out 13 and yielding just 3 safeties en route to his sixth consecutive victory.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Little Miracle At Greenbrae: The JFK Coin That Twinkled...

Three coins in the men's room,
Each one seeking happiness,
Thrown by three hopeful glovers,
Which one did the Padre bless...

Pardon me while I sing on the job today, but all us mackeral snappers are deliriously happy and proud over the success of the Marin Catholic High School baseball team.

Heavenly days and holy mackeral, those Fightin' Wildcats not only tied for the Marin Athletic League championship, but last night they won a flip of the coin to determine which of the three co-champions would represent the league in the Tournament of Champions.

THE SOLEMN rites were conducted in the Marin Catholic gymnasium, but such a crowd jammed the court that League Commissioner George Corson moved the three baseball coaches into a back room for a private contest.

Each of the coaches—Gary Hughes of Marin, Bob Aune of Novato and Al Ahlsten of Tam—was given a Kennedy half-dollar and Marin Catholic Director of Athletics Rev. Donald Kohles assured the gathering that ALL three coins were blessed. (But we know, we know, don't we, Father?)

Tournament of Champions Director Al Endriss piously suggested to Father Kohles that the results be signalled to the waiting crowd by black and white holy smoke sent through a chimney but the Father told him to pipe down.

ANYWAY, IT was too late because the jubilant Hughes exploded out of the room, into the gymnasium where he screamed the results to the congregation, touching off the wildest scene this side of St. Peter's Square.

Oh, sure, there were some soreheads who growled that Marin Catholic had the "home court advantage" in the coin-tossing contest, or that "somebody up there likes them," but the general feeling around the league was, "Good for them. They can use a little luck."

INDEED THEY can, for this marks only Marin Catholic's second major varsity sports championship in the eight-year history of the Marin League—the only previous one also in baseball back around 1961.

I don't have records before me, but I don't think

Walking Wounded Giants Limp Past Bobbling Bucs

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gaylord Perry is the newest successful outpatient on the San Francisco Giants, now the undisputed challenger to the Mayo Clinic nine in case histories.

The right-hander hobbled out to the mound last night with a pulled groin muscle, pitched a strong seven innings and triggered both rallies with inning-opening singles as the Giants beat Pittsburgh, 5-2.

The victory, during which Giant third baseman Jim Hart re-injured his right shoulder getting away from an inside pitch, kept the Giants atop the National League by 3½ games over Houston.

In the seventh inning with the score tied 2-2, Perry singled and moved to second on a sacrifice by Tito Fuentes. This brought Manager Herman Franks, R.N., onto the field for a consultation.

"I didn't want to leave," said Perry later. "'Can you run good?' he asked me. I couldn't run very well."

Perry had jammed his left ankle sliding into second in the Giants' two-run third inning. He left the field looking like the end man in the Spirit of '76 and soon was a winner for the sixth time in seven decisions.

"He (Franks) made the right decision," agreed Perry, who was relieved by Frank Linzy.

This made a loser of Vern Law (1-2), ordained an Elder of the Church of Latter Day Saints. The Mormon Tabernacle Choir came to Candlestick Park from Salt Lake City to cheer Law.

"I've been working on my hitting," said Perry, who gave up seven hits and struck out seven. "I've got to get a raise somehow.

"I pulled the groin muscle (May 6) in St. Louis," Perry told a small group of medical historians. "They have a high mound there."

After the Pirates touched Perry for a run in the third inning, the Giants came back with two quick runs which were little of their own doing.

Perry opened with a single and was safe at second when Law threw Fuentes' bunt into center. Shortstop Gene Alley then deprived the Pirates of a doubleplay with a high relay throw to first.

Mays, who hadn't batted in a run since May 13, got Perry home with a hard infield smash that turned into a force out. But first baseman Donn Clendenon dropped McCovey's high pop for an error and Mays scored on Hart's subsequent single.

Bob Scanlon Wins Nod On Technicality

SAN JOSE (AP) — Officials stopped a scheduled 10-round fight between Luis Molina of San Jose and Bobby Scanlon of San Francisco last night and awarded Scanlon a technical decision after the ninth round.

Scanlon, 139, a former Fairfax resident, was ahead on all three cards. Bybee and judge Jack Silver scored the fight 7-1 for Scanlon and judge Fred Apostoli scored it 6-2.

Under California rules, the fighter ahead on points is awarded the decision if he is unable to continue because of a butt. Molina's trainer, however, contended Molina, 139½, should have been awarded a technical knockout.

About 1,300 fans paid $4,730 to see the bout.

Terra Linda Ace Hurls 1-Hitter

Corona faced only 22 batters in the seven-inning game, as the man who got the lone hit in the fifth inning was the only base runner. He didn't get past first base.

Redwood Tourney Of Champs Opens Tomorrow

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Students and backers of Marin Catholic High School were still high on a cloud today after a flip of a coin put the Marin Athletic League co-champs into the Redwood Baseball Tournament of Champions which begins tomorrow.

Marin Catholic, sharing a piece of the MAL baseball title with Novato and Tamalpais high schools after yesterday's final games, won the coin flipping ceremonies in its own gym yesterday evening, earning the right to compete in the San Rafael Tournament.

The Oakland Athletic League also completed its season yesterday, with Skyline winning the championship and a berth in the Baseball TOC. Marin Catholic will be bringing a record of 12 wins, 11 losses and 1 tie into the tourney and Skyline boasts a 16-4 mark.

There is still one berth undecided on the eve of the tournament openers. El Cerrito and San Leandro, champs of the Alameda Athletic League, playoff today, the winner coming to San Rafael to fill the 10-team tournament.

There will be three games tomorrow, three Friday and seven Saturday, the championship game scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. All but one of the games will be played at Albert Field. With the big load Saturday, a 2 p.m. consolation game will be played at College of Marin's diamond in Kentfield. But that still leaves six games Saturday for Albert Park, and that should be enough to quench the prep baseball thirst of any baseball fan.

In tomorrow's opening round schedule, it's Arroyo (12-6) of the Hayward Athletic League vs. St. Elizabeth's (23-5) of the Catholic Athletic League, 4 p.m.; Napa (18-5-2) of the North Bay League vs. Mount Diablo (14-6) of the Diablo Valey Athletic League, 6 p.m., and Marin Catholic (12-11-1) of the MAL vs. Westmoor (10-10) of the North Peninsula Athletic League, 8 p.m.

The winners of the first two Thursday games will meet in Friday's opening game at 4 p.m., followed by Skyline (16-4) of the Oakland Athletic League vs. Lincoln (17-5) of the Mount Hamilton Athletic League, 6 p.m., and either El Cerrito or San Leandro vs. Monterey (18-6) of the Monterey Bay League, 8 p.m.

Saturday's games start at 10 a.m.

The tournament is ideal for major league baseball scouts, as they can watch some of the best prospects in Northern California without leaving their seats.

"I've already talked to 15 scouts who are going to be here," said tournament director Al Endriss, Redwood High School baseball coach. "The scout from the Los Angeles Angels told me the Angels drafted Monterey first baseman-pitcher Craig Shell No. 2 after getting a good look at him in last year's tournament here." Endriss said Shell is currently attending University of California at Santa Barbara.

A strict time limit will be enforced on all games, with no new inning after 1 hour and 45 minutes from the start of the game. An exception will be made in the case of a tie, with a maximum of two extra innings allowed. If the game is still tied, it will be settled by a flip of a coin. The tie rule will not be in effect in the championship game.

If any team is ahead by nine runs after five innings, the game will be called at that point.

Trophies will go to the championship team, the runner-up, and third place winner. After the championship game, a 10-man all-tournament team will be selected.

Admission each day is $1 for adults and 50 cents for student body card holders.

shortstop Mike Biber, 2 for 3 on the day including a double in the fourth, cracked a bases loaded single to start the uprising. And Mike Einstein, first baseman, hit a sacrifice fly to drive home the final score of the game. One of the league's top sluggers, Einstein failed to hit safely in two offical at-bats.

Indian Steve Woodward, cited by Coach Al Ahlsten as one of the best second sackers in the leauge handled a bad throw from Biber in the third when the Pirates had runners at all statons, then wheeled with a perfect pivot at second, throwing to first base for the doubleplay and final out of the inning, providing the game's most sparkling fielding play.

MR. CLUTCH DELIVERS AGAIN AS DODGERS SHADE PHILLIES

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mr. Clutch has shifted gears again and the Los Angeles Dodgers are driving.

Ron Fairly, the Dodgers' unsung delivery man, rapped an eighth inning home run last night that made the difference in a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia, the fifth victory in the last six games for the world champions.

Fairly has hit four of his five 1966 homers in his last five games, helping the Dodgers stay within range of first-place San Francisco in the National League race.

Three weeks ago, however, the versatile red-head was struggling to brake a batting skid while the Dodgers, after dropping three straight to the Giants, were at a standstill.

Fairly, a .270 lifetime hitter, had gone 4-for-36 and was hitting a miserable .203.

Since then, he's rolled at a .400 clip, lifting his average to .290, and driven in 11 runs for a team-leading total of 20. The 27-year-old outfielder paced the club with 70 RBI last season and hit a solid .274.

Last night's homer sent L. A. in front 3-1 but turned out to be the winning blow when the Phils scored in the ninth against Ron Perranoski. Perranoski, who came on for winner Don Sutton in the eighth, had not allowed a run in his previous 11 appearances.

Elsewhere, the Giants whipped Pittsburgh 5-2, Cincinnati blasted Atlanta 8-2, Houston beat New York 5-3 and Chicago blanked St. Louis 2-0.

The Dodgers, held to three hits through six innings by Bob Buhl, erased a 1-0 Philadelphia lead in the seventh on run-scoring singles by pinch hitter Al Ferrara and Maury Wills.

The Reds struck for seven runs in the sixth inning and put away Atlanta behind the six-hit pitching of winner Joey Jay, 5-2, and Bill McCool.

Tommy Helms, who cracked four hits for the night, triggered the big inning with a single and finished it off with a run-scoring single. Don Pavletich singled in two runs and John Edwards doubled across two more as the Reds sent 11 men to the plate and collected half of their 16 hits in the sixth.

The Astros scored four runs in the first inning — three on Jim Gentile's bases-loaded double — and held off the Mets on Claude Raymond's one-hit relief pitching over the last 5 1-3 innings. Rusty Staub knocked in the other Houston runs with a double and single.

Glenn Beckert doubled in the sixth inning at St. Louis, and scored on Ernie Banks' sacrifice fly, then drove in the Cubs' second run with a seventh inning single.

Soccer Action On Tap Sunday

Guadalajara of Oakland plays Mercury of San Francisco for the State Cup lower section soccer title at Balboa Stadium in San Francisco, Sunday, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Also on the program will be a junior game at 11:15 a.m., and a game between University Select and San Francisco "Under 23" at 3 p.m.

Next Wednesday night, the famous Glasgow Celtic from Scotland goes against Tottenham Hotspur from London in Kezar Stadium at 8:15. On the following Wednesday, June 8, the Celtic takes on Bayern Munchen from Munich, Germany.

Seven Rookies Reach Big Time In '500'

By PAUL PETROTTA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Seven rookie drivers — considered veterans outside Indianapolis — will crack the big time in the 50th 500-mile classic May 30.

"You're nobody until you've run this joint," said Mel Kenyon of Davenport, Iowa. "It really makes you a somebody."

The last time a rookie hit the winner's circle at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was 1927 when George Souders of Lafayette, Ind., piloted a Duesenberg at 97-plus miles per hour.

Two first-timers this season, Graham Hill of London and Jackie Stewart of Dunbarton, Scotland, are leading drivers on the World Grand Prix circuit.

Besides these and Kenyon, the rookies are Gary Congdon, Garden Grove, Calif.; Cale Yarborough, Charlotte, N.C.; Carl Williams, Kansas City, Mo., and Larry Dickson, Marietta, Ohio.

Stewart, 26, is the hottest driver on the international circuit. Last Sunday he won the season's first Grand Prix race at Monaco and during the first three months of 1966 he won four of eight events to capture the Tasman Championship to Australia and New Zealand.

Stewart, who drives a Lola-Ford, lives 100 miles from Scot Jimmy Clark, who captured the 1965 world road racing crown and is the defending champion at Indianapolis.

Hill, 36, earned the Grand Prix title in 1962 and since has placed second three straight years. The veteran, who started as a mechanic and free lance driver, also will pilot a Lola-Ford in the 500.

Kenyon was burned badly and lost his left hand in a crash at Langhorne, Pa., last June. He missed the rest of the season, but this year his qualification speed of 158.555 m.p.h. put him in the sixth of 11 starting rows.

Kenyon feels the only way his Gerhardt-Offenhauser can win at Indianapolis is "to try to outlast the Fords." Next to Kenyon will be Congdon in a Huffaker-Offenhauser.

Williams spun his Gerhardt-Ford three times before he finally qualified the car last Saturday. He was unhurt.

Yarborough is better known on the stock car circuit where he was runner-up last February in the Daytona 500. He drove his Vollstedt-Ford to a four-lap qualifying average of 159.704 m.p.h. at Indianapolis.

Dickson was the last to make this year's 500 field. He did it with his Halibrand-Ford in the final hour last Sunday.

The Speedway's regular rookie crop has produced several stars—including this year's pole position winner, Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa.

Andretti was Rookie of the Year last May for a third place in the 500 and he finished the season as the U.S. Auto Club national champion.

At indianapolis this month, he has been the pace-setter, pushing his Brabham-Brawner-Ford to the official Speedway records of 165.899 m.p.h. for four laps and 166.328 for one lap.

His car refashioner, Clint Brawner of Phoenix, Ariz., was honored last night as the top mechanic at Indianapolis.

COSTLY BUCS' ERROR

Pittsburgh Pirates first baseman Donn Clendenon (right) misses a pop-fly off the bat of San Francisco's Willie McCovey as third baseman Bob Bailey tries to catch the rebound. The dropped fly in the third inning put men on first and third. Next batter Jim Ray Hart stung a single to score Willie Mays from third, as the Giants went on to win the game at Candlestick Park, 5-2. (UPI Telephoto)

Marin, by far the smallest school in the league, has won a MAL football game in more than four years!

This school year has been brutal. Last fall the Wildcats were 0-6 in football and in basketball this past season they finished with a 3-9 varsity record.

IN THIS spring's sports the Marin Catholic A, B and C track and field teams lost all 18 of their MCAL dual meets, the golf team lost all 11 of its matches and the tennis players were 0-12.

So you see, last night when Hughes' four-bit piece came up heads, every Catholic in the gym could swear they noticed a twinkle in John Fitzgerald Kennedy's minted eye.

Sailing Classes Are Scheduled

Classes designed to help persons new to sailing are going to be offered by Mrs. G. C. Nooney of Mill Valley.

Starting next Tuesday, Mrs. Nooney will give a series of Tuesday one-hour classes, starting at 6:30 p.m., to accommodate the "working girls." The classes will be dockside in Sausalito.

She will also offer the classes to couples, three two-hour lectures for Thursday evenings, starting July 14. The classes will start at 8 p.m.

WOMAN GETS ACE AT PEACOCK GAP

Mrs. Richard DeKay of 14 Oak View Drive, San Rafael shot a hole-in-one yesterday while competing in a tournament at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club in San Rafael.

Mrs. DeKay aced the 150-yard third hole, using a three-wood. Witnessing the shot was Mrs. Martin Bramonte.

Sadecki Very, Very Good, But When He's Bad He's Horrid

HANLEY

At the moment the Ray Sadecki-Orlando Cepeda trade looks like a lemon to Giant fans, particularly boosters of the Bull who is hitting home runs for St. Louis while Sadecki is serving gopher pitches for San Francisco.

The Frank Robinson-Milt Pappas swap temporarily looked the same way to Red fans, particularly rooters of Robinson who immediately began hitting a ton for Baltimore while Pappas was still striving to win his first game for Cincinnati.

Sadecki suffered three successive kayoes in his three initial starts for the Giants, serving home run pitches in his first two assignments and failing to get past the first inning in his last one Sunday against the Mets.

IF THERE were anything wrong with Sadecki's arm, there would be good cause for alarm about the trade. There isn't. Sadecki's problem is one that has plagued the best of pitchers, a wild and high streak that will disappear as soon as he recaptures a rhythmic follow-through.

Take Don Landrum's word for it. Landrum and Sadecki were roommates as Cardinals in 1962 when Sadecki survived another crisis. Now, as Giant teammates, Landrum and Sadecki once again are roommates.

"MY ROOMIE," said Landrum, "is going to win his share of games for us. Make no mistake about it. He's a competitor. He may not look like a pitcher who is exerting himself but he gives every pitch all he's got. He may look lackadaisical on the mound but don't be misled by appearances. He's a fighter."

IT WAS A lackadaisical impression Sadecki created in a 1962 sixth inning relief role against Cincinnati that confronted him with a crisis.

"That was the poorest exhibition of effort I've ever seen on a major league diamond," said Johnny Geane, then Cardinal manager, in a tongue-lashing and $250 fine to Sadecki.

The score was 4-1 in favor of the Reds when Sadecki took over. Bob Purkey hit a homer. Eddie Kasko singled. Then Sadecki made two fielding errors before being tagged for a three-run homer by Robinson. So suddenly the score was 9-1. But the Cardinals ultimately won 10-9.

"If we hadn't won it," said Keane, "the fine would have been $500."

IN THE Cardinal dressing room that night, Sadecki and Bing Devine, then St. Louis general manager, engaged in a shouting match. Sadecki did not show up the next night. So Devine suspended him.

Contacted at his apartment the next day by St. Louis baseball writers, Sadecki said he wanted to be traded.

"I don't see how I can pitch for that manager any more," said Sadecki. "I pitched lousy and I don't mind being chewed out for that but he had no cause for slamming my effort. He was hitting below the belt. I never heard of a fine for pitching bad. How about Purkey? He blew an eight-run lead.

"CERTAINLY I wasn't trying to give Purkey a home run. I knew I had a chance to win that game. I ran into dynamite. We came back and did the same thing to them. That's baseball. There aren't many 2-1 games. What do they do then, fine the hitters?"

Sadecki two seasons later became a 20-game winner for the Cardinals. Without his 20-11 mark in 1964 there would have been no pennant in St. Louis.

Sadecki pitches somewhat like the little girl in the nursery rhyme acted. When he is good he is very,very good. When he is bad, he is horrid.

Baseball Clinics

Baseball clinics for the Novato farm league and pee wee leaguers will be held the next four consecutive Saturdays at the Marion Elementary School grounds. The pee wee leagues will meet from 10:30 a.m. to noon and the farm league from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

San Marin Club Swim Tryouts Slated Saturday

San Marin Pisceans, a newly formed synchronized swimming club, will conduct tryouts Saturday, 11 a.m. at the San Marin Recreation Club, Novato.

Eligible are girls 8 to 17 years of age who are able to swim at least one length of the four strokes—American crawl, backstroke, sidestroke and breaststroke, according to team coach Kathy Kilpatrick.

The Pisceans, who last weekend won the women's novice outdoors synchronized championship of the Pacific Assn., Amateur Athletic Union, plan to conduct clincs, aquacades and compete in more AAU meets this summer.

Glamor Stocks Help Keep Market Active

NEW YORK (AP) —A rally by airlines and some other glamor stocks accompanied an active close of a mixed stock market today.

Trading began with a moderate decline which was held to a minimum. No selling pressure developed so prices improved enough to show an irregular pattern by early afternoon.

The list was able to digest profit taking on a three-day advance without yielding much ground. This encouraged speculative buying at the close.

This was the picture toward the close:

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.5 million shares compared with 7.22 million yesterday.

The list was down a bit in the morning as profits were taken on three days of advance. No selling pressure was generated, however, and buyers regained their courage.

A wide assortment of airlines, electronics and other glamor stocks, as well as blue chips, showed substantial gains. The averages were still dampened, however, by losses of a point in Du Pont and United Aircraft and fractional declines by Jersey Standard, U.S. Steel, Chrysler, American Telephone and New York Central.

Airlines rallied from early softness. Eastern gained about 2, American 1, Pan American and United fractions. Northwest gained 4, Delta 3, Continental and National more than a point each.

IBM was down about 4 but Polaroid gained 3 along with Johnson & Johnson.

Barber Oil tacked on 2. Up a point or better were Murphy Oil, SCM, Getty Oil, Diners' Club, Bucyrus-Erie (New), Xerox, Union Carbide and Zenith.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer traded about unchanged as ballots were counted following its proxy contest.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange recovered from an early decline and moved generally higher in active trading.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Ford To Produce New Sporty Car

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Ford II today confirmed reports that Lincoln-Mercury Division will market a new specialty car, the Cougar, in its 1967 line.

Ford said the new car "will offer more flair and sophistication than the present Mustang."

BIG, SWEET-SMELLING INDUSTRY

California growers supply almost one-fourth of the nation's flowers, doing a business in excess of $125 million a year and accounting for 35 per cent of all air freight shipping from San Francisco International Airport. In one of the huge flower farms at Half Moon Bay (San Mateo County) one worker loads fresh-cut carnations onto a truck for sorting and packing, while another logs yield of adjoining rows of gardenias. Frank Howard Allen Real Estate Firm Reorganizes, Incorporates

A reorganization in one of the county's oldest and best known real estate firms, Frank Howard Allen and Son, San Anselmo—now to be known as Frank Howard Allen and Co. — has taken place, involving recapitalization and incorporation.

Third generation member of the Allen family Charles Howard (Howdy) Allen is chairman of the board of the surviving firm. The original company was formed in 1910 by his grandfather. The latter was succeeded in 1925 by Frank Howard Allen, who became one of Marin's major real estate brokers, land developers and contractors. Frank was joined by son Charles in 1938.

Allen

Steele

Charles then took into partnership Robert C. Steele of San Rafael, who now becomes vice president and treasurer in the corporation. Between them they expanded the company to its present staff of some 30 employees and fou.. offices.

New member of the firm is J. S. (Jeff) Morshead, 36, of Mill Valley, who has been made president of the corporation. Holding a master's degree in business administration from Stanford University, Morshead has been in the real estate business associated with Fox and Carskadon on the Peninsula and in Marin since 1960. He will be active in the Southern Marin division of the corporation.

Morshead

Jerry Stone has also closed his San Rafael realty office and has joined up with Allen, and negotiations are in progress with other brokers in the county to do the same.

The rest of the staff and management continues at San Anselmo, San Rafael, Mill Valley and Sausalito offices—but look for expansion into Tiburon and Novato.

JAMES J. LAMB of Mill Valley has joined the San Francisco public relations firm of Arnold and Palmer Associates as an account executive. He was formerly publicity director for Campbell-Ewald Co., travel and trade division, and prior to that had his own public relations operation.

MARIN MOTORSPORTS of Merle (Sandy) Greenblat in San Rafael was fourth in sales among top Triumph motorcycle dealers in the 19 western states covered in a recent nine-month survey. Area covered by Marin Motorsports was second smallest in the survey, but surpassed communities of twice the population in unit sales. Greenblat took over the agency about a year ago and also handles Honda, Ducati, Norton and other popular makes of motorcycles.

THE WESTERN BUILDING INDUSTRY will group its forces to combat the pressure of price increases at the eighth annual Pacific Coast Builders Conference to be held June 7-9 at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

Originally intended to be primarily educational in nature, the convention this year will be more of a forum for builders and professional consultants to propose suggestions for meeting critical problems now besetting home building and to deliberate moves the industry can make to offset increased construction and development costs.

Dr. Robert C. Weaver, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, is expected to tell what the government proposes to do to improve the mortgage financing picture, and prominent West Coast financial executives will present their analysis of housing credit trends.

An exposition of building products and services, largest ever presented on the West Coast, will be held concurrently with the conference.

Weinstein Store Closes Doors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Weinstein's Department Store closed its 56-year-old outlet on Market street yesterday, after leasing the structure to Korbett Inc.

Ivan A. Anixter, Weinstein president, said his firm would continue to operate its five outlets in San Francisco as well as its stores in Hayward and Sunnyvale.

Korbett, a San Francisco Peninsula firm, operates the Bi-Lo Store in Sunnyvale and Anixter said it planned to open a store in the Market street building.

San Rafael Teachers Given Controversial Issue Policy

By FRANK FARRARA

The San Rafael Board of Education passed a policy of free discussion of controversial issues last night, then ran into controversy on two other proposed policies.

The new policy on teaching controversial issues allows for free discussion without bias or projudice so the issues can be discussed "in a fair and responsible manner."

The teacher has the responsibility to determine that the issues are germane to the course and that the students are ready for the topics and materials involved, the policy states.

"Teachers shall strive to teach students to weigh issues, to think critically, to respect the value of differing viewpoints, to arrive at their own conclusions and to appreciate the role of controversy in the democratic decision making process," according to the policy.

A proposed new policy for handling complaints about books and other instructional materials, which had been revised once, came in for further scrutiny.

Board Member Anita C. Strom suggested it include provision for the superintendent to present his recommendation along with that of a faculty committee which would review the complaint.

Theodore C. Lachelt, attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, suggested the deadline for filing a complaint be 30 days after the complainant first notifies the teacher.

Bella H. Aaron, attorney for Marin County Local 1077, American Federation of Teachers, backed his proposal.

R. J. Guthrie of 922 Lea Drive said that to regulate a citizen's complaint is to remove a citizen's right.

The board took no final action on the policy, but agreed to the revision that would require a recommendation from the superintendent.

Then board members started discussing a proposed policy for action against staff members, ran into more controversy, and finally tabled it.

Mrs. Strom questioned a section that said "anonymous or second hand (except from a student to his parent) complaints will not be acknowledged."

Supt. Bert C. Corona said that although anonymous complaints would not be "acknowledged," there would be occasions when they would be relayed to the teacher involved.

Paul L. Jones of 735 Las Colindas Road, Terra Linda, related long, futile effort to talk with a teacher at Terra Linda High School. One father took off from work for a whole day and saw no one, he said.

Jones said he felt no policy would be needed if everyone operated according to the education code.

On motion of member Herman L. Childress, the board tabled the policy proposal.

The board postponed discussion of proposed policies on evaluation of administrative and special service personal and sabbatical leaves for teachers.

Hamilton Trial Meets A Delay

The court martial of A/1c James O. Young on a charge of premeditated murder charge of A/1c Robert M. Jennings was continued indefinitely today.

Closing arguments by both the prosecution and defense were to have been heard this morning, but the court martial proceedings were postponed indefinitely pending further psychiatric examination of Airman Young.

The transcript of Young's testimony on the witness stand will be examined by an Air Force psychiatrist.

Board Approves Tax On Patrons Of Motels

Marin County supervisors yesterday, acting with the backing of motel and hotel owners, adopted a 4 per cent transient room tax for the unincorporated areas of the county. Proceeds, estimated at a minimum of $34,000 a year, are to support promotion and development.

The board resolved to urge cities to take parallel action.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who has long urged such a tax, said some leverage can be put on the cities when their chambers of commerce seek funds from the county budget. Budget hearings for next fiscal year will be held next month.

The tax was backed by the Marin Visitors Bureau and Marin County Motel Assn., provided that the money went into promoting the county.

John M. Douglas, director of the county's Economic Development Department, said that if all cities adopted a similar tax, agreeing to put it into one promotion budget, the county's entire promotion and development budget could become independent of property tax support.

However, he noted that Corte Madera, Sausalito, Tiburon and Larkspur have already adopted such a tax with no reservation on use of funds.

Guina Pig Trout In Food Laboratory

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — Trout are taking the place of white mice and guinea pigs for research at Oregon State University's Food Toxicology and Nutrition Laboratory.

Researchers, who are seeking to find out what toxic materials may enter foods, say trout are good for research because they are highly sensitive to many toxic materials and can undergo surgery with few ill effects.

Gun Loads Gone From Job Site

San Rafael police warned today that gun loads stolen from the San Rafael High School construction site yesterday could be dangerous if used in a conventional .22-caliber rifle.

The loads, which look like .22-caliber shot, would burst in the barrel of a rifle. They are used in high pressure guns to force nails into cement.

They were reported stolen yesterday by Bob C. Chandler, foreman of Olsen-Baun Contractors.

State Sends 'Task Force' To Seek Jobs

Marin County supervisors learned yesterday that the state Division of Apprenticeship Standards has put a "task force" in Marin to develop jobs for minorities, and that 21 such jobs have already been found.

The report came from County Administrator Alan Bruce, who reported at the same time that Robert E. McKee, contractor for the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center, appeared to be in compliance with the minority hire clause in the contract.

Perry Howell of Marin City disagreed. He heads the Church and Society Committee of St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church which asked that work be halted until there is compliance.

Howell said it is impossible to tell what the status is until the number of workers are known for each phase of the job. Bruce said he expected that information soon.

Commission Lets Nursery Relocate In San Rafael

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night approved a use permit for the San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School to re-locate in a house at 2152 Fifth Avenue.

The commission's unanimous action was made over the protests of four angry women, who appeared likely to appeal the permit to the city council.

Long housed in a rent-free building on the grounds of San Rafael High School, but forced to move because of the high school building program, the nursery has sought new quarters for a year.

Acting City Planner Charles J. Linthicum said 18 neighbors of the old house voiced no objection to its use by the nursery, although a few complained on the basis of noise, parking and traffic problems.

He said it "didn't appear to be a terrific location," but could find no concrete reason for denial.

The four women, who sat together and arose as a group when any one of them talked, expressed fears of flooding, fire danger, overcrowding and a traffic jam if each of the 25 mothers whose children would be at each nursery session brought a car.

Women from the nursery insisted they had been given a clean bill by the state Department of Welfare and the city fire marshal, provided they made some changes in the building. They said car pools would limit the number of cars to six or seven each day.

Mrs. Charles L. McNulty of 2131 Fifth Avenue was unconvinced that the house was big enough for 25 youngsters.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Issued a use permit and approved plans for two medical buildings on Loch Lomond Drive in the Loch Lomond Marina. The permit also covered two more similar buildings which will be constructed later.

2. Extended for one year approval of tentative map for the 34-lot Dollar View Estates development between Coleman and Graceland drives on San Rafael Hill, and approved tentative map for the seven-unit Loch Lomond Unit 9 on Kinross Drive off Manderly Road.

3. Approved a two-lot subdivision on Chula Vista Drive south of Oakmont Avenue, asked by James Wirick.

4. Denied, without prejudice against a later application, application of Richard R. Pelton for a use permit for YMCA offices in the old Coleman School at 1711 Grand Avenue. Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. reported YMCA directors had decided against the idea Monday night.

5. Approved plans for the Eileen Feather Salon, an exercise gymnasium at 4050 Redwood Highway; for a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. plant work center at 23 Mark Drive; for a Madak, Inc., warehouse at 90 Mitchell Boulevard; and Peterson Tractor Co. office and warehouse at 135 Paul Drive. The last three are in the Northgate Industrial Park.

Commissioner John A. Miskimen was absent.

Dominican College Opposes Site Condemnation For Coleman School

The San Rafael Board of Education will have to condemn Dominican College property if it wants to obtain it for expansion of Coleman School.

The elementary school district has been negotiating to buy four acres adjacent to Coleman School, including the Forest Meadows area where Marin Music Chest summer concerts are held.

Attorney Richard V. Bettini, representing the college, last night told the board that Dominican Convent needs the land for expansion of the college and could not sell it voluntarily.

He said that the college plans to construct an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,500 and a little theater on the Forest Meadows lands.

As to condemnation by the school district, he said, "This is not a right step, but you have a legal right."

Charles L. Condrotte, business manager for the San Rafael City Schools, said all alternate sites in the Coleman School area have been investigated and the property adjacent to the school proved to be the most advantageous.

Condrotte said Coleman School has more than 500 pupils and estimated that by 1970 it will have 750.

Mrs. Elizabeth Banning Davies of Novato said the Forest Meadows area "is one of the most beautiful open spaces you have. You have a gold mine in a setting that would be lost."

Board President Carl J. Brown said that the board would look into all other possibilities.

Supt. Bert C. Corona reported he had received one letter and six telegrams opposing acquisition of the site.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

1. Awarded Page Construction Co. of Novato, lowest of five bidders, a contract for construction of a four-classroom addition to Santa Venetia Junior High School at $75,572, and named Abbott Hanks as testing laboratory and Aldo Culazzo as building inspector.

2. Unanimously denied a request from the City of San Rafael for more recreation funds. The board budgeted $15,000; the city asked for $16,636.

3. Hired Marcia Arevalo, student teacher at San Rafael High School, as girls' physical education teacher in the high school district at $6,410 a year; Valentine Sweger, teacher at San Domenico High School, as reading laboratory teacher in the high school district, at $6,410; Alberta Baker as home instructor, high school district, $6 an hour; Charlotte Gill, as nurse, elementary school district, $8,030 a year; Caryl North, home instructor, high school district, $6 an hour.

4. Reassigned teacher Anne Rowe from the mentally retarded class at high school to the educationally handicapped, elementary district.

5. Accepted resignations of Farhad Moezzi, art teacher at San Rafael High School, who will teach at the College of Marin; John C. Curtain, humanities and philosophy teacher at San Rafael High School, who will teach at San Francisco State College; Cecil Shelley, language teacher at Santa Venetia Junior High School, to accept another job; Albert Baker, custodian, San Rafael High School, and John Hunn, Edward Walsh and Peter Wuertz, all bus drivers.

6. Viewed the new reading laboratory and heard a report on the reading-study skills program.

7. Received a report from Mrs. Urusula Johnson and Mrs. Helen Crotty on pilot program in art appreciation, conducted by volunteers under sponsorship of the Marin Museum Assn.

8. Received a report from Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat that 11th grade test results showed that the 875 11th graders had an average intelligence quotient of 104, with 64 per cent at or above the average.

9. Referred to the staff for review a report from Howard A. Levenson, president of the Marin County Optometric Society, on a pre-school vision screening program.

10. Received a request from Mrs. Margaret Klebanoff of 4 Meriam Drive for bus service for Terra Linda High students from the Santa Venetia area.

11. Received from Mrs. John M. Douglas of 80 Oakmont Avenue, an announcement of formation of the San Rafael Forum for Education.

12. Received a commendation from San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa for teachers Glenna Harmon and John McSween for help in solving of a series of burglaries at schools.

13. Received a letter from Mrs. Frank Parker commending Lawrence Geiger, principal of Santa Venetia Junior High School, and questioning his transfer to Hartzell School.

14. Received an objection from Alain Renoir, chairman of the department of comparative literature at University of California at Berkeley against reducing Latin instruction, and a letter from George Yertson, principal of Terra Linda High School, that Latin instruction is not being reduced but classes are being combined because of smaller size.

15. Adjourned to a closed session to discuss the hiring of a high School principal, and announced that the board will meet next Tuesday at E Street School at 7:30 p.m. to review the preliminary budgets.

Board member Lawrence Kramer Jr. was absent.

Terra Linda Teacher Tells Of Assault

An attack by a 15-year-old student on a teacher at Terra Linda High School was reported to San Rafael police yesterday, but vice principal Robert R. Royle asked no police action be taken.

Royle said the incident will be referred to the San Rafael Board of Education with recommendation the student be expelled.

The boy was sitting in a hallway at the school April 28 with his feet blocking the stairs and was asked to move by Donald F. Achziger, dean of boys, police reported.

When the student refused, Achziger bent down and picked him up, whereupon the boy began kicking and hitting.

Royle said the student has had to be disciplined 18 times in as many months.

Senator Murphy's Appeal For Refugees Worthy One

Senator George Murphy has issued letters to various corporations and individuals in California, seeking support for the International Rescue Committee's campaign to help South Vietnamese refugees and war orphans.

"Most pathetic are the children," writes Senator Murphy. "More than 110,000 of them have been orphaned or have lost at least one parent as a direct result of the war . . .

This campaign is the latest in a long list of worthy causes undertaken by the International Rescue Committee since its inception 33 years ago to assist the victims of Nazi persecution.

In the 1930s, the IRC provided funds, escape routes, and resettlement aid for refugees from Naziism. With the fall of France in 1940, the IRC helped evacuate prominent intellectuals, artists and political opponents most likely to be sought by the Nazis.

At the end of the war, the IRC became permanently established as the major non-sectarian American agency to assist refugees from political oppression.

Last year, IRC helped more than 11,000 refugees from the Iron Curtain. Now, its attention is focused on South Viet Nam.

It is interesting to see Senator Murphy emerge as one of the champions of this movement. Liberal critics would have us believe that conservatives like Senator Murphy are unconcerned with human misery.

We find Senator Murphy using his time and talent, asking newspapers to help raise funds for this worthy effort instead of seeking publicity for his part in the program. He is more interested in helping the unfortunate than in publicizing his own efforts. This is the mark of a true humanitarian.

Many self-styled liberals try to foist on the public the idea that only those who call themselves liberals are capable of humanitarianism. Murphy's actions in this campaign completely disprove that unenlightened view.

We hope that Senator Murphy's appeal is successful and the International Rescue Committee is once again able to make a major contribution to the relief of human misery.

No Vested Interest In Starvation?

The noted journalist, James Reston, has noted, "The total appropriations to alleviate world starvation and misery are still only the smallest fraction of the sums used for atomic and rocket research, yet the main battlefields in the cold war are increasingly among the starving peoples."

Perhaps we Americans should take another look at our conscience. Can it be that the vested interests believe there is more to be gained through building armaments than alleviating hunger? If so, we believe they are mistaken.

The English Call It Maythorn

The English call it maythorn or, simply, may. Besides being quite beautiful, the hawthorn is a prolific berry bush. The haws are favored by a number of birds. Two that come instantly to mind are the cedar-waxwings and the bush tits.

Brown's Special Call Requests Help Delay State Legislature

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — The non-action of the California Legislature, the dalliance in dealing with the matters before it, the difficulty in obtaining quorums both for sessions and in committees, continuance of the session on expenses derived from the taxpayers' money, absenteeism for political purposes, and a few other things, have grown to the point of public disgrace, some observers feel.

Whether a public disgrace or not, it is a known fact that this year's session is the "worst" in history as far as accomplishment is concerned. Instead of dealing with legislation in a business-like manner, legislators are playing with them like a group of politicians.

THE LEGISLATURE has stretched to nearly four months the 30 days provided in the constitution for passage of a budget, and hasn't passed it yet. When California adopted the constitutional amendment providing for the budget session, they expected the job to be done in a month.

Several situations conspired this year to develop this unbusinesslike travesty on democratic government. Among these were reapportionment of the State Senate, the impending June 7 primaries, and dissensions within the Democratic (majority) party.

But probably the biggest contributing cause of the foul-up was the action of Gov. Edmund G. Brown in placing 67 different items of legislation on his calls for extraordinary sessions.

THE CONSTITUTION gives the governor the authority to call the legislature in "extraordinary" session any time he so chooses. It also gives him the authority to place any subject of legislation on the call for consideration by the legislature.

Although the constitution does not specify these items must be of an emergency nature, it does imply the occasion of a special session should be for "extraordinary" matters.

In all the 67 items submitted by the governor for legislative action this year, no single one is "extraordinary" in the sense that it could not have been brought up at the 1967 regular session, with no public detriment. Neither would any of the 67 items warrant a special call on its own merits.

GOV. BROWN can hardly be accused of abusing his executive powers in presenting what amounts nearly to a full legislative session during an off year. Rather, it may be said he is taking advantage of circumstances which under normal conditions, would get some legislation out of the way.

But the fact remains, had the controversial and unnecessary at this time items been left for consideration at the 1967 legislature, the representatives of the public would have had only their constitutionally mandated job to do, which is passing the budget.

If the people of the state want annual sessions of the legislature, with full-time legislators at $18,000 per year, it is up to the people to vote this procedure into the constitution.

But the provision is not in the constitution now, so it would appear Governor Brown circumvents the intent of the constitution in bringing up extraneous matters in special sessions.

Family Day, Pet Show Successful

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The San Rafael Guild of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum wishes to thank the people of Marin County who attended our Family Day and Pet Show, and helped make it such a success. We hope that Marin youngsters will be looking forward to our pet show next year, and that they had as much fun participating as we had in planning and presenting it.

We appreciate the coverage of the press, and want to thank the businessmen of San Rafael and the members of the museum who judged the pets, the Tri-Valley and Ross Valley 4-H Clubs for their help and all the other volunteers who contributed their time and effort. Thank you all.

Was Goldwater Policy Wild?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

W. H. Durr, commenting on Morrie Ryskind's column of May 17, writes that he could not vote for Goldwater in 1964 because of his "wild foreign policy". I wonder whether he had reference to the policy enunciated at the San Francisco Convention as drafted by the Committee on Resolutions, reflecting to a great extent the party presidential nominee's thinking, or Goldwater's policy as distorted by his opponents. The former included practical measures to halt the deterioration of the NATO, SEATO, and CENTO alliances (which have since continued to deteriorate), a stand on Red China no different than that of the Democrats, more vigorous economic and political measures to unseat the Communist usurpers in Cuba as well as support of a government in exile (the Administration has accomplished nothing in this regard), more effective measures to prevent subversive Communist takeover of Southeast Asia including better equipment for our troops there (the Administration eventually carried out portions of this plank but not promptly or decisively enough to avoid the present mess), a change in the method of voting in the U.N. reflecting population disparities among member states (or is "one man, one vote" unfair internationally?) and a denial of votes to member nations of the U.N. refusing to meet properly levied assessments (the Administration also favored this but later chickened out).

A fair evaluation of the above foreign policy would indicate that Mr. Durr, along with many other voters, was slightly bamboozled in 1964.

Wrong Bowl Group Asked For Apology

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In reply to Joseph Doctor's "Cheering Errors Is Decried" letter to the editor in the May 12, 1966, publication:

How can you possibly expect an apology from: (1) Marin County Woman's Bowling Assn.'s president, (2) Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. and (3) Nave Lanes, when none are responsible for any lack of sportsmanship at the Masters Bowling Tournament?

First of all, our president and good friend of mine, Maxine Bryden, who has held that office for the past four years, just happened to be with me, four other officers, and four directors of the Marin County Woman's Bowling Assn. at the California State Bowling Convention in Oakland at the time of this alleged occurence. This week she is at the National Bowling Convention in New Orleans, so she won't have an opportunity to answer until after May 22.

Secondly, I can't understand your justification in condemning a whole association of 2,200 Marin County women nor of holding it responsible for the actions of one member.

Thirdly, how can you possibly expect the lanes (or any type of sports establishment) to be held accountable for the moods and emotions of the spectators?

If any public apology is due, Joseph Doctor, I believe it is from you.

Boy's Club Says Thanks For Work

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Last April 23, a number of Marin County organizations and individuals generously donated their time, labor and costly building materials to reroof the former Maintenance Building in Marin City, which will be the future home of the Boys' Club of Southern Marin.

The Boys' Club of Southern Marin wishes to express its deepfelt gratitude to the following volunteers who have already helped to make our new Marin City headquarters a reality:

Community Services District, Marin City; Booth & Little Roofing, Larkspur; De Mello Roofing, San Rafael; McLaren Roofing, Corte Madera; Marin County Roofing Company, San Rafael; Novato Roofing Company, Novato; Roofing Service & Supply Company, Inc., San Rafael.

McPhail's Inc. Building Materials, San Rafael; Mill Valley Youth Council; Barret Construction Company, San Francisco; Jack Brabo Plumbing Company, Mill Valley; The Prince Charlie Inn, Tiburon.

Thanks to these public spirited people, the new Boys' Club is expected to open on June 15, offering recreation and professional guidance facilities, a games room, library, and arts and craft shop for 400 boys from Marin City, Tam Valley, Mill Valley, Sausalito and Tennessee Valley. Much additional rehabilitation work to the building remains to be done.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

WALL STREET will never produce a character who gathers wider publicity, or evokes more laughter, than Max Donovan—salaried executive, payer of federal income taxes, and member in good standing of the Book-of-the-Month Club. Max Donovan is a schnauzer. What legalistic shenanigans his owner was up to have not yet been cleared up, because just as the law was closing in, Maxie boy vanished. When last seen he was poking his head out of a car window, barking angrily at a Siamese cat on the sidewalk.

FAMED NEWSPAPER

editor Herbert Bayard Swope prided himself on his incredible fund of worthless information and, furthermore, could never understand why his friends found occasional lectures by him just a wee bit long-winded. To a gathering of handkerchief manufacturers hoping just for a pleasant get-together, Mr. Swope scolded, "I'll bet not one of you fellows are aware that the finest Belgian linen you import is achieved by patient women beating the cloth for hours on end on the shore of the Ypres River—the Belgian side of the river, of course." He added hastily, "And if you ever advertise wool sheared from llamas, I urge you to let the public in on the fact that llamas, when angry, spit on the objects of their ire."

By this time, notes Swope's biographer, E. J. Kahn, Jr., there wasn't a dry throat in the place.

Letting Red China Join U.N. Won't Change Warlike Policies

WASHINGTON — If Red China is to be admitted to the United Nations, it would be well to understand that there is no reason to assume this will turn it into a "peace-loving" nation.

One of the main arguments for admission is that if we can bring China into fuller contact with the community of free nations, this will moderate Peking's expansionist ambitions.

Would it? We can't be sure, but past experience suggests it would do no such thing.

Obviously we can't be certain because no person outside the Communist hierarchy in Peking can know what China has in mind.

But is there a precedent? Thus the question can be answered in part by what has already taken place under similar circumstances.

IS THERE a nation which was committed to territorial expansion and revolution and which was taken into the community of nations in the hope that such contact would mute its aggressive ambitions?

There is, indeed, a most revealing precedent and the record of what happened is cited in an analysis prepared by Dr. Frank N. Trager, professor of international relations, New York University. He says:

"Let me call to mind a case which has relevance to the present issue: The admission of the Soviet Union to the League of Nations in 1934, a year after the recognition of the USSR by the U.S.

"Such foreign 'acceptance' did not prevent the Soviet Union from invading Finland, occupying Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, and signing a non-aggression pact with Hitler.

"Nor did membership in the League 'moderate' internal Soviet policy, since the wholesale slaughter of the kulaks and the proliferation of slave labor camps in Siberia continued after membership in the League and American recognition.

"THESE WERE ignominiously followed by the bloody purge trials of 1936-37 and by systematic assaults on religious freedom in the USSR."

On the basis of this record, it seems to me that Professor Trager asks the right question: "If the rulers of Russia were insensitive to world opinion, how much more insensitive can we expect the rulers of Communist China to be, whether or not they are U. N. members?"

While the answer cannot be given with total certainty, experience shows that an aggressive, revolutionary state like Red China is unlikely to moderate its ambitions to please the U. N., and more likely to try to use the U. N. to further its ambitions.

The U. N. charter does not seek universal membership. It says that the U. N. is open to nations "which accept and are able and willing to carry out" the obligations in the charter.

ITS OWN leaders openly say that China is not a peace-loving nation. Mao Tse-tung has boasted that "power comes from the barrel of a gun."

Some China experts suggest we should not believe the Chinese Communist leaders when they talk this way because they don't mean it. Then are we to believe Communist China when its leaders say they have decided to abide by the U. N. charter?

At stake here is not primarily what is good for China or for the U. S., but what is good for the United Nations. Nothing could be more hurtful than to allow the spirit and letter of the U. N. charter to be turned into empty words.

Lodge Advises Bombs For Haiphong Depot

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge strongly favors bombing the huge oil depot near the port of Haiphong. That puts this long-pending decision squarely up to President Johnson.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff have repeatedly recommended destruction of this crucial Communist supply center. The largest oil depot in North Viet Nam, it is estimated to hold more than one million barrels. The numerous storage tanks are in a sparsely populated area covering several square miles. They are heavily defended with SAM (Russian ground-to-air) missiles and radar-operated anti-aircraft guns.

Lodge threw his influential backing behind the Joint Chiefs' stand during his talks with the President early this week.

This significant backstage development came to light during Lodge's closed-door meeting with members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS brought out by questions were:

1. In Lodge's opinion it will be necessary to increase U.S. troops to 400,000 "before the war is over." At present the total is around 250,000.

2. The promised elections for a civilian government "can and will take place." A considerable part of the cost will be borne by the U.S. Lodge was unable to say how much that would be.

3. The recent highly critical public hearings on Viet Nam by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, headed by Senator William Fulbright, D-Ark., were decidedly harmful and inadvisable. Lodge caustically characterized them as a boon to the Communists.

Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.J., triggered Lodge's scathing outburst against the Senate hearings.

THE ENVOY TO Saigon was asked to assess the effect of the hearings on the war, and the proposal of some senators that the Viet Cong be included in a South Viet Nam coalition government.

"The effect has been extremely bad," replied Lodge intently. "Those hearings were most unfortunate. They did us no good. Among other harmful effects, they encouraged Hanoi and Peiping to prolong the war in the belief that the American people will run out of patience and insist on quitting.

"The proposals for recognizing the Communist Viet Cong hurt the war effort in three ways: They raised the morale of our enemies; they created doubts and uncertainties among our allies; and they had a detrimental impact on our troops."

Another legislator asked, "When are we going to start winning this war?"

"We turned a corner a year ago," said Lodge, "as a result of the big build-up of our combat forces, and things have been improving ever since. But we still need more troops, I would say around 400,000."

ASKED IF HE had advised President Johnson to bomb the huge Communist oil depot near Haiphong, Lodge declined to answer directly, explaining he could not reveal what was discussed.

"But personally I favor that," he continued. "Destroying those oil tanks would be very, very helpful. They are a vital source of supply for the enemy, and there can be no question they are a legitimate military target. I am all for wiping them out."

Lodge characterized the latest clash between Premier Ky and elements in Da Nang and elsewhere as a "civil disturbance rather than civil war."

Riding Buses Will Soon Become Insidious Un-American Activity

WASHINGTON — It is no secret that the entire economy of this country depends on automobile sales, or, to put it another way, "when General Motors sneezes, Wall Street gets pneumonia."

The situation has reached such serious proportions that, if just one person decides not to buy a new car this year, he could send the whole country into a depression.

So far several Congressional committees have been investigating the automobile industry, but if the downward trend continues in auto sales, the whole thing will have to be turned over to the House Un-American Activities Committee.

I can see a hearing in the near future.

The chairman speaks: Mr. Irving Edsel, our investigation has shown that you do not own an automobile and never have. Could you tell us why?

EDSEL: I take the bus.

CHAIRMAN: Mr. Edsel, do you realize what would happen in this country if everyone took the bus?

CHAIRMAN: You say you're a good American, Mr. Edsel. How can you be a good American if you don't support the automobile industry?

EDSEL: I'll be very honest. The reason I don't drive is that you can never get a place to park.

CHAIRMAN: That's a poor excuse for not buying a car. If everyone who couldn't find a place to park refused to purchase an automobile, we would all be selling apples on the street.

EDSEL: It's not just that I can't find a place to park, Mr. Chairman. It's also that the roads are so crowded that I get very nervous.

CHAIRMAN: Mr. Edsel, I wish to remind you that our forefathers fought and bled for your right to drive a car. If you were in the Soviet Union, you wouldn't be able to buy a car.

EDSEL: Yeah, but I hear they have plenty of places to park over there.

CHAIRMAN: Are you trying to say their system is better than ours?

EDSEL: No, all I'm saying is that they have more parking space. I mean they have better parking facilities because they have fewer cars. It stands to reason, doesn't it?

CHAIRMAN: You say you take the bus in the morning. I would like you to give this committee the names of the other people who take the bus with you.

EDSEL: Oh, I couldn't do that.

CHAIRMAN: I can hold you in contempt, Mr. Edsel.

EDSEL: I don't mind talking about myself. But I'm not a squealer.

CHAIRMAN: Do you know who doesn't buy cars in America, Mr. Edsel?

EDSEL: I have no idea.

CHAIRMAN: Communists don't buy cars, that's who. The Communists know that the only way they can make the economy of this country collapse is if they can get people to stop buying automobiles.

EDSEL: I'm not a Communist.

CHAIRMAN: You're a fellow traveller — a fellow bus traveller, which is the worst kind. I'm turning your case over to the FBI.

EDSEL: Mr. Chairman can I ask one question? If I buy an automobile and don't drive it, will I still be held in contempt?

CHAIRMAN: Of course not. We don't care what you do with the damn car as long as your purchase it. We'll give you 10 days to think about it. I'd like to call the next witness now. Will Mr. Ralph Nader please take the stand?

Goats Mow Grass In Illinois Town

CHRISTOPHER, Ill. (AP) — The City Council says "n-a-a!" to paying $1,000 a year to mow the grass on city-owned land.

Instead it will spend $20 for six goats to keep the grass closely trimmed.

Coming Summer Worries Parents Near Strawberry Drive Crossing

Mounting pressure from Strawberry residents has forced the state to improve pedestrain safety measures of Tiburon Boulevard, but parents maintain that the wide, fast boulevard ramains a menace to their children.

So does the Mill Valley School District, which operates one of the shortest school bus routes around. Each school day it carries 40 children four blocks from the Bay Vista Heights section across Tiburon boulevard to Strawberry Point Elementary School.

"We consider Tiburon Boulevard a dangerous road," said Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson. "Our rules allow us to transport children across dangerous thoroughfares regardless of distance."

WITH SUMMER coming on, Strawberry parents are worrying about the safety of their children crossing the boulevard to play in Strawberry Park or visit their friends. Tiburon Boulevard from Highway 101 to Trestle Glen Drive is a four land divided highway that rolls and twists down the Tiburon Peninsula with a 45 miles per hour speed limit along most of it.

The state contend that statistically speaking, the boulevard is safe. According to Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol, there were, for example, three accidents at the intersection of the boulevard with Strawberry Drive in a 15-month period.

Two of these were small rear enders, while the third resulted in the death of an eight year old boy who was crossing in a crosswalk.

"It's no consolation to the parent whose child was hit," Parnow said, "but this is an outstanding traffic record. There is excellent compliance with traffic laws there."

STRAWBERRY PARENTS thought otherwise and met with state and county officials April 12.

They requested of the state that the northern set of across Tiburon Boulevard at Strawberry Drive be removed, that they be painted yellow to denote a school zone, that the traffic light sequence be changed to permit a longer crossing time, the speed limit be lowered to 35 and a pedestrian overpass be built.

The state has performed the first three, is studying the speed limit and refused to consider a pedestrian overpass.

The state refused to consider the overpass because if it built one at Tiburon Boulevard and Strawberry Drive, it would have to build many more.

In a letter to the County Board of Supervisors, the San Francisco office of the State Division of Highways said it is "financially impossible" to construct an overpass because there are "thousands of similar intersections used by children all over the state."

The Strawberry Drive intersection has "every modern safety convenience," the department said. But, if the parents or a local agency wanted to build an overpass, the department would give them the right to "providing highway funds were not used."

THE STRAWBERRY safety fight has been spearheaded by the Strawberry Point School P-TA and the Strawberry Recreation District. Newest group to join the fray is the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council.

Depending on the results of the state's speed limit study, the council is considering a mass meeting to plan further action among parents and interested groups.

An ironical facet to the fight arises, however. Although it improved the highway, the state contended that the improvements weren't needed because few children crossed the boulevard.

"Of course not," countered Mrs. Gerald C. Jampolsky of 7 Sky Road. "When the school bus isn't taking the children across the boulevard, the mothers band together and take them across in their own cars."
